Mr. Speaker—I am directed by the Governor to lay before this House, a message in writing.

And then he withdrew.

The said message was taken up and read as follows:

Gentlemen of the Senate

and of the House of Representatives:

In the exercise of a power confided by the constitution to executive discretion, I have considered it my duty to convene the Legislature at an earlier period than that which had been designated by law.

A failure on the part of the last Legislature to elect a Senator to Congress, occasioned a vacancy in that highly important office, which could not in due time be filled, except by executive appointment, or by calling together the immediate representatives of the people, to enable them to perform that very responsible duty. The latter alternative was resorted to without hesitation, under a conviction, that such a step would best comport with the genius of our institutions, and consequently be more satisfactory to our constituents.

At all times, and under every political vicissitude, it is due to the State, that she should be fully represented in the councils of the nation; and as no former period in the history of this republic, has it in my opinion, been a matter of greater importance than at present. By the step thus taken, many of you may possibly have been subjected to some inconvenience, but I rely with confidence upon your disinterested patriotism, to make any reasonable sacrifice demanded by the exigencies of the country. Constituting, as you do, a co-ordinate branch of the government, and coming but recently from the bosoms of your respective constituents, allow me to felicitate myself upon the knowledge, which you will be enabled to impart to each other and to me, of the various interests, the feelings and wants of those from whom we hold our delegated authority.

The past season has brought upon our country no unusual affliction; upon our crops no withering blight. Our fellow citizens have enjoyed the blessings of health; of the fruits of the earth our lands teem with abundance; and by a system of judicious legislation, we may rely on the author of all good, to advance the general prosperity.

Since the adjournment of the last legislature, the full amount of stock authorized by law on the part of the State, has been subscribed to the several Turnpike Road Companies therein designated. The road from Louisville is under contract, and will soon be completed to Shelbyville. There remains, as I understand, a space of some miles of the road from Maysville to Lexington, not yet contracted for, owing to the inadequacy of the funds of the company for its construction. The speedy accomplishment of this road to Lexington, and from that point to Louisville, is unquestionably a matter of the first importance to our country, and will doubtless engage the particular attention of the legislature. Besides the paramount advantages which we are confident of deriving, in a social and commercial point of view, from this great national highway when completed, we are admonished even on the score of pecuniary gain, to accomplish the work as soon as practicable. The amount of toll hitherto charged at the toll gate near Maysville, is less by nearly one half than the amount specified by law, and notwithstanding this diminution of the rates of toll, the stockholders have received a dividend at the rate of thirteen per cent. per annum. This gate is fixed on a part of the road too, the construction of which has exceeded by about fifty per cent, what will be the average cost of an equal length of the residue of the road?

Believing that the time has arrived, when it is no longer possible for the Legislature, with a due regard to the interests of the State, to hesitate in commencing a system of Internal Improvements, I submit the following views of that interesting subject to your candid consideration. In addition to the roads now in progress, under the patronage of the State, there are several others, the commencement of which should not, as I conceive, be longer postponed.

The continuation of the great National Road from Lexington, as surveyed by the United States Engineer; the road from Louisville in a direction to Nashville; the old wilderness turnpike, and roads leading from various important points along the Ohio River, into the interior of the State, appear to me, imperatively to demand the attention of the Legislature. It will be, however, for the representatives of the people to designate the most appropriate routes for commencing the work.

The general face of our country, and condition of its waters, may forbid the hope of success in any enlarged attempt to make canals; but the navigation of some of our rivers may be greatly and advantageously improved. Steam Boats of considerable burden, have in some instances ascended the Green and Barren Rivers as high as Bowling-Green, a distance by water of nearly two hundred miles. The practicability, therefore, of navigating these rivers by steam power, may be considered as settled. The falls at Vienna, are supposed to constitute the chief obstacle; but with proper improvements, which it is believed can be accomplished at no great expense, this obstruction can be removed. The citizens of Warren county, have, during the past summer and present fall, by voluntary contributions of money and labor, evincing an ardent patriotism, and a correct view of their best interests, removed various obstructions to the navigation of Barren river. Thus a new field of enterprise is opened to the Southern section of the State. If suitable aid is afforded by the Legislature, in securing a passage through the falls at Vienna, at ordinary stages of the water, a rapid increase of population and wealth must necessarily be the consequence in that part of the State.

I regret that I have no specific data to present to your consideration, respecting the prospect of removing obstructions to the navigation of the Kentucky and Licking Rivers. No report on that subject has yet been received by the Board of Internal Improvement, from the engineers who were appointed for that purpose. It is understood, however, that the report concerning these rivers will be less favorable, than that which relates to the Green river. But whether it will be of a character, so discouraging as to deter the Legislature from any attempt at improvement, is yet to be ascertained.

You are aware of the commencement recently, of the Lexington and Ohio Rail Road, by the company incorporated for that purpose. It is an interesting, and a noble work. It has been commenced under the most favorable auspices. The singularity, energy and patriotism of its enterprising patrons, command our unqualified admiration, and justly entitle them to the thanks, and to the patronage of the State.

I acknowledge the propriety of great caution on the part of the Legislature, in lending its aid to works of this description generally. But excessive timidity retards, and may forever defeat the best and dearest interests of society. Individual enterprise may, in most cases of this character be trusted to pioneer the way. It is cool, calculating, and keen sighted; and when its energies are directed by intelligence, as in this instance, the State has but little to risk, by uniting a portion of its funds, with a still greater portion of the funds of individuals.

Kentucky has ample resources. She has great latent wealth. She has good credit, and she calls upon you to exert it in her behalf. Like a fond mother weeping over her lost children, she bewails that portion of her industrious population, who are daily leaving her for the recesses of the wilderness, or elsewhere, in search of employment, and she calls upon you to check the growing evil. Canals you cannot make, but your roads and rivers may be improved.

It is believed to be a sound maxim in political economy, that national wealth consists in the most enlarged and varied capacity to acquire the necessaries and comforts of life. The ancient, but fugitive theory, by which the minds of many had been bewildered, that national wealth consisted in accumulations, over and above the annual consumption has long since been exploded.

All practical statesmen now admit that hoarded accumulations, without a market, or the means of transportation, to market, are valueless and will soon perish.

Whatever saves labor, or time, is admitted to be productive of wealth. Whatever facilitates and cheapens the process of exchanging one commodity for another, increases the capacity to produce: enriches the nation; adds to her offensive, or defensive strength; diffuses happiness, comfort and joy amongst her own citizens; increases their love of home; affords them leisure for the cultivation of the mind; enables them to mingle, without defined limit, in the affairs of active practical life; exalts their character and that of the State, to the loftiest summit of human elevation.
It is in your power to put in motion, and to render active, the hitherto dormant energies of the State in the great cause of improving its own condition, and thereby do much and lasting good to that integral part of this mighty and growing nation to which your Legislative jurisdiction extends.

Can it be said that Kentucky is destitute of resources to enable her to open her navigable channels, and to make her roads? How are other States enabled to perform works of this description, and of such vast magnitude? Our citizens are not less enterprising than the citizens of other States. They know that every dollar of revenue judiciously applied to the improvement of the country, will soon be returned to them manyfold. They know how to discriminate between a revenue applied to purposes of this character, and a revenue, the object of which is to carry on wars of succession or of conquest, for purposes of royal aggrandizement, or to gratify political ambition.

Remove the obstructions to your commerce; improve the arts of civil life; give a right direction to the intercourse of your citizens with each other, and with those of the other States, and you will sacrifice upon the altar of an expanded patriotism, the unsocial, if not unworthy doctrine of nullification, a patriotism which derides every pretended limit, and rejects all boundaries not commensurate with the Union.

If the Legislature will but authorize it, no doubt whatever, need be entertained, that a loan can be obtained, for twenty, thirty, or forty years, by providing for the payment of a moderate interest thereupon annually. Will Kentucky proceed at once to the good work? Or will she sink down by supineness and inactivity, until she becomes a by-word and a reproach to her sister States, a mere nuisance in the way of the intercourse of all enterprising citizens, her territory for a considerable part of the year, inaccessible to those who may have the temerity to approach her borders, and a prison house to those who at that season may happen to be in her interior, from which it is difficult to escape.

According to the estimate of the Auditor of Public Accounts, the amount of expenditures of the government, for the year ending on the 10th of October, 1832, will be two hundred and eighty-four thousand, eight hundred and ninety dollars, and fifty cents.

The amount expected to be received into the Treasury up to that period, is one hundred and forty-one thousand four hundred and fifty-nine dollars—thus leaving a balance against the government, at the end of the present fiscal year, of one hundred and forty-three thousand, three hundred and fifty dollars and fifty-eight cents.

The question arises whether it is not due to our constituents, that provision be made without delay to meet the Treasury deficit?
At this time an inconsiderable increase will effect gradually that desirable object. But if the Legislative action is postponed from year to year, an extravagant tax must, in the end, be the consequence.

Our revenue laws are defective. The aggregate amount of revenue may be increased some thousands of dollars, without increasing the rates now imposed. For the mode of performing this operation I refer you to the report of the Attorney General and Secretary of state, made by them to the last legislature, after a careful and deliberate examination of the books of the Auditor and Treasurer.

In addition to the amendments recommended by the report mentioned, it is deemed worthy of consideration whether so much of an act approved, January 31st, 1814, as exempts from taxation all that part of the mercantile capital of the county which is employed in the purchase of "goods, wares, and merchandise, manufactured in the United States," ought not to be repealed. A repeal of this clause will increase the aggregate amount of the revenue considerably. This law as now enforced, is not sound in principle—it contains an exception without good reason, to the salutary mode of equalizing taxation; and it involves the merchant who wishes to discriminate correctly, the capital which he employs in the purchase of goods, wares, and merchandise manufactured in the United States, from that which is otherwise employed, in great difficulty.

If he is subjected to the payment of taxes upon the whole capital employed in his business he will have no difficulty in giving in the true amount to the commissioner. By the amendment suggested, it is believed that the revenue from that particular source will be increased from four to five fold.

It is also respectfully submitted, whether this law is not obnoxious to another objection? Whether the exemption which it contains, does not operate as a bounty to the mechanics and manufacturers of other states, to the prejudice of those of our own? It may be right by congressional enactments, to protect the arts and industry of the citizens of the United States against foreign competition; and yet it may not be right for the state to pass a law, the effect of which is to drive our own artists from the fair field of competition with those of the other states of this Union. It is believed that a similar provision is not to be found in the statutes of any other state. Owing to the low rate of our revenue tax at present, the effect of this law is but little felt—but in principle it cannot be right, and when the revenue is increased, the effect will be felt more sensibly.

By an examination of the books of the Auditor, it will be found that the amount of stock belonging to the state, is as follows;—
In the Bank of Kentucky, one hundred and forty-nine thousand, one hundred and seventy-five dollars.

In the Bank of the Commonwealth, five hundred and eighty-seven thousand, three hundred and eleven dollars and thirteen cents. Of specie in the last mentioned bank, forty-four thousand five hundred and fifty-two dollars and fifty cents. The aggregate amount of the bank stock, a considerable portion of which is in Commonwealth's paper, is seven hundred and eighty-one thousand, two hundred and eighty-eight dollars and sixty-three cents. The amount of stock belonging to the State in turnpike roads, is forty-five thousand five hundred and forty-three dollars, and thirty-three cents. In bridge stock, five hundred and seventy-one dollars. The question is now presented to the consideration of the Legislature, whether the proper period has not arrived for making a final and decisive movement in relation to the bank stock belonging to the State? Is it not due to our constituents, that we should at once ascertain as nearly as we can how much of this stock can be realized? A knowledge of this fact appears to me to be indispensable to a correct decision of the question respecting our revenue. For my own part, I am not without apprehensions, that whenever the business of the banks shall be closed, the deficiency will greatly exceed the amount now so generally anticipated.

Possibly my apprehensions may be groundless; but after what had occurred in the management of those offices my want of confidence is at least excusable. It is true that at present, the whole business of the Banks is concentrated here under the control of a few gentlemen in whose integrity, all who know them have the utmost confidence. That a selection of individuals more faithful or capable, could be made in the State no one will or can pretend; but how far it will be in their power to restore chaos to order, or what sum they will in the end be enabled to realize, is a point upon which I cannot even hazard a conjecture.

Is it not desirable that we should know the whole truth respecting this fund? Why not at once, put the business into the hands of the Treasurer, that he may proceed to realize the available amount within a reasonable time? If he needs assistance to perform the duties required, provision can be made accordingly and certainly at much less expense to the State than it incurs at present—If it is objected that the interest of the debtors would not be sufficiently consulted, I assure the legislature that I am as much disposed to consult the interest of that class as any one else, who at the same time duly regards the interest of the commonwealth: for I hold it to be sound policy under existing circumstances, to surrender a part of the interest, or even of the principal itself, to those who will come forward and discharge their notes, rather than to continue the business as at present conducted. The diminution of expenses to the state, would if applied to the benefit of the debtors, assist considerably in their alleviation. That such a step may be taken advantageously even to the debtor class and so as to meet their approbation generally, is in my opinion, quite rational to suppose.

But what are the advantages likely to result to the State? The people will then know what they have to rely upon from this doubtful and uncertain source.

The legislator will soon be furnished with certain data to enable him to form a correct view of the true interests of his Constituents. He can then move on, not in the dark, but with his eyes on the plain track that leads to the greatest prosperity. The State will then be rid of a depreciated and dishonored currency—restored to its former healthful and vigorous action—to high and commanding credit—and the experience which she has had respecting a local irredeemable and dishonored currency will probably not be lost upon her sons for many generations.

It is now well understood that no state can by its legislation, act in violation of the moral law, with any reasonable or fair prospect of impunity—that an unworthy example set by the State will be followed to her own injury and consequent degradation.

In saying thus much of the past, I have to regret my inability to claim entire exemption from all participation in the measures last alluded to. It is therefore evidently not intended to pass any ungenerous censure upon those who, like myself, failed to resist such measures originally, nor yet upon those by whom they were pushed to still greater extremes. No imputation whatever is intended to be cast except upon the fallibility of our nature, respecting which I cannot be mistaken—for no one feels it more sensibly than myself, or need in a greater degree the charitable indulgence of his fellow men.

On the subject of education, it is only necessary for me to reiterate the views heretofore urged upon the attention of preceding Legislatures. It is a subject that rises in magnitude and moral grandeur, far above every other within the range of Legislative action.

Power itself is but the offspring of enlightened reason, before the shrine of which, barbarian legions are destined ingloriously to fall, or gloriously to worship.

What language then, can I employ to impress upon my coadjutors the vast importance of this interesting and hallowed subject—I, who have experienced all the disadvantages resulting from a neglected education, and am, therefore, doomed to feel what I cannot express.

The genius of the age is now in advance, and beckons the votaries of education and improvement to follow on with increased alacrity. To educate, is to improve the morals as well as the physical condition of society, and more, it is to ensure the blessings of liberty, peace, and civilization, with all their bright train of endearing enjoyments, not only to our descendants through successive generations, but as we fondly hope and believe, to the whole human family, many of whom are at this time writhing beneath the rod of their relentless oppressors. Such are the benefactions now and hereafter to flow from enlightened example. How sacred then, is the trust committed to the representatives of the people!

We have at this time many living amongst us, whose honored years have more than doubled the years of our young, but glorious republic; and yet we have the pleasure to behold in every quarter of the civilized world in which Christianity has shed its light, the active tendency of the human mind to imitate our bright example of free government. Let this light go out, and the enemies of liberty everywhere, will deride our republican principles and scoff at its votaries, while they rivet anew the fetters which are now falling to the ground.

But if our citizens are enlightened, their morals invigorated and physical condition improved; if we remain true to the principle, that a majority shall rule, and continue to rally around and sustain the republic, it requires no prophetic ken to foretell the overthrow of superstition, bigotry and tyranny in every land.

After having devoted many years of my life to the public service, the day is at hand, when I shall retire from a station of high responsibility, to which I have been called by the un bought suffrages of my countrymen. But I go to occupy the lofty and commanding eminence of a free citizen, and, as I fondly hope, during the remnant of my days, to enjoy the blessings of a free government. To witness in my retirement, the animating spectacle of my country's prosperity, and to be sensible that while I remained a servant of the public, I had, by my humble efforts, been in some degree instrumental in giving an impulse to the measures in which that prosperity originated, would be to me a source of high and enduring gratification—a reward for all my humble services worthy of my most ambitious aspirations. Believing sincerely, that, beneath the smiles of approving heaven, it is in the power of the Legislature greatly to advance the prosperity and happiness of our intelligent constituents, I can only promise my ready co-operation in the adoption of the measures herein recommended, and in every other for the attainment of that object, that the legislative wisdom may devise.

November 8, 1831.

To the Honorable,

The Legislature of Kentucky.

In compliance with the act of the Legislature appointing me the Keeper of the Penitentiary, it now becomes my duty to report to you its present condition, a duty which is discharged with pleasure.

There are now confined in the Penitentiary ninety-four convicts, all in good health; and I am happy to say that they have enjoyed good health during the last year. Neither a death nor an escape has occurred since my last report. The concerns of the Institution have been prosperous and profitable; the manufactured articles have been in demand, sales have been brisk; and it is due to the prisoners to say, that they have displayed industry and willingness in aiding me to meet the demand for manufactured articles.

I have usually employed sixteen blacksmiths; twelve wagon makers; five chair makers; fifteen bagging spinners; four bagging weavers; four weavers of woollens, such as broad cloth, blankets, jeans and carpeting; six shoe-makers; four quillers; two cooperers; six hatters; five stone cutters; seven hands employed in carding and spinning wool and dressing cloth; one engineer; one fireman; one miller; one sley-maker; one brush-maker, and three cooks.

Since my last Report, thirty-five persons have been received, and twenty nine have been discharged, ten of whom were pardoned, of whom four had served nearly all their sentences.

The internal management and discipline of the Penitentiary can be best ascertained by a visiting committee, and by private visits, with which I desire you will favour me as frequently and as early in the session as may be convenient.

It will afford me pleasure at any time to give you any further information in my power, which you may desire.

All of which is respectfully submitted by

Your obedient servant,

JOEL SCOTT.

Frankfort, November, 1831.

Ordered, That the Clerk carry the said bills to the Senate, and request their concurrence.

The Speaker laid before the House the following communication from the President of the Bank of Kentucky, viz:

Bank of Kentucky, December, 1, 1831.

Sir:

It has heretofore been our practice to close the books of this institution on the 10th instant, for the purpose of making an annual report to the Legislature; but as that body has been convened at an earlier period than usual, and as it has been intimated to me, that it may be necessary in the course of Legislation, to have a report at as early a period as practicable, I have now the honor of enclosing, herewith, a general statement, showing the condition of the institution on this day, inclusive.
The entire amount of capital stock now held in the institution, (exclusive of the residuary interest,) is $283,580; of which the State of Kentucky is the owner of 5967 shares, amounting nominally to $149,175; and corporate and individual stockholders own 5383 shares, amounting nominally to $134,405 by which, it will be seen that the State owns 584 shares, amounting to $14,100 of the complete stock, more than all the individual and corporate stockholders collectively.

By a comparison of the present, with the last annual report, it will be seen, that since that period the institution has redeemed of its capital stock, 31 shares, amounting to $190; and by means of negotiations and compromises with individuals for bad debts, and in part by the sale of real estate, effected a redemption of 2135 shares of the residuary interest, of one fifth on each share, amounting nominally to $42,700; leaving of that stock unredeemed, in the hands of individuals, 7856 shares, amounting nominally to the sum of $160,700.

Since my last annual report, the President and Directors have made two distributions of the capital stock of $5 on each share, and have paid to the Treasurer, $29,835 in silver, and a like amount in notes of the Bank of the Commonwealth and its branches, which, when added to the previous distributions made and paid over, is 75 per cent. or $75 on each share, leaving 5 per cent. or $5 on each share remaining to be paid to the State and those individuals who have not surrendered their stock, and when paid, will place all the stockholders in the institution on an equality, in relation to the amount they shall have received. This desirable object, it is confidently believed by the President and Directors can, with proper exertions, be effected by the first April next.

The "current profits" of the institution, since the first day of January last, amount to $14,834.26 and the "current expenses" for the same period, to $6,105.60, which, deducted from the "current profits" leaves a nett gain of clear profit, of $8,728.66; which will at the end of the year, together with that which may accumulate in the interim, be carried to the general account of surplus profits. It will be seen by a comparison of the present, with the last report, that but a small reduction has been effected in the "current expenses" of the institution. Nor can I perceive any source from which to expect a further reduction to any considerable extent, except in discontinuing two of the agencies, and consequently, two of the agents now attached to the institution. This will be done as soon as those two agents shall have completed their present tour of collections, and settled their accounts at this office.

The real estate owned by the institution, and disposed of within the current year amounts to the sum of $55,306.64, the whole of which, was by express stipulation paid, or made payable in stock of the institution, or gold or silver, within the current year. Notes of the corporation made payable to bearer, which were then in circulation, amounting to the sum of $1,083.25 only, have been redeemed at this office by payment in silver, and were subsequently cancelled and burnt in the presence of the Auditor and Treasurer of this State, which reduces the amount now in circulation to $32,571.14. This fact is conclusive to my mind, that our gain by the loss and destruction of the notes of the corporation will exceed the estimate heretofore made.

It sometimes happens that debtors to the institution, from whom nothing can be made by execution, are the owners of more or less of its joint stock, which cannot be reached but by a bill in chancery, the expenses of which would, in many instances, equal or exceed the amount in contest. It not unfrequently happens with debtors thus situated, to sell their stock to individuals for money, which stock by an ordinance of the President and Directors should remain as some indemnity to the institution for those debts. Whether the bank has a lien on the stock in such cases, or precedence over other creditors or purchasers, has never been directly decided in relation to this institution. But the same question has been decided in the case of Dana vs. Brown, 1st J. J. Marshall's Reports, page 304. It is therefore respectfully submitted to the consideration of the Legislature, whether it is not just and proper to give the Bank a lien on all such stock where there are no other resources of procuring payment.

At the last session of the Legislature, a resolution was passed by the Senate, requesting "the President and Directors to make out by the next session of the Legislature, an expose of the surplus profits and losses of the Bank, in conformity to the principles of this report." In compliance with which, the labor has been commenced, and the work is progressing as rapidly as the limited means within the control of the institution will permit, consistent with the ordinary or current business of the day.

Its completion however cannot be anticipated within the time prescribed by the resolution, nor can it be material as regards legislation on the subject, because another session of the Legislature must intervene before the institution will be in a condition to make a distribution subsequent to that alluded to in a previous part of this communication.

The period fixed by law for finally closing the concerns of this institution, is not now distant, and it must be a desirable object with the Legislature and individual stockholders, as it is with the officers of the Bank, that it should be effected with as little delay as practicable. All good debts due the institution, whether for original accommodation or for the purchase of real estate, will be collected before the expiration of the time limited by law, for closing the concern of the Bank; but to collect all the doubtful and bad debts, will be impracticable. The period too will soon arrive, when the profits of the institution will not defray its expenses. Can it be wise policy then, to prolong the existence of an institution with a set of officers running over the country in search of insolvent debtors, and perhaps not collecting as much money in the course of the year as will pay their salaries?

The President and Directors are using every effort in their power, to make compromises with the individual debtors to the institution, from whom nothing can be made by execution; but they doubt their authority to sell and transfer those debts to third parties. It is, therefore, respectfully submitted to the consideration of the legislature, whether authority should not be given the President and Directors, at their discretion, to dispose of such debts at public auction or otherwise, at such time and place, and in such manner as they may deem best, for the interest of the institution, and to give to the purchaser, as assignee, all the rights which the institution had in the prosecution of its claim. If this course is adopted, the state and individual stockholders will soon realize the remaining interests they respectively hold in the institution, and the Bank of Kentucky will exist no longer.

I have the honor to be, respectfully,

P. DUDLEY, Pres't.

The Hon. JOHN J. CRITTEDEN, Speaker of the H. R.

Be it further enacted, That no slave shall be emancipated under the provisions of this act unless there shall first be some provision made whereby the slave or slaves emancipated shall not become a county charge.

The Speaker declared said rider, out of order, as being inconsistent with, and contrary to the provisions of the preceding sections of the bill; from which decision of the Speaker, Mr. Williams appealed to the house.

SATURDAY DECEMBER 3, 1831.

Mr. Owsley from the committee for Courts of Justice made the following report:

The committee of Courts of Justice according to order, have had under consideration the petition to them referred, of Kenas Farrow, praying for the passage of a law authorising the conveyance of the interest of the infant heir of Celia Tobin, deceased, in certain real estate, and have come to the following resolution thereon:
Resolved. That the said petition be rejected.

Which being twice read, was concurred in.

The grants issued thereon are recorded in 28 volumes, well bound with two alphabets, in good order. Land warrants issued under the act of 1800, the surveys and grants on the same, and also, the Tellico surveys and grants, are in three volumes; they are registered in one volume, the original surveys tied up in 13 bundles, neatly labelled, all in good order; 9 bundles of certificates, on which warrants have issued; 7 bundles of certificates of sale of non-residents' lands on which deeds have issued; one bundle of Attorney General's opinions to the Regis-

The original surveys made on said warrants are tied up in 312, bundles neatly labelled and recorded in 16 volumes, well bound, the grants issued thereon recorded in 26 volumes, with two alphabets in good order; the said surveys are neatly registered in 4 volumes with three alphabets in good order; 3 volumes in which caveats are recorded, with alphabets; 11 books of original entries from the county of Fayette, neatly transcribed in 4 volumes, well bound with an alphabet, in good order, agreeably to an act of Assembly approved 5th January 1824; one book of original entries from the county of Mercer; one from Bourbon, and one from Nelson, have been returned by the surveyors of said counties to the Register's office agreeably to an act of Assembly approved Feb. 12th 1820; all of which books of entries are in order fit to be used. The Surveyor of Jefferson county has failed to return the original entries of that county to the Register's office, as your committee have been informed by the Register; 1 volume of military grants for land west of the Tennessee river; 1 volume in which the surveys of that land are recorded, and one in which they are registered, the surveys are neatly tied up in 6 bundles, each volume having a separate alphabet; 2 volumes in which certificates of sales of land west of the Tennessee river are recorded; 3 volumes of grants issued thereon, with alphabets in good order; 1 volume of Henderson's field notes; 1 volume in which surveys of land south of Walker's line are recorded; 2 volumes of grants, one volume in which the same are registered, with alphabets in good order. The surveys of the lands are tied up in 19 bundles neatly labelled; 1 volume of the list of warrants south of Walker's line; 1 volume in which those warrants are recorded; one volume in which the surveys on forfeited lands are registered; one volume of the record of grants on the same, with alphabets in good order; 7 bundles certificates of sale of lands west of the Tennessee river, on which grants have issued, neatly labelled.

The whole office exhibits diligence and care in the Register.

Your committee further report that the Register's office produces to the revenue collectable in the treasury from its office fees a handsome sum. By the report of the Auditor to the present General Assembly, the amount paid in by the Register for the last fiscal year, is $832 11. Since the enactment of the law requiring the Register to pay into the treasury the contingent fees of his office, the business of that office has greatly increased, by various laws passed, relating to the public lands, and particularly by those laws respecting the appropriation of the public lands to seminaries, roads, and the land south west of the Tennessee river. Were the usual fees paid on all these services, the revenue on all this gratuitous service would greatly enhance the amount of revenue from this source.

The committee are of opinion that the labour of the office is greatly increasing, and requires the service of an additional Clerk, which the Register is unable to employ out of his present salary, and believing as they do, that the office is of greater importance than any other, because of its being exclusively the deposit of the evidence of the land titles of the country, they would respectfully recommend the passage of a law, authorising the Register to retain out of the fees of his office in his settlement with the Auditor the sum of $ to be employed in the employment of an additional clerk, in his office. They recommend the adoption of the following resolution:

Resolved, That a law ought to pass allowing the Register to retain out of the contingent fees of his office, a reasonable sum to enable him to employ an additional clerk in his office.

Williams from the select committee to whom was referred, "a bill to improve the road from Smith's ferry to the Tennessee state line, in a direction to Jacksborough," reported the same with an amendment; which being twice read, was concurred in; and the said bill as amended, ordered to be engrossed and read a third time on Monday next.

A message was received from the Senate announcing their disagreement to a bill which originated in this house, entitled, "an act for the benefit of Isaac Smith."
Leave was given to bring in the following bills:
On motion of Mr. Turner—1. A bill to change the time of the sitting of the August term of the Madison county court.
On motion of Mr. Grundy—2. A bill authorising and requiring the several county courts in this commonwealth, to allot and class the justices of said courts.
On motion of Mr. Thomasson—3. A bill for the benefit of Jacob Hubbs.
On motion of Mr. Lackey—4. A bill to amend an act to improve the state road from Mountsterling to the Virginia line, approved January 16th, 1831.
On motion of Mr. Tuggle—5. A bill to protect the citizens of Knox and Harlan, from the incursions of stock from Virginia and Tennessee.
On motion of Mr. Morris—6. A bill to amend the law in relation to opening and repairing the public roads, so far as respects Mason county. And,
On motion of Mr. Dyer—7. A bill for the benefit of Jeremiah S. Pierce.

Messrs. Turner, Daniel and Letcher, were appointed a committee to prepare and bring in the first; Messrs. Grundy, Abel, James and Booker, the second: the committee of Ways and Means, the third; Messrs. Lackey, B. F. Thomas, Young, Patrick and Kouns, the fourth: Messrs. Tuggle, Jackson, E. Smith and Turner, the fifth: Messrs. Morris, Chambers and Thompson, the sixth: and the committee of Religion, the seventh.

Mr. White presented the petition of sundry citizens of Anderson county, praying that the election precinct in said county, may be abolished.

Which petition was received, read and referred to the committee of Propositions and Grievances.

The following bills were reported from the several committees appointed to prepare and bring in the same, viz:
By Mr. McAfee from the committee of Propositions and Grievances—1. A bill authorising the county courts of Bath and Nicholas to open a road to Andrews' ferry on Licking, under certain restrictions.
By Mr. N. B. Coleman—2. A bill to provide for building a bridge across main Licking at Chaysville in Harrison county.
By Mr. B. Harrison—3. A bill to provide for building a bridge across Salt river, at Clarke's ripple, on the road from Bardstown to Louisville. And,
By Mr. Turner—4. A bill to change the time of the sitting of the August term of the Madison county court.

Which bills were severally received and read the first time, and ordered to be read a second time.

And thereupon the rule of the House, constitutional provision and second reading of said bills having been dispensed with, the first and fourth were severally ordered to be engrossed and read a third time; the second was committed to the committee on Internal Improvements, and the third to the committee of Ways and Means.

And thereupon the rule of the house, constitutional provision and third reading of the first and fourth bills, having been dispensed with, and the same being engrossed,

Resolved, That the said bills do pass, and that the titles thereof be as aforesaid.

Ordered, That the Clerk carry the said bills to the Senate and request their concurrence.

The Speaker laid before the House the report of the President and Directors of the Taylorsville Bridge Company, which is in the following words:

To the Honorable John J. Crittenden, Speaker of the House of Representatives, of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky.

Sir:

The undersigned having been elected President and Directors of the Salt River and Taylorsville Bridge Company, under an act of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, approved 29th January, 1830, incorporating a company to build a bridge across Salt river at Taylorsville, beg leave through you to report: That by virtue of the powers vested in us by the act incorporating said company, we did, on the 15th day of December, 1830, make a contract with a certain George Bourne, for the erection of a bridge across Salt river, at Taylorsville, upon the plan of "Ithiel Towns" patent, so called, for the sum of three thousand five hundred dollars. That said George Bourne has gone on and completed said bridge, and on yesterday tendered to us the key and with it the bridge, and demanded from us the bond executed by him, binding him to build said bridge, which we rejected; although from the report of Achilles Easley, surveyor of Spencer county, hereto appended, it appears that the work has been well executed, and the majority of the board believe that the work is well done, but do not believe that they have the power of surrendering to the contractor, his bond, without a violation of their duty.

We further report, that the contractor is not bound to surrender to this board, until the 25th inst. at which time, if received, it will be ready for use. In the erection of the bridge, this board contracted simply for the building thereof, and filling up and grading the roadway to the bridge. We submit to the Legislature the propriety of so amending the charter as to give to the President and Directors of said company, the power of erecting a toll house at the end of the bridge. We believe it absolutely necessary to have such building, in order to secure to the corporation the full amount of profits to be derived from the tolls.

We have received the sum of $1350 from the county court of Spencer county, who are the owners of 30 shares in the joint and capital stock of said company, and $500 from the Treasurer of this commonwealth; and have checked upon the Treasurer in favor of said George Bourne, for $850 in addition, all of which has been applied towards paying said undertaker, for the building of the bridge, and for incidental expenses incurred by the board, in advertising the letting of the bridge, and for drafts of a plan, &c. All of which is respectfully reported.

A message from the Senate by Mr. Pollard:

Mr. Speaker—The Senate insist on their amendment proposed to a bill from this house entitled an act for the benefit of the Surveyor of Jefferson county, and have appointed a committee of conference on their part on the subject of said amendment, and request the appointment of a committee on the part of this house; and then he withdrew.

Whereupon Messrs. Tyler, Miller, Rudd, Thomasson, Crutchfield and Howell, were appointed a committee on the part of this house.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate thereof.

The House resumed the consideration of an engrossed bill entitled an act more effectually to prevent the importation of slaves into this State as merchandize.

Mr. Burr Harrison then moved to attach to said bill the following engrossed clause by way of rider, viz:

Be it further enacted, That any suit for freedom, by any negro who shall or may be emancipated by this act, shall be brought in the circuit court of the county where the person holding such negro in servitude shall reside.

And the question being taken on the adoption thereof, it was decided in the negative.

The yeas and nays being required thereon by Messrs. B. Harrison and Turner were as follows, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Abel, Baker, Barlow, Barrett, Boyd, Carr, Chambers, Copeland, Daniel, Ewing, Ford, Benjamin Harrison, Burr Harrison, Hill, Howell, Hughes, Jackson, James, Johnson, Kennedy, Lackey, Lander, McNairy, Megowan, Mize, Morehead, Pierce, Ruddell, J. Roberts, Sanders, Shepard, E. Smith, W. Thomas, Wheeler, S. Williams, W. J. Williams, Woolfolk and Young—38.

Mr. Pierce then moved to attach to said bill the following engrossed clause by way of rider, viz:

Be it further enacted, That no citizen or citizens of this state shall have power to introduce slaves into this commonwealth, that were brought into the United States since the 1st day of January, 1789, nor the descendants of the females of them; nor shall any citizen of this State have power to introduce slaves into this commonwealth as merchandise that were in the United States prior to the year 1789 nor the descendants of the females of them.

And the question being taken on the adoption thereof, it was decided in the negative.

A further amendment by way of engrossed rider having been offered.

It was moved and seconded to postpone the further consideration of said bill until the first day of August next.

And the question being taken thereon it was decided in the negative.

The yeas and nays being required thereon by Messrs. E. Smith and S. Williams were as follows.

And then the House adjourned.
1. The Speaker laid before the House the annual report of the trustees of the Asylum for the tuition of the Deaf and Dumb at Danville; which is in the following words:

To the Honorable the Speaker, of the House of Representatives.

The Trustees of the Asylum for the instruction of the deaf and dumb, would respectfully report;

That the pupils in the institution have, during the past year, enjoyed good health generally, and made satisfactory progress in the acquirement of useful knowledge.

It will be perceived by the annexed list of pupils, that the number has been somewhat increased during the year. In view of a further addition the Trustees have deemed it necessary to add a few rooms to their buildings for their proper and healthful accommodation. This work is in progress, and expected to be finished during the next month. The expenditure for this object will appear in the next years amount of disbursements.

By the annexed statement it will be seen that during the past year the sum of $1000 only, has been received from Florida. This sum was immediately placed on loan at six per cent. interest in pursuance of the design heretofore expressed by the Board, of creating a permanent and productive fund for the support of the institution. A greater amount would have been forwarded if collections of our debts could have been effected by our Agent. He informs us that the unusual sickness prevalent in that Territory has produced such a stagnation in business as to disappoint his expectations.

In the month of September last the Board sent Mr. Jacobs and one of the pupils to visit the Legislature of Tennessee, then in session at Nashville, with a view to induce that state to make provision by law for the instruction at this institution, of their indigent mute, as has been done by the state of Mississippi. Mr. Jacobs reports, That he was cordially received by the Governor and Legislature, and thinks that the object of his mission will be effected. The Board has not as yet learned the result.

The Board would respectfully refer to the annexed statement for a detailed amount of their funds, names of officers, &c.

By Order,

Danville, Nov. 3, 1831.

The Speaker laid before the house the annual report of the commissioners of the Lunatic Asylum at Lexington, which is in the following words:

To the honorable the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Ky.

In conformity with your act, the Commissioners of the Lunatic Asylum beg leave to report: That in the annexed paper marked A, will be found a list of the patients, their disease, age, from what county, and the date when received; also, the number admitted since this humane institution was founded by your honorable body. Shewing that since then, one hundred and eleven have been restored to society and their friends, out of three hundred and eight. During the past year thirty-seven patients have been received. Nine of whom have been restored, and two have died. Of those remaining at last report, seven have been discharged cured, and seven cases of mortality have occurred. The number now in the house is one hundred and two.

The document marked B, exhibits the receipt and expenditure of the institution for the past year, shewing a balance in the hands of the commissioners of nineteen hundred and thirty-two dollars and twenty-five cents.

For the comfortable accommodation of the patients, it is absolutely necessary that the original plan of the building should now be completed. To enable your commissioners to do which, and support the institution, will require an appropriation of ten thousand dollars. All which is respectfully submitted.

Therefore,

The joint committee appointed to examine and settle the accounts of Peter Dudley, John Brown, John Harvie and James
Shannon, commissioners for rebuilding the capital, have performed that duty, and report here with an account current, as a part of this, their report, showing the aggregate amount of the funds received and the disbursements made by the said commissioners, which account is sustained by vouchers exhibited to your committee; and by which it appears that the said commissioners have faithfully disbursed the funds placed in their hands by the commonwealth; therefore, your committee recommend the adoption of the following resolution:

Resolved by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, That the bonds executed by Peter Dudley, John Brown, John Harvie and James Shannon, commissioners for rebuilding the capitol, which are filed in the office of the Secretary of State, be cancelled and given up to them, upon their depositing the vouchers and other papers relating thereto, in the office of the Secretary of State.

And whereas the commissioners, superintending the rebuilding of the capitol, claim some compensation for their services, respectively, as may be reasonable and just. But as the joint committee conceive, that subject is not directly referred to them, a majority of them conceive it proper that another and different course should be taken by each branch of the General Assembly, should they concur; wherefore, a majority of the joint committee recommend the adoption of the following additional resolution:

Resolved, That a bill ought to pass, allowing a compensation to each of the commissioners, for their services in superintending the rebuilding the capitol, the sum of five hundred dollars.

John Brown, Peter Dudley, John Harvie and James Shannon, commissioners for rebuilding the capitol, in account with the state of Kentucky.

Mr. E. Smith, from the joint committee appointed to examine the Auditor's office, made the following report:

The joint committee appointed by the Senate and House of Representatives, to examine the Auditor's office, have performed that service, partially only. To have undertaken a minute examination of each voucher, for the year ending the 10th day of October last, would have required near two weeks close application. They found the books to correspond with the report of the Auditor and Treasurer, communicated to the present session.

The business of the office appears to be done with neatness and dispatch. The general appearance of the office is highly creditable to the head of that department. The committee were of opinion that it is highly important that provision should be made by law, for the appointment of two qualified resident citizens, in Frankfort, whose duty it shall be, annually, to examine the Auditor's office and the Treasurer's office. Those offices cannot be examined with any satisfaction, by a committee, during the session; besides, it is requiring too much of their time from Legislative duties. The committee, therefore, ask leave to accompany this report by bill.

All which is respectfully submitted.

WM. WOOD,
ROBT. GEORGE,
From the Senate.
ELISHA SMITH,
THOS. J. YOUNG,

From the House of Representatives.
Mr. Benj. Harrison, from the joint committee appointed to examine the Penitentiary, made the following report:

The joint committee of the Senate and House of Representatives, have discharged the duties to them assigned, of examining the condition of the Penitentiary.

The convicts appear to be as well provided for as the nature of their situation requires, and it is a remarkable fact, that although there are ninety-four now in the Penitentiary, there is not one on the sick list, except a very old man, who is, at best, very infirm. There is kept up a regular and exact discipline amongst the convicts; at night they are kept in solitary confinement, and so much of every Sunday as they are not engaged in attending the Sunday school, or attending divine service; during the residue of the week they are engaged in useful labor. The committee are happy to learn, that a number of the convicts who attend the Sunday school, have made considerable progress in spelling and reading, and from information which we have received, and on which we can rely, we have no hesitation in saying, that the Sabbath school should be kept up, and books furnished for the use of this unfortunate portion of the human race. The committee are gratified in being able to report that the institution is in a very flourishing condition; it is believed that the profits of the institution, after deducting all expense for the current year, will fall little, if any short of $6000. Upon examination of the different shops and work houses belonging to the Penitentiary, it is believed that great improvement in the institution, would be effected by throwing the whole into one room, the convicts are now, from necessity, stationed in eight or nine different rooms, and it is not practicable for the keeper or his assistant, to have them, at all times, in view, and nearly all the mischief has its origin in these small shops, in the absence of the keeper, the committee, therefore, report the following resolution:

Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives, That the keeper of the Penitentiary cause to be built, a work shop, thirty-three feet wide, two stories high, commencing at the end of the present principal shop and extending it to the southern wall, and report on oath, to the next Legislature, the actual cost of the same.

Resolved unanimously, That the thanks of this house be tendered to John J. Crittenden, for the very able, dignified and impartial manner in which he has presided as Speaker of this house during the present session.

Ordered, That a message be sent to the Senate, informing that body, that this house having finished their legislative business, are now ready to close the present session of the General Assembly, by an adjournment, Sine Die, but are, nevertheless, disposed to remain in session until it may suit the convenience and pleasure of the Senate to adjourn also; and that a committee has been appointed on the part of this house to meet such committee as may be appointed on the part of the Senate, to wait on the Governor and inform him of the intended adjournment of the General Assembly, and to know if he has any further communication to make.

A message was received from the Senate by Mr. Wingate, announcing that the Senate had finished the legislative business before them, and were now ready to adjourn without day, and that they had appointed a committee to meet the committee appointed on the part of this house, to wait on the Governor and inform him of the intended adjournment of the General Assembly, and to know if he had any further communication to make.

The committee on the part of the house then retired, and after a short time returned, when Mr. Jonas from the joint committee, reported that the committee had performed the duty assigned them, and were informed by the Governor that he had no further communications to make to the General Assembly.

Whereupon, the Speaker having delivered a congratulatory and valedictory address, adjourned the house Sine Die.
