Marshal-Librarian
North Carolina Supreme Court Library
Raleigh, North Carolina

Dear Dillard:

The Carolinas Chapter of the American Association of Law Libraries will hold its Fall Meeting on Saturday morning, November 18 at the University of South Carolina Law School, in Columbia, South Carolina. We have invited Dean Samuel L. Prince of our Law School to give us some of his ideas on law libraries from the administration's viewpoint. The business portion of the meeting will include election of officers for the coming year. Our traditional Dutch luncheon will be held on Saturday, after the meeting.

The meeting is being held at the later date this year so that those attending will be able, if they wish, to see the North Carolina-South Carolina football game to be held the afternoon of the 18th in Columbia.

Since the majority of our members will have to come to Columbia from a hundred or so miles distance and since our meeting must be scheduled for Saturday morning, it is suggested that you plan to arrive in Columbia Friday evening before the meeting, if possible.

Jean Sims, my assistant, and I would like for you to come to our apartment Friday evening after you have gotten settled, for a short social get-together at 9:00 P.M.

We have made arrangements to obtain accommodations for your at the Columbia Hotel and to purchase your tickets for the game. After your arrival at the hotel contact Mr. Dillard Gardner there for directions.

We would appreciate your filling in the enclosed card and returning it with remittance for tickets by October 15 so that we may make hotel reservations early and also obtain good seats for the group for the game.

We are looking forward to a good Tarheel representation at the first South Carolina meeting of the Carolinas Chapter. Please do not disappoint us.

Sincerely yours,

Sarah Leverette
