Mr. Stanley J. Bougas
Law Librarian, Emory University
Emory University, Georgia

Dear Stanley:

I have written to Dorothy Salmon and Minette Wassev and Sarah Leverette asking for their ideas on most desirable date for our Chapter meeting and for program suggestions. I notice that the Newsletter says that the membership will be urged to let the Georgians know well in advance as to attendance and preferred dates for the meeting. Was it your idea that the entire membership should be again contacted before the meeting date is decided?

The only expression concerning the Chapter meeting that I have had from members so far is one from Mary Oliver. She says that she prefers a date in April but suggests that we might consider the fact that the Wake Forest College Law School dedication will be held April 26th and a conflict in dates might possibly cut down attendance at our meeting.

Mary's suggestions of possible discussion material are that we might have a section on public relations where we could discuss exhibits, book lists, faculty-student relations, etc., and that we might also discuss Legal Bibliography from the point of teaching it in organized courses or through personal contact with the users of the library.

Any other suggestions I receive will be passed on to you. Will informal suggestions of this type be sufficient, or would you prefer that I officially appoint someone to help with the program?

A few more questions about the Newsletter:

Did you use the mailing list I sent of potential members in this area as taken from the A. A. L. L. Directory?

Did you send a copy to Francis Waters?

The Newsletter on page 3 states: "The reports on practice materials for the Southeast make their initial appearance with this Newsletter." I did not receive these reports with my copies of the Newsletter. Are they to be sent later?
What were your expenses in connection with sending out the Newsletter? The Chapter certainly wants to reimburse you — and to thank both you and Ruth besides.

On the copies of the Newsletter that I sent to Mortimer Schwartz for use by The Committee on Publicity of A. J. L. L., I changed the name of Secretary-Treasurer on the dues form from Sarah Leverette to Miss Minette Massey, since Minette is Secretary-Treasurer this year.

I'll write you again when I have something further to report.

Sincerely,

Corinne Bass
