A message was received from the Senate by Messrs. McHenry and Wright, announcing that the Senate had met, formed a quorum, and elected its officers, and was now ready to proceed to legislative business, and that they had appointed a committee to act in conjunction with a committee from this House, to inform the Governor that the General Assembly was organized and ready to receive any communication he might have to make.

Mr. John R. Thomas moved the following resolution, viz:

Resolved by the House of Representatives, That the general rules of the session of 1861-62 and 63 be, and they are, by adoption, the rules of proceedings for the present session of the House, and that the usual number of copies be printed.
Which was adopted.

Mr. McFarland moved the following resolution, viz:

Resolved, That a committee of three be appointed to inform the Senate that the House is organized, and ready to proceed to business, and to act in conjunction with a committee from the Senate to inform the Governor that the General Assembly is organized, and ready to receive any communication he may be pleased to make.
Which was adopted.

Whereupon, the Speaker appointed Messrs. McFarland, J. F. Bell and John R. Thomas a committee in pursuance of said resolution.

Mr. Wood moved the following resolution, viz:

Resolved, That the Speaker of the House be empowered to employ a page at the same rate of compensation as those employed by the Sergeant-at-Arms.
Which resolution was rejected.

Mr. Chandler moved the following resolution, viz:

Resolved, That the Speaker be requested to invite the Ministers of Gospel, resident in Frankfort, to open the sessions of the House each morning with prayer.
Which was adopted.

Mr. Sparks moved the following resolution, viz:

Resolved, That the Sergeant-at-Arms of this House procure and caused to be raised from the dome of the Capitol, a suitable banner, with the stars and stripes, during the sitting of this General Assembly with the following inscription on the same: "United we stand, divided we fall, Kentucky was the first State born into the Union, under the precepts of Washington, and the auspices of Heaven, she will be the last to give it up."

Mr. McFarland, from the committee appointed to inform the Senate that the House had met, formed a quorum and organized, and to wait on the Governor, and inform him that the two Houses were now ready to receive any communication he might have to make to them, reported that the committee had performed the duties assigned them, and had been informed by the Governor that he would forthwith make a communication in writing to the two Houses in their respective chambers.

A message was received from the Governor by Mr. E. L. VanWinkle, Secretary of State, which reads as follows, viz:
Gentlemen of the Senate and House of Representatives:

We have reason to be thankful to a beneficent Providence for the more favored auspices under which you assemble, than greeted your immediate predecessors. Our present exemption, and the strengthened hope of yet higher security, from the dangers of rebel invasions and predatory incursions of guerrillas, together with the bounteous productions which have rewarded the industry of our people, and the blessings of health and general prosperity, are the bestowments of "a divinity that shapes our ends," which must attract our gratitude and command our thanksgiving to "Him whose ways are not as man's ways."

The constitution, in prescribing the powers and duties of the Governor as Chief Executive, requires that "He shall, from time to time, give to the General Assembly information of the state of the Commonwealth, and recommend to their consideration such measures as he may deem expedient." In obeying this requirement, it affords me gratification to be able to lay before you the condition of our Treasury, as shown by the reports of the Auditor and Treasurer. Taking the last four years as an illustration, it appears that our Treasury is in better condition than at any previous period of our history. The comparison presents the following contrast, at the end of each fiscal year:

The interest upon our public debt has been promptly paid.

This condition is the more gratifying, when we consider the fact that many of our counties have been so overrun by rebel invaders, and desolated by guerrillas and marauders, that no revenue could be collected within them. In this connection, it is proper to suggest that relief should be extended to the collectors of revenue in those counties where collections were impracticable, owing to the exposed condition of the country.

As connected with our finances, it is proper to bring before you the defalcation of the late Auditor, Thos. S. Page. An examination of his accounts from 1853 to 1859, although not thorough, has developed an embezzlement of $90,362.62, of which $1,580 has been paid, leaving $88,782.62 against him. Amongst the earliest acts of my Executive duties was an order directing the Attorney General to institute suits for the recovery of the amounts composing such embezzlement.
There is a long period of years prior to this investigation, for which this officer is responsible, and during that period there has been no inquiry into the accounts. I made an effort to have an examination, but the short time intervening your assembling did not admit of it. It will require a labor of some months, by good accountants, to satisfactorily explore the accounts. I recommend the appointment of two or more commissioners, to investigate and report upon the condition of the accounts of that officer, from the commencement to the end of his services. If the investigation be properly made, it will probably enable the Commonwealth to secure a large proportion of the sum found to be due, in the settlement of his estate in the hands of trustees, which is now depending in the Franklin Circuit Court. The statute of limitations certainly releases the sureties anterior to the year 1853, but does not interfere with the prosecution of the claim against the defaulting officer. I recommend that you provide for the appointment of commissioners to investigate and ascertain the extent of the embezzlement for each year from the commencement of that officer's services.

This case suggests the grave omission of proper legislation in reference to such cases. Except as to the Treasurer, our penal code is silent. No penalties are provided against any other officer for embezzlement of public moneys. I therefore recommend that our penal code be so amended as to punish, criminally, all officers who may be guilty of embezzlement of public moneys.

The condition of our common schools will be exhibited in the report of the Superintendent of Public Instruction. The fund consecrated to purposes of education has been preserved inviolate. To give to every child in the Commonwealth a substantial education, is amongst the highest duties devolved upon the law-givers. Every effort to increase the facilities of education, and to elevate the grade of instruction, will have my hearty co-operation.

The reports from our eleemosynary institutions, which will be laid before you, will inform you of their condition, progress and wants. The Lunatic Asylums at Lexington and at Hopkinsville; the Deaf and Dumb Asylum at Danville; the Blind Asylum at Louisville; the Asylum for the Feeble-Minded at Frankfort, are noble monuments of the charities of our Commonwealth. The reports, which will be laid before you, from these institutions, will set forth their wants and necessities. Ample provisions should be made to meet them. That you will make suitable appropriations to sustain these grand charities, such as becomes the charitable duty and just pride of the State, I do not entertain a doubt.

Under the provisions of "An act accepting the donation of lands for endowment of Agricultural Colleges," approved 27th January, 1863, I have received from the Federal Government, through the Commissioner of the General Land Office, United States land scrip for 330,000 acres of land. It will now be necessary that you provide for the appointment and compensation of an agent or agents to dispose of this scrip; and further provide for founding the college, in order to obtain the benefits of this munificent donation. This scrip will raise a fund for the endowment of an institution which may be made an honor to the Government, the pride of the State, and a blessing and bounty to the citizens of Kentucky. It is recommended that you adopt all proper measures for securing the benefits of this liberal donation, and carrying out the purposes of its bestowment.

In this connection, I would direct your attention to the propriety of continuing the support of the "State Agricultural Society." This institution, organized under an act approved March 10, 1856, and continued by subsequent enactments, has been of great benefit to the agricultural interests of Kentucky. Although its efficiency has been greatly retarded by the rebellion, for the past two years, yet, in the midst of the gloom, the efforts of the society have shed light and cheer upon the agricultural interests of the State. We are an agricultural people, and every aid given to that interest goes to promote the general welfare. The society has more than met the most sanguine expectations of its founders, and presents to our hopes cumulative benefits to our agricultural—which is our greatest—interest, which demand for the society the fostering care of the Commonwealth.

At present the questions of most absorbing interest grow out of, and are connected with, the condition of our Federal Government, and the rebellion of the Southern States. When the rebellion broke upon us in Kentucky we had no military organization except under the State Guard law. This law was perverted by the Inspector General, Buckner, into treasonable uses, and so alarmed our people, at the abuse, that the law was repealed, thus leaving Kentucky without military organization. To call an unorganized militia into the field was and is impossible. The Legislature, by act approved the 31st day of August, 1862, revived the State Guard law with amendments. When I became invested with the "chief executive authority," no organization having been effected, steps were immediately taken to thoroughly organize the militia. The process of organization is necessarily slow under the system as at present authorized. Having obtained the services of an able and accomplished officer as Inspector General, the work of organization is progressing with all possible dispatch. Various and important amendments required to give efficiency to the system will be suggested by him to the proper committee.

The importance of having a complete and thorough organization of the militia has been so clearly impressed upon every judgment, by the calamities which have befallen our people for want of such organization, that I need not offer any additional reasons, beyond the facts of history, to enforce the necessity of such organization. Without organization we have been, and would continue, powerless, and lay at the mercy of invaders and bandits. With organization we can defy and punish them, and give security to our homes, and protection to our people. I urge upon you the propriety of having an efficient State force organized, for active duty in suppressing the guerrilla warfare which harrasses our border. If it be said that it will cost the State too much, I answer, that it will cost less than to do without such force. The economy which refuses to give protection to the property, the homes, and lives of our border citizens, and leaves them exposed to be wasted and ruined by guerrilla bands, deserves the contempt and execration of the age. He whose soul sets in watch over his money bags, while the homes of his countrymen are wrapped in flames of rebellion, and the lives of true men are being sacrificed to the Moloch of treason, is wholly unfit to sit in council with patriots and statesmen. We have passed the silver line; it is now a question of the life or death of our Government—not of dollars and cents. It is not, therefore, to be presumed that any representative of our suffering people can, for a moment, hesitate to make every possible provision for the protection and security of the citizen in his power. Those who would "save the peoples' money," should appropriate from the common treasure all that may be needed to give protection to the homes, the property, and lives of the citizen. Coming, as you do, fresh from the people, and knowing their sufferings and wants, it is not to be doubted but you will promptly respond to the necessities of the occasion.

In a short time after the executive duties devolved upon me, the organized forces theretofore giving protection to our people, were necessarily moved to the front, leaving the State more exposed than at any period since the rebellion. We were left with some 4,000 recruits in camps, then without organization, and not supplied with arms and equipments for service. The guerillas availed themselves of our condition to inflict serious injuries upon our exposed border, carrying their depredations to the very heart of the State.

It is a source of gratulation that the patriotism of our people has met the efforts to place a sufficient force in the field for defense, and that we are now more secure and better guarded than at any time heretofore since the rebellion. In a short time, under an arrangement made with the Secretary of War, and by a thorough organization of the enrolled and volunteer militia, our defenses will be complete, and security will again brighten the desolated homes of our border people.

It is a source of just pride, that in this struggle to maintain our national life, Kentucky, under every adverse circumstance, has nobly redeemed her pledge of duty to maintain the Union. Kentucky can never abandon the Union. It is the life of her peoples' hopes. When the Union is broken, her hopes must perish. Her hopes survive the loss of everything but the Union. "Give us liberty or give us death," is the echoing response to our revolutionary sires, of the living patriotism of Kentucky of the present day. Although we are an exposed front, and our people have been overrun and oppressed by rebel armies, and have been wasted in their substance, and slain by guerillas; although bad men and wicked fanaticism in our own armies have inflicted outrage and wrong upon our loyal people, yet so steadily have our people pursued the direct line of duty and patriotism, that their suffering heroism, and invincible loyalty, which nothing could divert or overcome, is being understood and appreciated by our loyal brethren of other States, and our voice and counsel will not be unheeded as we speak from the fiery furnace of this wasting rebellion.

Out of an enrolled militia numbering 119,577, we have contributed, to sustain our Government, 37,444 soldiers for three years service; 11,911 for one year; 413 for nine months, and 1,770 for sixty days service; making an aggregate of 51,538—almost one half of all those within the military ages. This is an evidence of Kentucky patriotism which needs no further comment to vindicate it. We are ready to give yet more, even to the last man and last dollar, if needed, to defend our Government.
I call your attention to the very full, complete, and able report of the Adjutant General, which will be laid before you. The report is gotten up so as to present a complete record of every regiment sent to the field; and exhibit, as far as officially advised, the status of each officer and soldier. This report should be given the dignity of an official record, so that the report may be evidence of the facts set forth, for the benefit of those interested in future.

In the commencement of the rebellion the inexperience of those employed in the Quarter-Master's department, was the occasion of distributing arms, munitions, clothing, and other necessary stores, to the various military organizations in the State, without obtaining vouchers in the form prescribed by the Army Regulations. In many instances the emergency did not admit of the delay which compliance with these forms required. Yet the disbursements were all for the legitimate uses of our troops, and properly issued though informally vouched. These informalities have been the reason why our claims upon the Government for reimbursement have not been met. Since the rebellion commenced there has been advanced by the State of Kentucky, on account of United States Government, in recruiting, arming, equipping, subsisting, and paying volunteers, the following sums, viz:

Advanced up to 31st August, 1863 .......................................................... $2,165,611 83
Advanced from 31st August to 30th November, 1863 ................................ 90,000 00

Making our advancements .......................................................... $2,256,611 83

Of this sum there has been refunded by the Federal Government .................. $861,221 12
Add our proportion of the taxes levied upon the State, 605,000 00

Aggregate .......................................................... 1,466,221 12

Leaving a balance in favor of the State against the United States ....... $730,390 71

This balance, for the reason before stated, has not heretofore been settled. The Secretary of State and Quarter-Master General were deputed, a few weeks since, to visit Washington, and, if possible, obtain a settlement of our claims. The difficulties in the way of adjustment being ascertained; the questions were submitted to the Secretary of War, who promptly, from a sense of justice and respect to the loyalty and good faith of Kentucky, ordered the settlement of our claims upon a basis as just, liberal, and equitable as we could possibly demand, or his duties admit. We shall therefore hope soon to recruit our fund for military purposes, by obtaining from the Federal Government the payment of the sums so due to us.

3-H.R.
The importance of the records now being made in the military departments of this State, suggests the necessity of having suitable and permanent offices provided in which to transact the business and preserve the records of the Inspector General, Adjutant General, and Quarter-Master General. The present and future generations have an interest in the preservation of these records. At present and heretofore office rooms have been rented. The frequent changes from one room to another endangers the security, while it necessarily disorders and confuses the records. The State should provide permanent office rooms. It is economical to do so. The rents now expended would, in a few years, pay for the construction of the necessary buildings.

The salary of the Governor, under the Constitution, cannot be either increased or diminished during his term; all delicacy is therefore removed, which might otherwise prevent me from calling your attention to the subject, and urging you to provide for my successor a compensation which will at least cover expenses. I am satisfied that it is not the purpose of the people of Kentucky to require a property qualification for the office, yet the present rate of compensation must attain that end by the indirection of inadequate salary. Unless possessed of private fortune to meet expenses, no man can now afford to be Governor of Kentucky.

The increased rates of living so reduces the value of the present salaries paid to our judicial officers, as to render their compensation wholly insufficient. In times of peace, plenty, and low rates, the salaries paid to the judges, was much below the income of a moderately competent lawyer. Now, competent men cannot afford to be judges. Our present judges may, from a sense of public duty, continue through their terms, but this does not excuse for failing to give them just and reasonable compensation.

The salaries of the Inspector General, and of his clerk, are merely nominal—having been fixed for times of peace. The importance of the office, at this time, to the well-being and security of our people; the onerous duties which devolve upon that officer, which require his whole time and all his energies, with the constant labor of a clerk, demands that suitable provision should be forthwith made for payment of reasonable salaries to the Inspector General and to his clerk. No clerk could be obtained at the present salary, and as a consequence, a clerk has had to be detailed to that office from the office of the Adjutant General.
The salaries of the Treasurer, Auditor and Register are, for the same reasons, inadequate. A salary which was sufficient a few years past, for reasons obvious to all, will not now, and for years to come, meet the measure of a just reward. The Register’s salary is diminished by over $200 postage, which he is compelled to pay, there being no provision for its payment. This is not right. A just and generous people do not want the services of these indispensable officers without fair compensation. The miser in council is as little respected by a noble people as is the prodigal. Neither represent the manly spirit, the public sentiment, and the just judgment of the people.

The subject of internal improvements has been so repeatedly brought before the public judgment, that no additional suggestions are necessary on this occasion. The construction of roads and improvement of rivers have been a means of developing much wealth, and a source of reward to the labor of the country. When judiciously made the industry of the people is better sustained, and the wealth and prosperity of the country promoted. At present, however, to take care of and protect what we have is all a prudent statesmanship can demand. The report of the President of the Board of Internal Improvement will, in a short time, be submitted for your consideration, to which I beg leave to refer you for information both as regards the present condition of the public works, and the expenditures connected with the same.

There yet remains subjects of grave consideration to which, from a sense of public duty, I am constrained to call your attention—questions which have grown up with the rebellion, and demand some positive action for our own security. In presenting these questions it is not my purpose to invite vindictive action and wrathful legislation, but legislation tempered by a discreet and sober judgment, which shall be addressed to our security as a loyal people, rather than to the punishment of the disloyal.

The duty of allegiance to our Government is so palpable and simple, that it requires neither depth of intellect nor breadth of intelligence to comprehend it. To observe that duty is an instinct of loyalty. The most ignorant know it; the most vicious feel it. To sympathize with rebellion and treason is a vicious sympathy, entitled to none of those charities which cover less venal crimes. It is the harlotry of the heart with the worst of crimes, and inevitably leads to criminal acts of treason, unless restrained by the touch of loyal judgment and rational duty.
No one has the right to commit treason. No one has the right to encourage or promote treason. The right to be a rebel or rebel sympathizer cannot be admitted; we may tolerate, but cannot admit, the right of such sympathies.

The right to hold, express, and advocate any form of policy for conducting the government, is a political right which cannot and ought not to be abridged, however much abused. Treason is not a policy; it strikes at the life—aims not at the management of the government. The safety of free government, which admits the right to advocate and urge, with all of our powers, even the wildest and most deleterious policy, without any restriction save public judgment, demands that none should be permitted to overthrow, or aid, or abet, or in any way encourage or promote the overthrow of the government which secures this perfect political liberty. Whosoever, therefore, commits treason, or advocates it, or in any way encourages or promotes it, does what he has no right to do, and that which is at war with the perfect political freedom secured by our government, and should not be tolerated therein. To sympathize with rebellion is wrong, if rebellion is wrong. But as mere sympathy cannot endanger the life of the government, it may be tolerated, though wrong. Yet, when that sympathy assumes the form of aid or encouragement to treason, and tends to promote it either by acts or words, the duty of those who would perpetuate our political freedom, as secured only by our government, is to stay the work of treason by inflicting upon its workers such restraints and penalties as will enforce obedience and respect to the government of our fathers.

Every Kentuckian ought to be loyal, not only in act, but word and sympathy. Kentucky has not and will not, under any circumstances, become rebellious against the government of our fathers. Having no rights outside of the Union, Kentucky will seek none except in the Union. An invincible loyalty confronts those who seek to force Kentucky into rebellion. When rebellion reaches such magnitude as to assume the dignity of a revolutionary war, it is supported or resisted by moral and physical forces. Expressed sympathy or advocacy of rebellion is giving moral force to rebellion. If the rebellion is wrong, sympathy or any other aid given to it is wrong; and those who are to be injuriously affected by it have the moral right to protect themselves against rebellion by suppressing every form of treason. They have the right to banish its shadow, as well as its substance. In self-defense they ought to do so. It is no excuse for any one to say he cannot help his sympathies. A wrong and criminal sympathy is as much under the control of the will as a wrong and criminal action. Both are voluntary, and therefore criminal. Every man who henceforth remains in Kentucky, or shelters here, should be loyal to our government, and true to its service, or be held to a rigid responsibility for disloyalty. Those who rejoice or exult over rebel invasions and guerilla raids should be held accountable for all the injuries inflicted by their fellow-accomplices in treason. We may, and perhaps should, ignore the past, if the future of such be loyal; but to be loyal should be made imperative.

I therefore recommend that our penal code be amended so as to provide proper preventive, as well as punitive remedies, for every form of treasonable action, whether it consist in acts or words which tend to promote or encourage rebellion.

I further recommend that the laws be so amended as to give to any loyal man, who suffers in person or property, from invasions or raids, a right of action against any or all persons who, after the passage of such act, may aid, encourage, or promote the rebellion either by acts or words of encouragement, or by approval, or by manifesting an exultant and joyous sympathy upon the success of such raids. It is time that disloyal and criminal sympathies should cease in Kentucky. There remains no excuse for any to indulge in them and remain here.

Such amendments to the civil code will be but the application of the principles of the common law to this rebellion. By the common law, all who counsel, advise, aid, assist, promote, encourage, or adopt a trespass, are held to be equally guilty and responsible to the injured party. It is right that those whose avowed sympathies encourage and invite invasions and raids should be made to bear the expenses for the entertainment of their friends.

Rebellious persons are fleeing to Kentucky as a city of refuge. This is becoming so common that it is worthy of consideration how far and upon what terms this is to be permitted. “The citizens of each State,” by virtue of the Federal Constitution, “shall be entitled to all privileges and immunities of citizens in the several States.” But to enact or promote treason is not one of the “privileges” or “immunities” of citizens of any State. So long as those refugees deport themselves as good and loyal citizens, they should be, so far as our laws are operative, left unmolested. But those who bring with them the infection of treason, and who, by words or acts, endeavor to incite treasonable acts, or promote treasonable sentiments in our communities, should be restrained by proper penalties sufficient to reach and eradicate this evil.

Another important matter affecting the interests of our people, and which grows out of the rebellion, ought to be provided for. The property of our citizens is purchased or seized by officers and soldiers for public use, and either no voucher given, or one which is insufficient to draw the compensation upon. This has sometimes been from the ignorance of the officer employed; sometimes from his wanton neglect; sometimes from unavoidable neglect, in the hurried movements of troops, and often from the corrupt purposes of Quarter-Masters and Assistant Commissaries of Subsistence, who seek thereby to pocket the proceeds of our substance. These are evils incident to a state of war, but ought to be provided for, so as ultimately to secure that which is due to the citizen. In most instances, it is not possible to obtain, at this time, vouchers such as required by the Army Regulations. It is not right that the citizen should suffer loss for the default, accident, or negligence of those acting under federal authority.

It is recommended, therefore, that you provide, by law, some simple but reliable mode of perpetuating the evidence of such claims for indemnity, so that the State authorities, or the individual, can lay them before Congress for redress. This might properly be extended to perpetuate the evidence not only of losses by federal soldiers, but property destroyed or taken by confederates—the evidence always distinguishing the manner, extent of loss, and when and by whom or whose authority taken or destroyed. This will secure, at least, the foundation upon which to appeal for ultimate justice. These evidences might be forwarded to the Quarter-Master General of the State, and preserved by him, to be laid before the proper federal authorities.

Custom, by long established precedent, has made it necessary that I should advert to our federal relations, and those subjects of general and national interest which absorb the attention of the day. It would perhaps be better otherwise; but, as we cannot ignore, we should not shun all proper responsibility.

Our federal relations are at this time of the most amicable and kindly character. Though differing in opinion as to some of the measures of the administration, yet that difference has not degenerated into hostility to the government. The right to differ is a free and unquestionable right. Yet we have not, and should not, make that difference an excuse for relaxing our efforts to sustain the government and suppress the rebellion. We think our views right; they who pursue the controlling policy think theirs right. We agree in the object to be promoted, but differ as to the means. The object which we hold in common—the preservation of the Union and perpetuation of our nationality—being immeasurably higher than any means which can or may be employed for its accomplishment, secures our patriotism from being swayed or jostled from its center by any subordinate consideration.

The source of irritation which has been the hobby of the secessionists, and the point most tender to the touch in Union men—the negro—will, I trust and believe, not become a matter of aggression or dispute between us and the Federal Government. I have every reason to feel assured that this subject will be left wholly to the disposition of the people of Kentucky, without any interference by the federal authorities. The loyalty of Kentucky is the guardian angel which walks with her people through the fiery furnace of the rebellion, and preserves their garments from the smell of fire.

We have no cause of complaint against the Federal Government. Our rights as a State, and our prejudices as a people, have been respected by the administration. Our difference is not as to the acts bearing directly upon us as a State, but the policy adopted in reference to the rebellious States and people. We cannot, therefore, as a loyal people, make this difference—as to the policy pursued by the administration towards those whose treason and rebellion have brought upon us all our trouble—an excuse for a quasi hostility to the government, by making a factious war upon those through whom alone we can act for its preservation. We think, and most earnestly, that it is better to use none but the white man to fight our battles; but shall we, upon this opinion, refuse to defend our greatest interests, because a negro is called or forced to help us? To do so would be to substitute passion for reason, prejudice for judgment, and vain pride for patriotism. We confess a stronger affection for the white man than for the black, and believe this government was made for the white man; that he ought to maintain and defend it. And we further believe that the large amounts expended to feed and support "contrabands," would be much more judiciously and charitably expended in supporting the suffering widows and orphans left by our brave and gallant volunteers, who have fallen in camp and field.

But while so feeling and believing, we should not forget, that above all opinions, feelings, and prejudices the duty of preserving the government of our fathers—the price of their blood—rises in sublime and towering majesty, far above the approach of any such considerations. Our duty is to defend our government. The errors of others cannot absolve us from that duty. We should not, for warring opinions, make war upon the government. How much soever we may differ with those conducting the administration, upon measures adopted in reference to rebellious people and States, while passing through the terrible ordeal of rebellion; and how much soever we may deprecate that policy, or believe a different policy would be better calculated to suppress the rebellion, yet this difference should not, as it will not, make us swerve from the pathway of duty and fidelity to our government, nor will we shrink from meeting the responsibilities which a true patriotism imposes.

No people were ever so blessed with unlimited freedom, unalloyed happiness, and boundless prosperity as ours. Our nationality, as the sun of Heaven, lighted our pathway throughout the globe. Wherever our stars floated, our stripes waved, and our eagle soared, the majesty of our government was recognized, the rights of its citizens were respected, and the blessings of the oppressed, and the fears of the oppressor, paid the homage of love and fear to the nation of "many in one." Wicked fanaticism and vicious ambition have combined to overthrow that freedom, destroy that happiness, break that prosperity, and darken the hopes and prospects of the future to us.

The vicious ambition of the Southern men, and the biggoted fanaticism of men of the North, in giving and accepting a sectional quarrel about a local institution, have forced upon us the most groundless, cruel, wicked inexcusable warfare, that ever afflicted any people of the earth. The slave had no more necessary connection with this rebellion than the horse or any other species of property. But ambitious men of the South, who first sought to create a sectional division upon the tariff, in order to build up a government based upon the aristocracy of the slave owner, having been foiled by the incorruptible patriotism and indomitable will of Andrew Jackson, next gave and accepted a sectional quarrel about the slave, with the fanaticism of the North, which deepens in its affections as its object darkens in complexion.

Slavery being local, cannot be the subject of national action. Yet being confined within certain contiguous States, and excluded from others, it could be made to subserve the purposes of arousing sectional bitterness, animosities, and prejudices, being the only property of local and sectional limits. Thus the vicious ambition of the Southern Secessionists, co-operating with Northern fanaticism, has forced an issue which involves the life of free government.

The blinded ambition and obduracy of the Southern Secessionists persistently thrust forward the slave as the object of strife, although the administration, and the ruling powers, for more than one year, waved it aside and refused to accept the issue. At length the issue was accepted as to the rebellious States and parts of States, and the madmen of the South now realize the fearful madness and folly that controlled them. On the other hand, the Northern accomplices in this work of destruction, appropriate this ill-advised issue as the work of their patriotism. They gloat over the miseries and sufferings of the South as if they were avenging angels. They thank God that they are not as their Southern brethren, and swell with the magnitude of their charities, as they devote the property of others to sacrifice.

The issue thus forced, and for which these two extremists and co-workers of evil are responsible, has nevertheless struck a serious, if not a fatal blow, at the institution in the rebellious States. It may languish for years in painful and uncertain being in those rebellious States, or may, if the war is not soon brought to a termination, perish in the convulsions of the rebellion.

It is not the fault of the loyal Kentuckians, that these evils have befallen, and these dangers environ, an institution in which our own interests participate. Holding, as we do, that the people alone are sovereign, and that the Federal Government represents the united sovereignty of the people for national purposes, and that the State Governments represent their sovereignty within the limits of the State and for local purposes, we feel the more keenly the wrong inflicted upon us by those denying the foundation theory of our government, and who make war upon its perpetuity—the one asserting the supremacy of State rights; the other ignoring—the rights of the people within State limits. By the fiat of the sovereign people, the National Government exists; by the same fiat State Governments exist, and each is limited to its own sphere of action. Southern ambition strikes at the national sovereignty of the people, and Northern fanaticism at the sovereignty which, by national fiat, is reserved to them within the States. Each would form a new and different government. The truly loyal man is struggling to maintain a government—not to make one. The government we have is better than any which has ever preceded it, and superior to any suggested by revolutionists. The secessionist, who would destroy the government by force, and the fanatic who would destroy by innovation, are alike the enemies of our government. The soldier who bares his bosom to the storm of war, does so under the conviction that he fights to maintain the government which blessed his fathers and sheltered his youth. The rebel fights to break up the government. The purpose of the fanatic is the same as the rebel—to make a new, a different, government than the one for which our fathers toiled and bled, and to maintain which our own brave sons now offer up their lives a willing and glorious sacrifice. Each is the common enemy of those who adhere to the Constitutional Union, formed by the wise men of the revolution.

Kentucky, with steadfast faith and invincible loyalty, has constantly adhered to the true line of duty, bringing all her mental, moral, and physical forces to bear against rebellion; and with calm judgment, and unwavering patriotism, with equal fidelity opposing the innovations of fanaticism which undermines our constitutional security and unity.

The Union is indispensable to us, and we are indispensable to the Union. We cannot, therefore, separate, but must preserve our unity which gives us our nationality. Neither the preservation, nor the destruction of slavery is essential to our State or National existence. The State and the Nation can exist with or without slavery. The Government was not formed for the purpose of preserving or destroying it, but to perpetuate to latest time the blessings of free government to the Anglo-American. It is not, therefore, opposition to slavery which constitutes the danger to free government, nor the advocacy of it. But the danger lies in the effort of those who would make the life of the government subordinate to the status of the negro. It is as revolutionary and disloyal to subordinate the government to the question of his freedom, as to the question of his enslavement. True loyalty subordinates all these questions to the preservation of the Government. Our security to-day is because the people of Kentucky, despite leaders and politicians, have all the while been right. They have never lost sight of the paramount object of maintaining our government, and preserving our nationality. Time-servers, and those who court present applause, have never yet kept pace with the loyalty of Kentucky. Fortunately for the good of our people, and the cause of liberty, all such have fallen so far behind, that they are estimated as stragglers and deserters from the true patriotism. It is a proud satisfaction to the truly loyal, to know that we have steadily, and with living faith, and indestructible loyalty, pursued the lead of patriotism, defending our faith with fearless argument, and our loyalty with dauntless deeds; while assailed by persecuting foes, and distrusted and abused by those who should be our friends.

I cannot close this communication without calling your attention to a subject which has drawn largely upon my sympathies and sense of gratitude and duty. Many of our noble sons have fallen in our conflict with rebellion. Many have left widows and orphans in destitute condition. Winter is upon us, and they must suffer unless timely provision be made for them. The poor men of our country have made the first and greatest sacrifices in defense of our birthright of free government. Those districts least blessed with worldly goods, have opened up the richest mines of devoted patriotism. The poor man has given his all—his life—for our security. Shall his widow and orphan children suffer? Our gratitude and duty alike forbid it. Can you not, in your wisdom, devise the plan by which a bounty of fifty or more dollars can be paid to the destitute and needy widows and orphans of our deceased soldiers? It has occurred to me, and I suggest it for your consideration, that a capitation tax of ten cents to twenty cents levied upon each male, over eighteen years of age, in the State—excluding the soldier in the field and the disabled soldier at home—would constitute an ample fund for the relief of the destitute and needy widows and orphans of our gallant dead, and meet our debt of gratitude and duty. This fund should be entitled “bounty fund of the soldier’s widow and orphan.” To meet the present demand for relief, you could appropriate, out of your abundant treasury, to be reimbursed from the fund so raised in the revenues of the coming year. The small sum levied upon each poll, can oppress no one, and will create a fund for the bestowment of great benefits, and for the partial payment of our immense debt of gratitude. Leaving the manner of raising a fund for this purpose entirely to your wise and patriotic consideration and judgment, I most earnestly recommend that some efficient mode of prompt relief be adopted.

Be assured, gentlemen, that whatsoever you may adopt to promote the peace, secure the harmony, increase the security, advance the prosperity, protect the rights, guard the liberties, strengthen our defenses or fortify our constitutional guarantees of liberty, will meet with my hearty approval and co-operation.

Having been blessed by a kind Providence, beyond the measure of other peoples, we should, in this our day of affliction and chastisement, remember that the hand that smites is but to bless, and that our humiliation is only the beginning of our exaltation to a higher and nobler career in the grand march of nations.

In the darkest hour of our struggle no shadow of doubt has ever obscured my faith, that He who notes the fall of the sparrow, and numbers the hairs of our heads, will guide us safely through our tribulations, and not permit us to perish as a nation. Our mission is not ended, our race not yet completed. We have centuries of greatness and ages of grand progression as a government lying before us. Our unity, nationality, and liberty, being the constituted inheritance of our people, will be contemporaneous with coming years, to bless the races of man.

To Him who holds, at His will, the destinies of our government and people—to build or to destroy—I commend you; and to your wise and patriotic counsels commit the interest of our Commonwealth.

THO. E. BRAMLETTE.

Mr. Hawkins read and laid on the table the following joint resolution, viz:

The fame of its true, brave, and patriotic men, is part of the wealth of a nation. That of patriots, which has been tested in battle, is doubly prized by a grateful people. The people of Kentucky are grateful; they honor and love their gallant sons, who, in this terrible civil war, have been found struggling to maintain the nationality of the Government of the United States, and the ancient renown of the Commonwealth. In the list of their living worthies, prominent among all, is the name of Thomas Leonidas Crittenden. His unshadowed patriotism, his modesty, and his courage have been signalized from the beginning of this rebellion; while his fitness for military command, and his dauntless courage were conspicuous and eminently recognized at Shiloh, Stone river, and many other battle-fields.

This Legislature has heard that he has been relieved of his command, and ordered to report to a military court, for the examination of his conduct at Chickamauga. No such court has been convened, and none, so far as they have learned, has yet been ordered. They have no doubt that the result of a fair investigation will not only exonerate him from all censure, but brighten his fame. The soldiers of Kentucky in the field urge his return, and common justice demands his trial.

Be it therefore resolved by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, That the President of the United States be, and is hereby, requested to convene a court for the investigation of the conduct of Major General Crittenden, at the earliest possible day.

To the Hon. HARRISON TAYLOR, Speaker of the House of Representatives:
Sir—I have the honor, herewith, to present to the Legislature of Kentucky, in obedience to an act of the General Assembly, approved March 2, 1863, the report of the Board of Directors of the State Agricultural Society.

L. J. BRADFORD, President.

Frankfort, December 10, 1863.

To the General Assembly of the State of Kentucky:

The Board of Directors of the State Agricultural Society, appointed Commissioners by an act of the Legislature of Kentucky, approved March 2, 1863, "to examine and report to the next General Assembly upon the advantages of various localities, and inducements offered by each, for the location of a State Agricultural College," most respectfully state, that in obedience to the requirements of said act, they met in the city of Louisville in May, 1863, and passed a resolution directing its Secretary to advertise, in various public journals, that it was prepared to receive proposals, setting forth the advantages of various localities, and inducements offered by each, for the establishment of a State Agricultural College—all proposals to be delivered to the President of the State Agricultural Society on or before the 18th day of September, 1863.

On the 18th day of September, 1863, a full Board of Directors met on the South-western Agricultural Fair Grounds, near Louisville, when the President reported to the Board that he had received only one proposition, and that was from the Trustees of Transylvania University, which is situated near Lexington.
After full consultation and deliberation, in order that every portion of the State might have full time to present its claims and advantages for the location of the Agricultural College, the Board decided to advertise again—and so authorized their Secretary—and to defer final action on the subject until their next annual meeting on the 9th day of December, 1863.

The Board met on the 9th of December, (instant,) when the President reported that no other proposals had been received by him, than those made by the Trustees of Transylvania University, and then laid before them a communication from the Hon. M. C. Johnson, Chairman of the Trustees of the University, which gives, in detail, the many and great advantages which the Trustees offer to the State, to enable it to carry out its purpose in the establishment of an Agricultural College. This communication we herewith file.

It is proper to state, that previous to the meeting referred to above, the President visited the University, and on a full examination of the buildings, grounds, and location, reported to this Board that, in his opinion, the buildings, and their construction, are admirably adapted for the purposes for which a State Agricultural College is proposed to be established, and that should the grounds (which now consist of only twenty acres) be insufficient, lands adjacent can be obtained, sufficient for all practical purposes.

The Board, therefore, have no hesitation in recommending to the General Assembly the acceptance of the proposition of the Trustees of the Transylvania University, believing that in locality and advantages none equal can be presented by any other portion of the State.

Respectfully submitted.

L. J. BRADFORD,
P. SWIGERT,
ZEB. WARD,

Committee of the Board of Directors.

Lexington, Dec. 8, 1863.

L. J. Bradford, Chair of Agr'l Committee:

$169,000 00

The Trustees propose to surrender this property to the State, to be managed in such manner as the State shall prescribe, provided, though, it shall be made the site or location of the Agricultural College, under the act of Congress. Messick, commissioner of the so-called Provisional Government of Kentucky.

§ 2. This act shall take effect from and after its passage.

Mr. Bedford moved the following joint resolutions, viz:

The honorable John Jordan Crittenden, the most distinguished of the native-born citizens of Kentucky, having departed this life since the adjournment of the legislature, it is eminently becoming that the representatives of the people should pay a grateful tribute to his memory—wherefore,

Be it resolved by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, That the State deeply feels and deplores the bereavement which, under the Providence of God, has been visited upon us in the death of the Hon. J. J. Crittenden, which event occurred in the city of Frankfort, on the—day of July, 1863.

Resolved, That in the various offices of the public trust, that he has filled in the State and nation—as a representative in the popular branch of this legislature, and as Speaker—in the Congress of the United States as a Senator, repeatedly elected to that high office, and in that august body the acknowledged peer of Clay, Webster, and Calhoun—as Attorney General of the United States, and, at the close of his career, the representative of the Ashland District in the National Assembly—in each and all of them he bore himself as to reflect back upon Kentucky, in full measure, the honors she had conferred upon him.

Resolved, That while Kentucky pays this tribute to his long and varied service to the public interests, she would be neglectful of the justice due to the memory of the man if she did not bear this public testimony to his private worth. In all that makes the true glory of our race, he was as nearly perfect as human nature can attain. He was brave to the exactest requirements of the most exact chivalry. He was generous, even to the prodigality of the freest heart. He was gentle and kind—a man who cherished no revengeful hates, and took more pleasure in forgiving than in persecuting. As a companion and friend, he was the charm of the social circles, animating all, and diffusing cheerfulness and life whenever he came. Viewed as the lawyer, the statesman, the scholar, the eloquent man, the friend, the companion, and the pure citizen, he lived a life of distinction and usefulness, and died without a stain upon his proud and glorious escutcheon.

The rule of the House requiring joint resolutions to lie one day on the table having been dispensed with, it was twice read and adopted.
Mr. Dulin moved the following resolution, viz:

Resolved by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, Two-thirds of both Houses concurring therein, that the public necessities require the prolongation of the present session beyond the period of sixty days fixed by the constitution of the State, and that when this General Assembly adjourns on the 22d day of February next, it will adjourn to meet at the Capitol on the first Wednesday in January, 1865.

Mr. Alfred Allen, from the same committee, to whom was referred the resolution offered by Mr. R. J. Browne on the 15th inst., made the following report thereon, viz:

The committee on Military Affairs, to whom was referred the resolution of the member from Washington county, (asking information in regard to the appointment of officers in the Kentucky regiments, now in the service of the United States, and with other matter therein,) for response thereto, beg leave to say: That they have made such inquiries into matters embraced in the resolution as time and the nature of their public duties permitted. They find that the general course pursued by the State authorities in the premises, has heretofore been, in the first organization of the militia into companies and regiments, for the United States service during the existing war, to cause elections to be held for the officers thereof, and then to give commissions to the officers chosen at such elections. Indeed, they have been able to find no departure from this practice. After the first organization, here spoken of, and after those troops have been mustered and sworn into the service of the United States, and have received bounty, pay, clothing, and subsistence from that government, the authorities of the State, whenever vacancies have occurred in any way, have filled those vacancies without the formality and delay of an election, but upon the recommendation of the commandants of regiments and brigades.

The committee cannot regard this course as violative of any provision in the State constitution. The provision requiring the election of certain officers in organizing the militia, has reference only to its organization in a time of peace, or for service within the State, and while it is under the exclusive control of the State authorities. Many members of the committee, indeed a majority of them, are of opinion that, so soon as the volunteers are sworn and mustered into the service of the United States, they lose their character of State militia and become soldiers of the general government, and subject to the rules and regulations governing the same, the filling of vacancies in the offices therein being a concession to the States from the general Gov-government. In support of these views see constitution United States, article 2, section 2, concerning the Executive Department of the Government: "the President shall be Commander-in-Chief of the Army and Navy of the United States, and of the militia of the several States when called into the actual service of the United States, &c.," and as such must necessarily have the power to appoint the officers thereof, and to do all things else needful in forming said militia into an effective army, without hindrance or control by the States in which the troops were raised. Under any other view of the question the Governor of the State, not the President, would be the Commander-in-Chief, for the constitution of the State makes the Governor the Commander-in-Chief of the militia. It cannot be supposed that there can be two Commanders-in-Chief of the same forces. If so, which one is the militia to obey? That the appointment of officers is a concession of power to the States from the general Government, see constitution United States, article 1, section 8, subsection 16, concerning the organization of the militia.

Others of the committee, though, claim that the troops even after being mustered into the service of the Government, are still State militia, but say that the provision of the State constitution requiring the election of officers was passed for the organization of the militia, as here-inbefore stated, in times of peace or for service of the State within the same, and while under the sole control of its own authorities.

In view of the whole subject the committee are a unit in the opinion yet, that, though some wrong may have been committed, that the course of the State authorities has resulted in great good to the cause of the Government in the present war, inasmuch as the system of electing officers to fill vacancies in regiments in the field brings about unnecessary delays, and is well calculated to prevent the proper disciplining of the regiments. The soldier presuming on early association or friendship between him and the officer, or presuming on the favor conferred in having elevated him to his military position, will rebel against a wholesome authority, and refuse to submit to that restraint so absolutely necessary to the efficiency of an army. The committee fear that any other course than that pursued might have resulted in disgrace, while under the policy adopted a new lustre has been lent to the name of our glorious old Commonwealth by her gallant sons in the field.

Wherefore, the committee deem no legislation on the subject of the resolution necessary, and ask to be discharged from its further consideration.

On motion of Mr. R. J. Browne,

The reports above are herewith submitted with the statement, that although the greater part of the work done on the building was contracted for by the commissioners, and the money paid by them without any agency of mine, yet as far as the expense has come to my knowledge, I have thought proper herewith to report it.

The commissioners, however, will make a report to the legislature in a few days, in which they will set forth the different objects for which the four thousand dollars appropriated by the last legislature were expended. They will also make a statement of the present condition of the Institution, together with its necessities and wants, to carry out more fully the benevolent design of its original founders.

I herewith present such vouchers as are in my hands; and would refer to the secretary of the board for such as were paid on his warrant, when the money did not pass through my hands. While at the same time, I must be permitted to state that in many expenditures, it was found impossible to obtain receipts.

I hereby testify, therefore, that there are no charges in these reports that are not correct, so far as they have been made by me.

WM. McD. ABBETT, Superintendent.

Mr. Hanson read and laid on the table the following joint resolution, viz:

1. Resolved by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, That Kentucky is now, as she has always been, loyal and true to the Government of the United States of America, and to the constitution and laws made in pursuance thereof.

2. That in these perilous times Kentucky has sought, with patriotic zeal, to do her whole duty to the whole country, without being swerved therefrom by the fanaticism which disregards the rights of property, and, in many instances, the dearer rights of personal security, and personal liberty, on the one hand, or by the wickedness, madness, and crime on the other, which seeks by war, rebellion, and treason to destroy the Government, the constitution, and everything that is valuable under them.

3. That we look upon the rebellion, which has desolated the country for more than two years past, as most wicked in its inception, and in its progress as treasonable, and as a high crime against christianity and civilization, and we declare that it is the imperative duty of the Government to suppress it, and for that purpose we desire that every constitutional resource of the nation, whether of men or money, or otherwise, shall be devoted with untiring zeal until the object is fully accomplished.

4. That we declare our abhorrence and unqualified condemnation of the policy of enlisting negroes in the armies of the United States, as unjust to our soldiers, degrading to our armies, humiliating to the nation, and contrary to the usages of civilized nations. This war is, on the part of the United States, the patriotic struggle of white American citizens for the preservation of their free institutions, and, in this glorious struggle, they ought to rely upon their own brave hearts, and strong arms, with unwavering confidence, and indignantly reject the co-operation of negro soldiers.

5. That slavery is a State institution, guaranteed by the constitution of the United States, and slaves are regarded as property by the laws of all the States where slavery exists, and they have been so regarded since the establishment of the Government of the United States, and in many of the States from a period long before the existence of the Government of the United States, yet, like other property, they are subject to capture and other lawful effects of war, and we do not object to their employment as laborers whenever the public service requires it.

6. That the existing civil war, into which the nation has been forced by the wickedness and treason of the rebels ought not to be waged on our part in any "spirit of oppression, or for any purpose of conquest or subjugation, or purpose of overthrowing or interfering with the rights, or established institutions of any of the States, free or slave, but to defend and maintain the supremacy of the constitution, and to preserve the Union, with all the dignity, equality, and rights of the several States unimpaired, and that as soon as these objects are accomplished the war ought to cease."

7. That the doctrine, recently announced in certain high places, that the States in rebellion are no longer States in the Union, and that, upon the subjugation of the rebellion, they should be held as territories or conquered provinces by the strong arm of the military power, and that they shall only be admitted to a place with the sisterhood of States, upon new conditions unknown to, and repugnant to the constitution of the United States, is a doctrine fraught with evil, and evil only, is in contravention of the constitution of the United States, is dangerous to the liberties of the people, destructive of the rights, dignity, and equality of the States, tending directly to a consolidation of all political power in the Federal Government, and to anarchy, and, finally, to military despotism, and it in fact recognizes the dangerous principle of the right of secession: against this doctrine we earnestly protest.

8. That the proper constitutional relations of the States in rebellion to the Government of the United States have been suspended by military force, and, whenever the military power of the rebellion is subdued, and destroyed, and the people of any of these States shall, in good faith, return to their allegiance, and to obedience to the constitution and laws of the United States, they have the constitutional right to resume their relations to the Government of the United States, as they existed before the rebellion, and any attempt to defeat or hinder this sacred right by the application of new tests and conditions, is in derogation of the constitution and ought not to be sanctioned.

9. That the Governor be requested to send a copy of these resolutions to the President of the United States, and to our Senators and Representatives in Congress to be laid before that body.

The role of the House requiring joint resolutions to lie one day on the table, being dispensed with,

Ordered, That said resolutions be referred to the committee on Federal Relations, and that the Public Printer forthwith print 150 copies thereof for the use of the members of the General Assembly.

Mr. Benton moved the following resolution, viz:

Resolved, That the committee on the Judiciary, be instructed to enquire into the validity of the grants to the various lotteries in operation acting under the authority, actual or professed, of this Commonwealth, and ascertain what legislation, if any, be necessary in regard to the subject, and to report by bill or otherwise.

Which was adopted.

Mr. Hawkins moved the following joint resolutions, viz:

Whereas, The armies of the United States, in the present war to suppress the rebellion in the Southern States, have, necessarily and rightfully, occupied the State of Kentucky, and, in doing so, have greatly damaged the property of, and otherwise injured, pecuniarily, many loyal citizens thereof by encampments being made upon farms, whereby the same have been laid waste, by the taking and using of forage and subsistence, without paying, or furnishing proper vouchers therefor; by the erection of fortifications; the destruction of ferries; the impressment of stock; and in divers other ways—all of which constitute just claims against the United States; and, whereas, in a great majority of instances those who sustain said losses, are poor persons, greatly in need of reimbursement—very many being rendered utterly penniless, and reduced to absolute want thereby; and, whereas, the mode, as at present provided by Congress, for the adjudication and payment of said claims, by prosecuting an action in the United States Court of Claims, at Washington, effectually deprives many meritorious claimants of any hope of payment, by reason of the necessary expense attending their prosecution in that court, which would, not unfrequently, exceed the amount of the claim; and, in all cases, must result in long delay, greatly to the prejudice of the interest of claimants—therefore be it

1. Resolved by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky,
That our Senators in Congress be instructed, and our members of the House of Representatives requested, to introduce and urge the passage of such a law as will afford adequate relief to the loyal sufferers within this State, either by providing for a branch Court of Claims within and for the State of Kentucky, regulated as the Court of Claims is now, by law, regulated; or by giving to the United States District Court, for the district of Kentucky, jurisdiction in such cases, and making the necessary appropriation to provide for the immediate payment of such judgments as may be awarded thereby; or, authorizing the State of Kentucky, through the medium of her own courts, to adjudicate, allow, and pay such claims, of the character aforesaid, as may be just, and providing for her reimbursement.

2. That the Governor be requested to memorialize Congress upon the matters heretofore set forth, urging attention to, and action thereon.

3. That the foregoing preamble and resolutions, together with the memorial of the Governor, be printed and a copy forwarded, by the Governor, to the President of the Senate, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, and to each of our Senators and members of Congress.

The rule of the House requiring joint resolutions to lie one day on the table, being dispensed with,

Ordered, That said resolutions be referred to the committee on Military Affairs, and that the Public Printer forthwith print 150 copies thereof for the use of the members of the General Assembly.

Mr. Sparks moved the following resolution, viz:

Resolved, That the Governor cause to be fired, on the 8th of January, 1864, a national salute of 25 rounds in honor of our national victory achieved over the British forces at New Orleans, in 1815. At the same time that the Sergeant-at-Arms of this House cause to be unfurled the national flag, with the stars and stripes.

Which was adopted.

On motion of Mr. S. B. Thomas,
Indefinite leave of absence was granted to Mr. Kinney.

A message was received from the Governor, by Mr. VanWinkle, Secretary of State, announcing that he had approved and signed sundry enrolled bills which originated in this House, of the following titles, viz:

An act for the benefit of the jailers of this Commonwealth.

affairs.

Said bill reads as follows, viz:
Whereas, It is represented to this General Assembly that because James H. Eubank, late sheriff of Barren county, was in arrears in paying the revenue of said county for the year 1862—the sum of $5,222 97—a judgment therefor was taken against him and his sureties in favor of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, at the last June term of the Franklin circuit court, and also interest on said sum from the first day of June, 1862, and $1,044 59 damages and other costs, and that execution issued thereon for said sums, which has been promptly paid off by said Eubank, except the year's interest from the first June, 1862, to rendition of said judgment of the damages; and whereas, it satisfactorily appears that said Eubank could not, with any degree of safety, proceed in the collection of the taxes of said county, because of the frequent occupation and constant invasion of said county by the rebel armies and guerrillas—therefore,

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, That Jas. H. Eubank, late sheriff of Barren county, and his sureties in his official bond, be and they are hereby released from the payment of the interest embraced in the judgment obtained against them in the Franklin circuit court, at the June term, 1863, from the first day of June, 1862, to the rendition of said judgment; and also the damages of $1,044 59 adjudged against him and said sureties in said court.

And then the House adjourned.

FRIDAY, JANUARY 8, 1864.

The Speaker, Hon. Harrison Taylor, being present, took the Chair and called the House to order.

The Speaker laid before the House a communication, in the nature of a petition, from Leslie Combs, Clerk of the Court of Appeals, as follows, viz:

Frankfort, January 1st, 1864.

To the Senate and House of Representatives:

Gentlemen—It is my duty to inform you that the office of the Clerk of the Court of Appeals is very unsafe and uncomfortable in every
There is not room enough to afford any reasonable accommodation to the hundreds of lawyers, as well as litigants, having business in court. The small back room is overcrowded with records, and the front office is only large enough to accommodate indifferently the clerk and two deputies.

I respectfully suggest, that the entire building between the office of the Secretary of State and the Register's office, be set apart for the Clerk's office of the Court of Appeals. By removing a large portion of the old records up stairs, the back room could be made comfortable for lawyers and litigants to look into their cases without overcrowding the front office, as they are now forced to do.

Over two hundred and fifty attorneys practice in this court.

By allowing the upper rooms of the Clerk's office to be occupied, as they now are, as bed rooms by persons not under my control, the public records of the State and of this office are in constant danger of destruction by fire, inasmuch as there is no fire proof department attached to the building.

I also suggest that a separate record book be provided, in which all decrees touching the title or boundary of land and other real estate should be correctly copied, as well as all executions, with the returns under which real estate has been sold, inasmuch as these form an indispensable link in the chain of title. These important papers are now only filed away in loose bundles, and liable to be lost or abstracted by persons interested in their destruction.

If the committee on the Court of Appeals will examine into these matters, I shall be much obliged, for I am convinced that a personal investigation will be more satisfactory than any written statement I can make.

I shall, at the same time, take occasion to present to them some other matters, not necessary now to specify.

Respectfully, &c.,

LESLIE COMBS, C. C. A.

Which was received, the reading dispensed with, and referred to the committee on Court of Appeals.

1. Mr. DeHaven presented the petition of the trustees of school district No. 10, in Oldham county, praying for the passage of an act for the benefit of said school district.

2. Also the petition of John Jones, asking to be released from the payment of a bond executed by him to the Commonwealth.

3. Also the petition of S. V. Reuce, asking the same relief.

4. Also the petition of W. C. Mahan, asking the same relief.

5 Mr. Lauck presented the remonstrance of James A. Dawson, Register of the Land Office, against the passage of an act prayed for in the petition of Gen. Leslie Combs.

7. Also the petition of D. L. Cunningham, Ferdinand Burch and Wm. C. Williams, praying for the passage of an act for their benefit.
8. Also the petition of B. N. Carter, praying for an increase in the fees of justices of the peace.

9. Mr. Marshall presented the petition of Jette Sterns, praying for the passage of an act to permit her to trade and transact business as a femme sole.

10. Mr. Neale presented the petition of J. M. Shackelford, of Madison county, praying compensation for the transportation of muskets for the use of the home guards of said county.

Which were received, the reading dispensed with, and referred—the 1st to the committee on Education; the 2d, 3d, 4th and 9th to the committee on the Judiciary; the 5th to the committee on the Court of Appeals; the 6th and 7th to the committee on Ways and Means; the 8th to the committee on County Courts, and the 10th to the committee on Propositions and Grievances.

A message was received from the Governor by Mr. VanWinkle, Secretary of State, as follows, viz:

Gentlemen of the Senate and House of Representatives:

Under an act of Congress, entitled, "An act to authorize the raising of a volunteer force for the better defense of Kentucky," approved Feb. 7th, 1863, and pursuant to authority of the President thereunder, a force of some eight thousand men has been raised. Under an agreement made with the Secretary of War in November last, I stayed all further recruiting under that law, and agreed, if the Government would mount this force, to undertake the defense contemplated by the act with them and the organized militia, and give up all our further recruits to fill the old regiments, and such other three years service as the Secretary of War should authorize.

I confidently relied upon an observance of the laws under which these forces were raised, and the promise given to mount them, and faithfully set to work to carry out the agreement.

Under the judicious disposition made of these forces, security and protection was assured to our suffering people, and confidence in the protection of the government again restored.

The first section of the act provides, "That the Governor of the State of Kentucky, by the consent and under the direction of the President of the United States, shall have power to raise and organize into regiments a volunteer force, not exceeding twenty thousand rank and file, to be raised within the State of Kentucky, to serve for the term of twelve months, to be employed within the limits of Kentucky in repelling invasion, suppressing insurrection, and guarding and protecting the public property: Provided, That at any time it may be necessary, in the discretion of the President of the United States, these troops may be employed out of the limits of Kentucky, against the enemies of the United States."

These troops have been ordered out of the State, and none provided to supply the defense which they give us. As it is evident that we cannot rely upon forces raised under the act of Congress to serve in Kentucky; and as the desolation of our homes must follow the removal of these forces, unless speedy provision be made, it devolves upon you to provide for the speedy organization of a State force, which will not be subject to such capricious action, as our only reliable defense.

To utter complaints is useless; whether it be right or wrong thus to remove these forces, it does no good to inquire. We are a loyal people, ready to meet our full measure of responsibility, and lend aid beyond even what the government can rightfully demand. We must keep faith, no matter who may not. We must be true to our government, and we will. We must be true to ourselves in this emergency, and should provide a permanent security against the recurrence of future dangers. It cannot serve our present needs to say that the Federal government ought to do this service. It does not do it, and complaining raises no soldiers for defense. It is action we need, and not criminations. The question is, will you provide for the defense of our people? I earnestly recommend that you do so promptly. It is our only hope, and only true reliance. All that I could do to stay this danger has been done. It is before us, and you remain the last and only power to which I can appeal for the protection of our people.

By the Governor:

THO. E. BRAMLETTE.

E. L. VanWinkle, Secretary of State.

Ordered, That the Public Printer forthwith print 150 copies thereof for the use of the members of the General Assembly, and that the same be referred to the committee on Military Affairs.

Mr. Brooks, from the committee on Enrollments, reported that the committee had examined sundry enrolled bills which originated in this House of the following titles, viz:

Mr. Alfred Allen moved the following joint resolutions, viz:

The tobacco interest of Kentucky is, at this time, its most important one, from which wealth flows to the State and general government, and comfort and prosperity to the citizen. It is a crop, the place of which, to the poor man and small farmer, cannot be supplied, for its production requires but a small territory, and a limited force. By it the poor man purchases his groceries, pay his taxes, and educates his children. It fills the treasury of the State, so that Kentucky can render efficient aid to the government in conquering the existing rebellion. It yields a large revenue to the government under the income tax laws. It takes but little, if any thing, from the production of grain, as its cultivation requires but little effort until the grain crops are out of the way. It employs women and children, who, otherwise, could be of but little service on the farm. It is a luxury, it is true, but finding its consumers abroad, it brings home the wealth of foreign lands. It supplies, (to a certain extent,) the place of gold and sterling exchange, at a time when these necessaries of commerce are so scarce and difficult to be had. And yet this legislature has heard with astonishment and dismay, that it has been recommended to the general government to put an additional tax upon the article of manufactured tobacco, and a heavy and ruinous tax on that of leaf tobacco. This policy would destroy the crop utterly, and leave no resort for the kind of farmers now engaged in its production—wherefore,

1. Resolved, by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, That an additional tax on the manufactured tobacco of the United States would result disastrously to the tobacco interest thereof, and that any tax on leaf tobacco would be injurious to the State and to the nation, and ruinous to a large portion of their citizens.

2. That this legislature earnestly remonstrates with Congress against the imposition of these or any other taxes on tobacco, whether manufactured or in leaf, and that our Senators be instructed, and our Representatives be requested, to use every effort to prevent this monstrous injustice and oppressive folly.

3. That copies of these resolutions be forwarded to each of our Senators and Representatives in Congress.

Mr. McLoed read and laid on the table the following joint resolutions, viz:

1. Resolved by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, That a terrible and desolating civil war has been waged and prosecuted for near three years, with great energy against the Government of the United States, by an armed force fighting under the guise of a Southern Confederacy, with a determination to destroy and overthrow our free institutions.

2. That we believe, if the war had been prosecuted by the Federal authorities purely upon constitutional principles against the enemies of the Government, and for its defense, without any attempt to subvert established institutions within the rebellious States, the war, before this, would have been brought to a successful termination.

3. That we recognize the difference between the administration, or party in power, and the Government—the one is for a limited time, the other was intended by the founders of the Government to endure forever.

4. That we look forward with pleasure and delight to the approaching Presidential election, of 1864, cherishing the hope that a President will be elected who will zealously guard the interest of the nation, and will recognize for his guide no other standard than the constitution itself.

5. That we receive with delight the manifestations of conservatism which seems to be springing into existence within certain States of the nation, where radicalism has been predominant since the commencement of the rebellion.

6. That we would hail with delight a clear manifestation, upon the part of the seceded States, to return in good faith to their former allegiance to the Federal Government—but we would not have them sacrifice or surrender their established institutions, of a local or domestic character; and, while we desire the leaders of the rebellion should receive the punishment they so deservedly merit, we would be willing that the deluded masses would receive full pardon and be restored to their liberty and property.

7. That Kentucky now is, and always has been, loyal to the Federal Government, and is willing that all the available resources of the nation shall be taken and used for the suppression of the rebellion.
8. That whilst we adhere to the Union and the constitution, as the only salvation for Kentucky, and are willing that the "last man and last dollar" may be taken, if necessary, to subdue and overthrow the hosts of armed traitors in rebellion against the Government, we cannot fail to express our abhorrence and condemnation of the policy of recruiting, arming, and equipping slaves and free negroes to serve as soldiers in the Federal army.

9. That we believe the ability of the Federal Government amply sufficient, if constitutionally exerted, through the white man, to suppress the rebellion and restore our nation to its former prosperity.

10. That we condemn the secession party in the South, and the Abolition party in the North, as equally dangerous and destructive to our Government, tending to the subversion and overthrow of our institutions.

11. That the foregoing resolutions are put forth in no spirit or feeling of hostility or enmity toward the administration, or party in power, but simply as a calm and deliberate sentiment of the people of Kentucky, expressed through their representatives, believing, as they do, that the present policy of the administration must materially change, in order that the war may be brought to a speedy termination, and peace and harmony reign through our nation.

The rule of the House requiring joint resolutions to lie one day on the table being dispensed with,

Ordered, That the Public Printer print 150 copies thereof for the use of the members of the General Assembly, and that the same be referred to the committee on Federal Relations.

Mr. Alfred Allen moved the following resolution, viz:

Which was adopted.

Mr. Sandidge, from the committee on Ways and Means, to whom leave was referred, reported

A bill for the benefit of Wayne county.

Which reads as follows, viz:

Whereas, It has been represented to the present General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, that owing to the geographical position of the county of Wayne, it has been invaded by rebel forces since the fall of 1861, first by Zollicoffer, and afterwards by frequent rebel raids up to the winter of 1862, when it was occupied by from three to five thousand rebel cavalry up to about the middle of June, 1863, all subsisting on the county, and taking many wagons and teams from the citizens, and sending them off loaded with provisions to supply other troops. They have taken from the county, about two thousand of the best horses of the State; nearly all the mules, cattle, hogs and sheep; killed peaceable citizens, took others to rebel prisons, drove many others from their homes, destroyed their buildings, burned their fences, laid waste their plantations, and left nothing but such broken down stock as they could not take away, to cultivate the soil, paying the citizens for nothing except in Confederate bonds, and in many instances, not that, which is worthless to them; and whereas, there has been no sheriff to collect the revenue since the year 1861, but there are executions against the sheriffs of the county prior to that time amounting to about ten thousand dollars in favor of the Commonwealth, which it is impossible for them to collect at present, owing to the deserted state of the country, its financial condition, and unsafe to do so on account of guerrillas; and whereas, the citizens of Wayne county were among the first to volunteer in defense of the Government, and at this time have several hundred in excess of their quota, who are ready to peril their lives for their country—therefore

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, That the revenue due the State on the assessment of 1862, for the county of Wayne, be and the same is hereby remitted.

Made the following report, viz:
Your committee have had under consideration the above resolution, and beg leave to be excused from the further consideration of the same, for the following reasons: your committee are of the opinion that such a correspondence would be useless; and that this honorable body would not be governed by low offers and fair promises; that a promise to do labor for the State is sometimes the best way to get the job, and look to the legislature afterwards for the increase of pay. It has not been common heretofore for the employees of our State to loose money. It is very common for them to make their complaints, and the legislature has generally paid and satisfied them. It is hard to break down old precedents be they right or wrong; your committee are of the opinion that such a correspondence would be of small benefit to the State, and have but little influence on the election of Public Printer for this State.

J. P. SPARKS, Chairman.

Mr. Herd read and laid on the table the following joint resolution, viz:

1. Resolved by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, That to the persisted agitation of the slavery question, by ultra politicians of the South, as well as of the North, we trace the source of all our national woes.

2. That Southern Secession is the natural fruit of an attempt to demand for slave property guarantees and immunities not accorded to other species of property, while Northern Abolitionism is the legitimate offspring of that legislation which would deny to slave owners the constitutional protection to which owners of all other species of property are entitled.

3. That, from first to last, Kentucky has been alike opposed to the radicalism of the South and the radicalism of the North, and that her loyalty to the Union of the States, and the preservation of republican institutions, is apart from and above any consideration of the institution of slavery or the destiny of the negro race.

4. That if slavery shall, as an incident of this unholy rebellion, perish and disappear from the land, we shall not complain, and if it shall survive the rebellion we shall not complain.

5. That Kentucky is tired of the agitation of this question, either by the partisans or the enemies of slavery, and that we believe it the part of wisdom at this time to let the whole slavery question remain just as it is.

Mr. Lowry read and laid on the table the following joint resolution, viz:

Resolved by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, That this State need make no further exhibition, by way of political resolutions, of her intense loyalty and sincere, unalterable devotion to the Union of the States. That her stand has been taken, after the maturest deliberation, is known to the world, and she will not now prove recalcitrant by taking any step backward, but will go forward with all her resources of men, money, or credit, to the support of our gal-

The rule of the House requiring joint resolution to lie one day on the table, being dispensed with.

1. The Speaker laid before the House the response of the Inspector General to a joint resolution inquiring of him the probable cost of arming, equipping and maintaining in the field for one year, 5,000 troops for the defence of the State:

HEAD-QUARTERS KY. STATE GUARD,
Inspector General’s Office,
Frankfort, Jan. 16, 1864.

Sir: As required by a resolution of the House of Representatives, I have the honor to transmit herewith an estimate of the cost of arming, equipping, and maintaining in the field for one year, a force of five thousand troops, for the defense of the State. The estimate supposes five regiments of mounted infantry, each one thousand strong in the aggregate. I am of the opinion that mounted troops, unencumbered with either infantry or artillery, will alone be found adequate to the protection of the State from guerrilla raids.

It will be observed that I have followed, in making the estimate, the plan of organization for United States troops, rather than that prescribed by our State law. While I prefer the latter as a military system—and there is little or no difference in the cost—I adopted the former, thinking that the State might be repaid by the General Government the expense it is now preparing to incur, and the claim be found, from the similarity of forms, more susceptible of adjustment. I have made the estimate for mounted troops alone, because they being the more expensive arm of the service, the sum required would be fully covered in the event it is deemed proper to have a force of mixed troops.

The accompanying report of the Quarter-Master General will show that the State has now available three thousand three hundred and eighteen (3,318) small arms of different kinds, serviceable, and five hundred and seventy-five (575) that are at present unserviceable, but can be put in condition for use, by the employees now in the service of the State, in three months’ time. The same report will show a small amount of Quarter-Master’s stores on hand, and some ammunition.

There is due the State, under the contracts made by the Quarter-Master General, four thousand (4,000) small arms, to be delivered by the 1st day of March, 1864, which, together with what is now on hand, will fully arm the force proposed in the estimate.

It perhaps would not be out of place to mention that the estimate for subsistence and forage, as well as horses and mules, is based upon the supposition that the State is to come into the market as a competitor with the General Government.

An arrangement might be effected, if not to obtain clothing, subsistence, forage, medical supplies, and camp and garrison equipage from the United States Government free of charge, certainly at the rates that the same cost them, and if so, the estimate will be very materially decreased.

I have not the resolutions of the House before me, not having been served with a copy, but I hope this may be found a full response there to.

Very respectfully, your obedient servant,

D. W. LINDSEY,
Inspector Gen’l of Ky.

Hon. HARRISON TAYLOR, Speaker of the House of Representatives.
No. 1.

Estimate for arming, equipping, supplying, and keeping in the field, for one year, Five Thousand Mounted Infantry.

On the 16th day of November, 1863, I made a contract in New York city for one thousand carbines, at $26—all of which have been received and paid for. At the time of the purchase of said carbines, I also contracted for four thousand Ballard rifles—one thousand of which (calibre 44) at $27, and the remaining three thousand (calibre 50) at $28. These four thousand guns are to be delivered in instalments—all to be delivered by the last of March next. I am informed by telegraphic dispatch that some of said rifles have been shipped to me here, and are now on the way.

Mr. Varnon, from the committee on Agriculture and Manufactures, read and laid on the table the following joint resolution, viz:
Whereas, By General Order, No. 60, issued by General Boyle, the distillation of grain in Kentucky is prohibited; and whereas, distilling merchants from Indiana, Ohio, and other States, are purchasing grain and shipping from this State for the purpose of distillation; the effect of said order being to make an unjust discrimination between the distilling merchants of this and adjoining States; and whereas, said order, in the opinion of this Legislature, acts prejudicial to the agricultural and distilling interests of Kentucky—therefore,

1. Resolved by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, That Brigadier General Ammen, the Commander of the District of Kentucky, be and he is hereby respectfully requested, if not incompatible with the public interest, to extend, modify, or rescind said order, so that Kentucky may be placed upon an equality with other States in the distillation of grain.

2. That the Speaker of the House forward a copy of this preamble and resolutions to Brigadier General Ammen.

The rule of the House requiring joint resolutions to lie one day on the table, being dispensed with.

Said resolutions were taken up, twice read, and adopted.

Mr. Lauck moved the following joint resolution, viz:

1. Resolved by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, That, in the midst of the conflict of arms forced upon the country by the secessionists of the South, Kentucky has remained true and faithful to the Federal Union, and, though differing with the Executive of the United States as to the means employed to suppress the rebellion, still believes that the war should be prosecuted with vigor, though it should require the last man and the last dollar, till the rebellion is overthrown, treason crushed, and the supremacy of the Constitution and laws of the United States be recognized and obeyed by those who sought, in rebellion, to set both at defiance.

2. That as citizens our rights under the Constitution and laws of the land have been respected, our feelings and prejudices as a people have been regarded, and kindly entertained by the present Executive of the United States, we are, therefore, of opinion that no question calculated to disturb our present status, to endanger our rights, or cause a disregard of our feelings or prejudices, should now be agitated by the General Assembly or the people of Kentucky.

The rule of the House requiring joint resolutions to lie one day on the table being dispensed with,

Ordered, That said resolutions be referred to the committee on Federal Relations, and that the Public Printer forthwith print 150 copies thereof for the use of the members of the General Assembly.

Which was granted.

Ordered, That the petition be referred to the committee on County Courts, and the leaves to the special committee on Salaries.

A message was received from the Senate, announcing that they had concurred in a resolution which originated in this House for the benefit of 4th and 6th regiments of Kentucky cavalry, with the following amendments, viz:

"In the 1st section strike out the word "Captain," and insert in lieu thereof "Major Wm." after the word "Allen," insert "Chief Paymaster," strike out "$15,000," and insert "$20,000" out of the Military Fund."

Said amendments were taken up, twice read, and concurred in.

The yeas and nays being required thereon by the constitution, were as follows, viz:

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, That the sum of seventy-eight thousand six hundred and ninety-three dollars, be and is hereby appropriated for the purpose of reconstructing the Western Lunatic Asylum, and the further sum of five thousand dollars for the purpose of furnishing the house when occupied.

§ 2. The sum shall be paid upon the warrant of the Auditor of Public Accounts to the Board of Managers of said Asylum, in quarterly installments, commencing 1st of April, 1864.

§ 3. This act shall take effect from its passage.

Mr. Brooks, from the committee on Enrollment, reported that the committee had examined an enrolled resolution which originated in this House, for the benefit of 4th and 6th regiments of Kentucky cavalry.

The House then resumed the consideration of the amendment offered by Mr. Shanklin to the amendment offered by Mr. Benton, to the Senate bill, entitled,

An act empowering the Governor to raise a force for the defence of the State.

After considerable discussion thereon,

Mr. Bedford moved the previous question.

And the question being taken, "shall the main question be now put?" it was decided in the affirmative.

The question was then taken on the adoption of Mr. Shanklin's amendment, and it was decided in the negative.

The question then came up on Mr. Benton's amendment, which reads as follows, viz:

Amend the 1st section of the bill by adding the following, viz: Provided, Said troops shall not be raised until the full quota assigned to Kentucky, under the several calls by the Executive of the United States shall have been furnished: And provided further, That the

§ 2. § 7. It shall be the duty of the Governor when the forces, or any portion thereof raised under the provisions of this act, are mustered into the service of the State, to report the number and term of service, and ask of the General Government a credit on the present call for 300,000 additional troops, or any future call upon this State.

§ 8. This act to take effect from its passage.

The rule of the House, constitutional provision, and third reading of said bill having been dispensed with.

Mr. Ward moved to amend said bill by adding thereto the following engrossed clause by way of rider, viz:
§ 9. That if said troops shall be raised by draft, they shall be drawn from the different counties with a view to equality in number upon the quotas due from each county to the General Government.

And the question being taken thereon it was decided in the affirmative.

Mr. S. B. Thomas moved the previous question.

And the question was then taken, "shall the main question be now put?" and it was decided in the affirmative.

The main question was then put, shall the bill pass? and it was decided in the affirmative.

The yeas and nays being required thereon by Messrs. Lowry and Curtis, were as follows, viz:

The House then took up the report of the joint committee appointed to memorialize Congress upon the proposed tax upon leaf tobacco.

Said report reads as follows, viz:

The joint committees of the Senate and House of Representatives, who were directed to memorialize Congress in reference to the proposed tax on leaf tobacco, and to whom were referred resolutions on the same subject, while regretting the absence of statistical tables to more fully elucidate the prejudicial character of such an impost duty, beg leave to report their views in such general terms as they trust will clearly define the impolicy of any taxation on leaf tobacco.

It was forcibly set forth in the preamble to a series of resolutions which passed the House of Representatives, that:

"The tobacco interest of Kentucky, is at this time its most important one, from which wealth flows to the State and General Government, and comfort and prosperity to the citizen. It is a crop the place of which, to the poor man and small farmer, cannot be supplied, for its production requires but a small territory, and a limited force. By it the poor man purchases his groceries, pay his taxes, and educates his children. It fills the treasury of the State, so that Kentucky can render efficient aid to the government in conquering the existing rebellion. It yields a large revenue to the government under the income tax laws. It takes but little, if any thing, from the production of grain, as its cultivation requires but little effort until the grain crops are out of the way. It employs women and children, who, otherwise, could be of but little service on the farm. It is a luxury, it is true, but finding its consumers abroad, it brings home the wealth of foreign lands. It supplies, (to a certain extent,) the place of gold and sterling exchange, at a time when these necessaries of commerce are so scarce and difficult to be had. And yet this legislature has heard with astonishment and dismay, that it has been recommended to the general government to put an additional tax upon the article of manufactured tobacco, and a heavy and ruinous tax on that of leaf tobacco. This policy would destroy the crop utterly, and leave no resort for the kind of farmers new engaged in its production."

But the evils to result from the proposed policy are not merely local to our State—they will be felt all over the country, as tobacco is now grown in nearly every State in the Union, and its production is rapidly on the increase. The suggested tax finds no advocates but those who have large stocks on hand, and might expect immense profits should it be adopted. The growers and exporters universally regard it as a ruinous policy, tending to destroy a great agricultural interest of the country, so far as the supply of any foreign demand is concerned. The commercial papers of our large sea-board cities take this view of it, and we are indebted to them, and especially to a writer in the New York Journal of Commerce, for many of the facts and data which your committee will find useful to embody in this report. One of the arguments thus adduced is, that if it were possible to compel foreign nations to use our tobacco, notwithstanding its much advanced price, the proposed measure might work well, and add greatly to our National revenue, but the laws of trade are inevitable, and will show that should the cost of the article be increased by the intended tax, our exports of tobacco would dwindle down to a mere fraction of what they have heretofore been. Europe grows as much tobacco as the United States, and France stimulates the culture in Algeria, so that one recent year's crop was estimated as equal to 12,000 hogsheads of Kentucky tobacco. The staple is also raised in Macedonia, Alsace, the Palatinate, Holland, European and Asiatic Russia, Poland, and Hungary. The importance of all these crops, in the aggregate, may be estimated from the fact that Hungary alone raised in one year a crop equal to a large Western leaf crop, or 100,000 hogsheads Kentucky growth. The Austrian Government, formerly a large consumer of American tobacco, has of late supplied its wants mostly from Hungary, and that country has lately sold tobacco to some extent to France and Italy, as a substitute for the Virginia growth.

In most of the districts named the culture of tobacco is kept down by Government control, which would be relaxed if increased crops should become desirable under the influences of an advance in the prices of the American article; so in many of the German States, where the culture is now limited, a small impetus would stimulate its increase largely.

But in considering the world's product of tobacco, as the rival source of supply to ours, the growths of the West Indies and South America assume great importance. In Bremen alone, in the year 1862, there were sales of 69,965 bales Colombia tobacco; 40,490 of St. Domingo; 18,710 of Cuba, and 39,310 of Brazil; while the sales of North American, in the same space, were of Maryland and Ohio 18,016 hogsheads; Western leaf 11,565, and Virginia 866. Taking the average weight of a hogshead at 1,100 pounds, and of bales at 150 pounds, it will be seen that the sales of South American and West India tobacco were larger than of North American.

Bremen is the principal market for our tobacco, while Hamburg imports about as much of the West Indian and South American kinds as Bremen, and none of ours at all, which shows that the German consumption is supplied to a greater extent from the West Indies and South America than from the United States.

Other foreign crops of tobacco come from Manilla and Java, and in 1862 there were in Amsterdam and Rotterdam sales of 60,000 bales of Java tobacco.

The statistician who has presented these important items of information, in regarding the influence which a tax on our leaf tobacco would have in such open markets of Europe, cannot question that the proposed increase would be equivalent to its prohibition. The advance of the last two years, brought about by natural causes, and from the increased rate of exchange — amounting to perhaps 50 per cent. — curtailing last year's sales in Bremen considerably, and it was the opinion of merchants there, expressed to their correspondents in New York, that Kentucky tobacco would not regain its former proportions in the consumption, unless it could be bought for export here at from four to five cents in gold for lugs. This is evident, for Porto Rico tobacco, which is preferred for smoking, can be bought in Bremen at seven and a half groats, while Kentucky and Maryland, of ordinary grades, could not be sold at less than nine to ten cents without loss. Seed leaf tobacco is almost exclusively exported to Bremen, where it came into use when it could be imported for less than Domingo. This year’s prices having increased about 50 per cent., the sales were quite small, and left a loss on American quotations, so that a good deal of it was re-shipped to New York.

To the assertion that the Governments of France, Italy, and Spain will be compelled to buy our tobacco in any event, it has been replied, as showing its fallacy, that Governments do not act differently from individuals, and will buy where they can get the article cheapest. If they are asked thirty cents for our tobacco, they will take European, West Indian, and South American, which costs them about ten cents per pound. A small difference in price is sometimes sufficient to make the governments change from one kind to another, and it is well known to the trade that Maryland tobacco was shipped largely to Spain, when Kentucky was comparatively higher in price. The difference of these two kinds is certainly as marked as that between any other growths. European Governments derive a good income from their monopolies, but the proposed tax would debar us from being sellers to them. They can get an article, not the growth of our country, for ten cents, while ours would cost them thirty cents. Of course they would simply drop ours, and buy other kinds. They have a large stock on hand now, bought at low prices, and some of them keep a large advance supply always on hand, to guard against the fluctuations caused by a sudden advance in prices. It is computed that the stock in the European markets is now over 60,000 hogsheads, which is a heavier amount than was held at corresponding periods in 1858-59-60, when the large Virginia crops were still accessible. This is conclusive evidence that the consumption of our tobacco has already diminished in Europe, and does not need artificial measures to kill it entirely.

As to taxing manufactured tobacco, it can have little or no influence in our export trade, for our cigar-makers cannot compete with the low wages of Europe, and it is computed that our home manufacturers pay six times as much as the European factories, while chewing is almost unknown on the continent, and but few boxes of manufactured brands are sent out, annually, to continental sea ports for the use of American sailors.

It seems, from all these facts, to be a self-evident proposition, that the proposed tax, or any tax on leaf tobacco, would entirely prevent the receipt of revenue from its exports, while it is stated in official publications from the Bureau of Internal Revenue, that tobacco now yields something more than $3,000,000 per annum, and ought to be $6,000,000 were it not that enormous frauds have been perpetrated. If proper precautions are taken to prevent these frauds, the revenue will be more largely benefited than by the export tax on leaf; even if the foreign demand should not be diminished, while we have shown that it will be completely cut off, and its place supplied by the growth of foreign counties.

The tax would be ruinous to the tobacco raiser, for it is established that from two-thirds to three-fourths of all our growth has heretofore gone to foreign countries, and to that extent the planters would have to diminish their crops. The tax would be injurious to the grower, to the Government, and to the general community, because it would ab-
Abstract the price of all exports paid in gold from us, and make the rate of exchange against us still greater. The tax would be fatal to every person engaged in the tobacco business, through all its variations, and it would be a calamity to Kentucky, the extent of which we cannot estimate, and the effects of which we do not dare to contemplate.

Your committee present to you, as an appendix to their report, a carefully prepared document, emanating from the tobacco dealers of Louisville, through a committee of their number, marked A, and also a letter from a well known and extensive Kentucky tobacco dealer, on the same subject, marked B; though these, in some particulars, embrace the same line of argument which your committee have followed from the data for which they have heretofore given credit, still they are particularly valuable as expressing the sentiments of Kentuckians engaged in the purchase, manufacture, forwarding and export of the staple.

Another letter from a Louisville manufacturer says: "If we are to have a duty on the weed, let it be put on the manufactured, for leaf cannot be raised if there should be a heavy duty put on it, only to a very limited extent; but an additional duty on manufactured would not prevent its being made, and would be the proper place to put it. I speak against my own interest, but these are times to look to the good of our country." This patriotic remark will undoubtedly find a response, hearty and prompt, throughout our State and the country, and indicates that while Kentucky shrinks from no burden of taxation, which the necessities of the Government require, and is ready to make sacrifices in assuming that burden; still prudent foresight and wise statesmanship, suggest that we should not commit the folly of "killing the goose that lays the golden egg." We have a staple which can yield a handsome revenue to the Federal treasury, if duties are judiciously imposed upon it; and it would be sheer insanity for Congress to shape its legislation in such a manner as to render our large tobacco crop valueless as a source of revenue, cut down the incomes which are also subject to taxation, and destroy a branch of agricultural industry which, if properly fostered, or rather if not harshly dealt with, cannot fail to prove a great source of profit to small capitalists and persons in indigent circumstances, who hold the fee of a few acres of land.

Your committee therefore beg leave to recommend the adoption of the following joint resolutions, viz:

Resolved by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, That this legislature earnestly remonstrates with Congress against the imposition of any tax on leaf tobacco; and our Senators are instructed, and our Representatives are requested, to use every effort to prevent this monstrous injustice and oppressive folly.

Resolved, That the Governor cause copies of this report and resolutions to be forwarded to each of our Senators and Representatives.

HENRY D. McHENRY, Chairman.
WM. ANTHONY,
P. L. CLEVELAND,
GIBSON MALLORY,
ASA P. GROVER.

Senate Committee.
Report of the committee appointed by the tobacco trade of the city of Louisville, Ky., to consider the tax on leaf tobacco as proposed to Congress by the Secretary of the Treasury.

Your committee have, as far as practicable with such data as they possess, considered the recommendation of Secretary Chase to impose a tax on leaf tobacco, and beg leave to submit some of the facts and reasons which convince them of the impolicy and impracticability of the proposition:

In the adjustment of revenue laws the statesman knows that certain classes of articles require to be delicately handled, whilst others will bear a very heavy pressure. The generally conceded principle is that all classes of luxuries may be taxed, and ought to be much more heavily taxed than necessaries of life. But the distinction between these classes is not at all times readily drawn. Many articles now deemed necessaries, and so recognized by our revenue laws, were once classed with luxuries and taxed accordingly. It is admitted that tobacco, as an article of consumption, is a luxury. But may the crop of leaf tobacco of the United States now, or at any time, be properly classed with luxuries for the purpose of taxation? We think not, for the following reasons: The chief value of this crop arises from its export demand. Taking a series of ten years, the estimated annual yield of tobacco in the United States may be reckoned a fraction over two hundred thousand hogsheads, or two hundred and fifty million pounds. About one-fourth of this is consumed at home, while the remaining three-fourths is exported principally to the various markets of Europe. Thus it is seen that three-fourths of the entire crop does not partake of the character of a luxury, with us, but is simply an article of commerce, and represents annually some twenty millions of dollars in the adjustment of our exchanges with Europe.

But it may be asked: Will not Europe still take our surplus with an export duty on it and pay the tax where the article is consumed? This is the main question involved in Secretary Chase's proposition. And we doubt not those who may advocate this tax are misled by the axiom in Political Economy that "the consumer pays the tax." Will the foreign consumer pay it in this instance, is now the question to be determined. If this question can be satisfactorily answered in the affirmative, there is no room for any further discussion. But if the statistics of the trade should show that the effect of an export duty would effectually blockade all foreign markets; or, in other words, that we should have no export demand for our surplus, the Government would not only fail in deriving the anticipated revenue, but one of the leading agricultural staples would be lost to the country for want of a market.

In arriving at a satisfactory answer to the question "will the consumer in Europe pay the tax proposed," it is necessary for us to know the quantity consumed and the sources of supply. If it were true that we furnished all this supply then we might follow it with a tax. Or if we can produce the article cheaper than other countries, still we might tax it to the extent of the difference in the cost of production. But another hypothesis is true. We by no means monopolize the growth of the "weed," nor produce it cheaper than other countries. It is estimated that the annual consumption in Europe is in round numbers about six hundred million pounds. Of this amount the United States furnished about one-fourth when the average price in this country was about seven cents per pound, which is considered a fair average for the last ten years. But without any tax we are losing ground in those markets, under the competition of the substitutes furnished by Europe, Asia, and Africa.

Reliable statistics show our total export in 1860 to be 170,632 hogsheads, while in 1862 it was only 98,368 hogsheads. This falling off was owing in part to the failure to get out the crop of Virginia. With this heavy falling off in our exports the rational presumption would be a corresponding depression of the stocks in Europe, and a greatly increased demand for American tobaccos. But the contrary is true. In 1862 their stocks were heavier than they had been for ten years, except in 1860 and 1861; and what is still more remarkable the present stocks of American tobaccos in foreign markets are larger than in former years. Thus showing that Europe is very rapidly becoming independent of us in this important trade.

Substitutes are already found in the Old World for all the grades and classes of American tobaccos except, perhaps, the very rich heavy article known in the markets as "Clarksville." Stimulated by our national troubles every effort is being made, seconded and encouraged by the ruling powers of our trans-Atlantic customers, to produce at home, or within their own dominions, substitutes for all our leading staples. With these facts before us, and with our great staple, tobacco, thus struggling to maintain its position in those markets, and perceptibly losing ground, would it be wise to cripple its struggles by subjecting it to an export duty? Surely not. Such a course would, in our judgment, at once stop the export movement of the article just where the tax finds it. This being true, its cultivation would cease; of course, except for home consumption, which we have seen does not require one-fourth of the amount now produced. We cannot believe that Congress, after a full investigation of the whole subject, will deem the demands of the treasury so urgent as to hazard so important an interest as the tobacco crop, by adopting the Secretary's recommendation.

While we cheerfully concede it the duty of every citizen to sustain the constituted authorities in all their efforts to preserve the Government in its unity, integrity, and dignity, we think that justice requires that the burdens should be equitably distributed, and that no one class, especially a producing class, should be crushed, nor unreasonably burdened by taxation, however urgent the demands for revenue.

In behalf of the cultivators and all others interested in the tobacco crop of the United States, we respectfully commend the foregoing facts and suggestions to the calm and earnest attention of Congress, relying upon the wisdom and justice of the representatives of the people, to save from destruction one of the chief articles of export, by exempting leaf tobacco from the burden of taxation.

Respectfully, &c.,

I am opposed to the experiment, for I think we can see the end from the beginning. The planter cannot pay a tax on leaf without an increase of the price is plain without further discussion. I do not believe either that foreign governments will pay a remunerative price and this proposed duty also, except for fine select tobaccos, such as cannot be substituted. The royalty tax of some of those European governments, of which you speak, I anticipated at first would be the main ground on which the advocates of this policy would stand; and I have stated that our government could not make a monopoly of the kind unless we could consume all that we produced.

That not being the case, we were dependent on a foreign demand to take our large surplus as a very natural consequence. And now let us look at the relative amount of our exportation of tobacco, compared with receipts from the interior, as reported at our principal ports. I have not at hand all the statistics to make an accurate estimate, but can come sufficiently near it for our purpose. We will take the year 1859 or 1860 which vary but little. There was received in New Orleans, in 1860, 80,955 hogsheads; New York, 12,253 hogsheads; Baltimore 2,010; Philadelphia 1,429; total, 96,638. I have not the amounts received at Boston or Richmond, nor have I the amounts exported from all of those ports; but there was received at New Orleans, in 1860, 80,955 hogsheads, and exported to foreign ports 73,241 hogsheads. In 1859, New Orleans exported to foreign ports 73,729 hogsheads. If I had the amounts exported from the other ports above, it would augment this amount considerably, though they did not export proportionately so much as New Orleans. But this is sufficient to show the magnitude of the amounts we exported, which you may say composed our surplus, amounting to about three-fourths of the above estimate; and, if a duty is affixed that will affect this foreign demand, and this surplus is to find a market at home, there will not be sufficient demand for it to make it bring enough to pay the duty. And lest there are some who are incredulous enough to think this duty will not materially affect the foreign demand, I will give one extract from a circular of Clagett, Brachi & Co., brokers in London, relative to the increased use of substitutes for American tobacco and the production of European growth.

"If we look to South America, we find a great stimulus must have been given to production in Paraguay and Brazil, judging alone by the increased quantities recently sent to Europe. But after all, it is to the tobacco producing districts of Europe and Algiers to which attention must be turned, if it is desired to solve the mystery how, at the expiration of two and a half years since the closing of the expensive producing districts of the seceded American States, not only have the great European communities been supplied throughout with all they have required for their wants, but even now show no symptom of suffering from scarcity. The fact is, but little is known of the enormous extent to which the article is grown on the European continent, and the productive powers of Holland, Germany, Hungary, Turkey and Greece have undoubtedly been far too lightly estimated, and it is to be regretted we have not the means of ascertaining the extent of the production to series of years. We are informed by recent visitors to the Imperial factories in France the use of American tobacco is wonderfully diminished, the cut article being composed largely of Algerian, Alsatian, Hungarian and other European growths, a slight improvement to the flavor being obtained by the admixture of Brazil, Porto Rico, and such similar descriptions, that have been ruling low in value for some time. In Austria, where the next great Continental monopoly exists, there is reason to believe the want of American has been supplied by the more free use of the growths of Hungary, also combined, as in France, with a proportion of Brazil, &c., of which from time to time large purchases by their agents in the ports of Hamburg and Bremen have been reported. In Italy, Spain and Portugal, so far as can be ascertained, an increased quantity of European growths has likewise been used, but owing to their peculiar requirements, perhaps more real inconvenience has been experienced, through the scarcity of rich, dark, high flavored descriptions, than in any other portion of the Continent. In the Northern European countries, including the United Kingdom, where the trade is left open to private enterprise on payment of custom duties more or less onerous, no difficulty whatever has hitherto been found in obtaining ample supplies of common cutting sorts, although many great and singular changes have occurred, as in Holland for instance, from whence we have drawn much of their own production, in addition to large quantities of Java, replaced their by the inferior growths of the interior of Germany, which in turn it is believed have been again compensated by the use of leaves of plants and trees, as occurred some years since, during a period of scarcity and high prices. In addition to the European growths, some assistance has been derived from the East Indies, China, and Japan, and had it not been for the enormous cost of transport, supplies of great magnitude could have been obtained. It is therefore evident the only class of tobacco in which any real dearth has been felt is the fine, high flavored strong Virginia growth, the want of which has been to a partial extent supplied by the better classes of Kentucky and Missouri, and such are daily becoming more and more difficult to obtain; but it is now clear that in all future calculations as to the probable course of price of the ordinary classes of tobacco, a far wider base must be adopted, and account will have to be taken, not as heretofore of the probable extent of the growing American crops, but those of all the other parts of the world where the plant is now so largely cultivated. In Holland and Germany, during the recent hot weather, great fears were felt of serious injury to the growing crops; subsequent rains have, however, considerably improved their prospects. The Hungarian crop is reported to have received irretrievable injury from drought, and it is stated will not exceed one-fifth of last year's, which, however, was unusually large."

From this an idea can be formed of the magnitude of the European growth and substitutes, which would be greatly increased as American tobacco became enhanced, as would of course be the result of this proposed duty, and would soon become in a manner independent of us. Then, as a consequence, our foreign demand falls off; our supplies left on hands without a demand, which, as a necessary consequence, would have the effect to cut short, and, for a time, perhaps, stop its cultivation.

Yours, truly,
W. B. WILSON.

Mr. Kinney read laid on the table the following joint resolution, viz:

Whereas, Many Kentuckians who had enlisted and served in the rebel army, or had been instrumental in inducing others to enter the service of the "Confederate States," or had otherwise given aid and comfort to the rebels against the United States Government, have been permitted to return to their homes in Kentucky; and whereas, the presence of some of those returned, unrepealing rebels, is detrimental to the public interest, and offensive to the loyal citizens—therefore,

Resolved, That the President of the United States be earnestly requested not to pardon any Kentucky rebel and permit him to return to this State, except his application be first approved by the Governor of Kentucky.

Mr. T. R. Taylor moved the following resolution, viz:

Whereas, Circumstances have brought about special legislation to an extent which renders it impossible for the sheriffs or collecting officers of the State taxes to understand truly the laws in regard to the collection of taxes, and as they will have to assume heavy additional responsibilities on account of the prospective increase of the taxes, and the tax-payers will be naturally anxious, fully to understand what the legislature has done in regard to the probable increased tax that will come upon them—therefore,
Resolved, That the Speaker of this House is requested to appoint a select committee of five to take in consideration the propriety of changing the time for collecting and paying in the revenue of this Commonwealth; and that said committee report by bill or otherwise, on or before Saturday, 30th January, 1864.

Which was adopted.

Mr. Sparks read and laid on the table the following joint resolutions, viz:

Whereas, There are numerous persons in the State of Kentucky, and other States of the United States, called and known as free negroes, generally of little use to themselves, and in the way of the white people, and dangerous and ruinous to the slaves of this State, or of any other slaveholding State of the Union; and whereas, There is an inclination in some persons called Abolitionist to steal and entice away from labor the slaves of this State, and other slaveholding States of this Union, and in some of the States of this Union said slaves or free negroes are allowed and permitted to vote for persons who are candidates for office of honor and profit in said States; and whereas, If said slaves knew or believed that they were to be sent off from the United States to some foreign land, they would have no disposition to run off from their masters, and Abolitionists or negro stealers learning and knowing that slaves or free negroes could not remain among them or in any of the States of this Union, these would have little or no disposition to steal and entice away from labor the slaves of their masters—therefore, in order to remedy the above evils complained of in the foregoing preamble,

1. Resolved by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, That the President of the United States purchase a suitable territory or territories as a home and a permanent place of abode for all of the free negroes who are now free, and all who may hereafter become free, in all of the States of this Union, North, South, East and West, and that the aforesaid free negroes be transported or migrated to said territory, as a permanent home for their future residences, under the care and protection of the Government and flag of the United States.

2. That the sales of the proceeds of the public lands be set apart as a fund to carry into effect the objects of the foregoing preamble and resolution.

3. That the Governor of this State send a copy of the foregoing preamble and resolutions to the President of the United States, and to all of the Governors of the United States, and to each of our Senators and Representatives in Congress.

Ordered, That the Public Printer forthwith print 150 copies thereof for the use of the members of the General Assembly.

Mr. Chandler moved the following resolution, viz:

Resolved by the House of Representatives, That the Public Printer is hereby instructed to print 500 copies of the report of the joint committee to whom was referred the subject in relation to the proposed...
Federal tax on leaf tobacco, in addition to the number of copies already ordered to be printed, for the use and benefit of the members of this House.

And the question being taken on its adoption, it was decided in the negative.

Mr. Chandler read and laid on the table the following joint resolution, viz:

Resolved by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, That the two Houses of this legislature will adjourn sine die, on Friday, 5th day of February, 1864.

Mr. McLeod moved the following resolution, viz:

Whereas, It appears to this House that numerous leaves are asked by members of the same to bring in bills; and whereas, it appears in many cases that no bill or bills are presented to the committee to whom the leave was referred—therefore, be it

Resolved by the House of Representatives, That hereafter, instead of asking leave to bring in bills, the bills themselves shall be presented to the House, read at the clerk’s desk by their title, and then referred to the proper committees.

And the question being taken on its adoption, it was decided in the negative.

Mr. R. J. Browne read and laid on the table the following joint resolution, viz:

Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives, That the present session of the General Assembly be, and the same is hereby extended beyond the constitutional limits of sixty days.

The rule of the House requiring joint resolutions to lie one day on the table, being dispensed with,

Said resolution was taken up, twice read, and rejected,

The constitution requiring a vote of two-thirds of all the members elected in its favor.

The yeas and nays being required thereon by Messrs. Neale and Sandidge, were as follows, viz:

An act to revise, amend and reduce into one the common school laws of Kentucky.
Said bill reads as follows, viz:

ARTICLE I.

SCHOOL FUND.

1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, That the school fund is the fund dedicated by the constitution and the laws of this Commonwealth to sustain a system of common schools therein.

§ 2. The Auditor shall keep the accounts in relation to this fund. He shall, once in each month, make a transfer to the credit of said fund of all receipts into the treasury for the benefit of the common schools of the State, up to the date of such transfer. He shall allow no expenditures on that account beyond the annual revenue of the fund, and see that no county draws more than its proper proportion.

§ 3. Annually, as soon after the 15th day of February as practicable, he shall apportion the revenue of the fund among the several counties of the State, according to the number of free white children in each between the ages of six and twenty years, as shown by the returns of the assessor in his office, or the reports of the school commissioners to the Superintendent of Public Instruction, whichever is the greater in each county. If in any year the returns be not in by the 15th day of February, he shall use the returns of the last preceding year. He shall at the same time, apportion the shares of each county among the several school districts thereof in which a common school shall have been actually taught in that year, according to law, in proportion to the number of free white children in each district between the ages of six and twenty years, as shown by the report of the school commissioner to the Superintendent of Public Instruction for that year, and, if no such report be in, then as shown by the report of that officer for the last preceding year.

§ 4. The net revenue of the fund is the sum to be distributed, and whatever expenses may be incurred, according to law, by the Board of Education, shall be first paid out of the gross revenue, and no part of said income shall be expended in establishing or sustaining any school or seminary other than common schools, in each county.

§5. The revenue of the school fund, and the proceeds of all taxes levied in aid thereof, together with all fines and forfeitures inflicted or granted for the benefit of the common schools of the State, shall be paid into the treasury, but shall never be drawn out or appropriated otherwise than pursuant to this chapter, in aid of common schools.

§6. On or before the 1st day of July, 1864, the Board of Education shall transfer to the Commissioners of the Sinking Fund, the surplus due the several counties of the State, for the several years intervening between the date of the last transfer of surplus and the aforesaid 1st day of July, 1864, and to this sum shall be added the surplus heretofore transferred, and for which bonds were issued by the Governor, bearing date, respectively, August the 23d, 1855, and February the 23d, 1857; these bonds canceled, and one new bond issued by the Governor for the whole amount of surplus due the counties for common school purposes, with a detailed statement of the amount due each county. In canceling the bonds referred to, dated, respectively, August the 23d, 1855, and February the 23d, 1857, the interest which shall have accrued, and remained unpaid, shall be set apart and credited to the counties of the State, entitled to draw it, and at the next regular apportionment and distribution, of the revenue of the school fund of the State to the several counties thereof, shall be added the distributable share of the counties of the State, entitled to draw it, and paid out at the same time and in the same way in which said distributable share is paid out. After the cancellation of these bonds, there shall never be more than one bond in existence at one and the same time, for surplus due the counties; but, annually, thereafter, on the same day of the same month on which this first cancellation takes place, a new transfer of surplus shall be made by the Board of Education to the Commissioners of the Sinking Fund, the existing bond canceled, and a new bond issued for the whole amount of balances due the counties, with a detailed statement as heretofore mentioned.

§7. This bond shall not be transferrable, shall be redeemable at the pleasure of the legislature, and shall bear six percent interest.

§8. The interest on this bond accruing to the credit of each county shall, from year to year, be apportioned among the several districts thereof, in which common schools shall have been taught according to law, in the same manner in which the revenue of the general school fund is apportioned among them, and being added to the distributable share of the county from the revenue of the general fund shall be paid out at the same time with said distributable share.
§ 9. The laws now in force by which a tax of five cents on every hundred dollars worth of property in the State is raised for common school purposes, and by which all the laws giving to the prosecutor or informer, other than the Commonwealth’s Attorney, in an action for the recovery of money lost at gaming, any portion of the forfeiture, or any part of the penalty for gaming consequent upon conviction, were repealed, and all monies so forfeited, after the payment of the necessary cost of prosecution, that went to the informer or prosecutor, other than the Commonwealth’s Attorney, were appropriated to the use and benefit of the common school fund of this Commonwealth, together with any and all laws in aid of said fund, are hereby continued in force.

§ 10. When the Auditor of Public Accounts shall be informed that any donation, gift, or devise of any real or personal estate shall have been made to the common school fund of Kentucky, it shall be the duty of the Auditor to appoint some discreet person, who shall take charge of the personal or real estate so granted, devised, or donated, and sell and dispose of the same, and pay the proceeds into the treasury of Kentucky. Before said agent, so appointed by the Auditor, shall proceed to act, he shall give a bond with good security, to the Commonwealth, for the faithful discharge of his duties as agent. Said bond shall be given in the county in which the donor, grantor, or devisor, shall have died, or in the county in which the property is situated, the bond to be executed in, and approved by the county court. The person so appointed shall make a settlement with the county court of his county once in each year, and shall pay into the treasury the amount found in his hands after said settlement. The court shall allow said person a reasonable compensation for collecting and paying over said money, which amount said person shall retain in his hands out of the money collected. For any failure of the person so appointed to discharge the duties under this act, he and his securities shall be liable to all damages sustained, and for all money collected, with twenty per cent. damages on the amount so collected, and which he has failed to pay over. The suit on the bond shall be in the name of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, and shall be instituted by the Commonwealth’s Attorney. 2. That it is unnecessary at this juncture for Kentucky to re-assert her loyalty to the Government of the United States, her acts, in her legislative councils, and the prowess of her gallant soldiers in nearly every battle field in the southwest have attested it, and that Kentucky, in the line of patriotic duty, and devotion to the unity of the States, knew no backward step, but will continue, hereafter as heretofore, to if need be, make fresh sacrifices for the cause in which she has embarked—the cause of liberty, equality, and justice to all the States in the Union and not out of it, in obedience to, and not in defiance of the national constitution.

3. That Kentucky stands unalterably opposed to the enlistment of negroes in the Federal armies, anywhere and particularly in Kentucky, believing that it will disgrace the service, increase the difficulties of final adjustment, and prolong the war, and with these views, while she will not resist unconstitutional acts by unconstitutional acts, we deem that the honor and interest of the State demands that she will resent such enlistments within her courts by all constitutional means at her command.

Mr. Alfred Allen, from the committee on Federal Relations, to whom had been referred sundry resolutions, reported the following resolutions in lieu thereof, viz:

1. Resolved by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, That the General Assembly reaffirms and readopts, as a fair expression of its political views on the subjects embraced therein, the series of resolutions on National affairs adopted by the legislature of 1863, and approved March 2nd, of that year.

2. That it is unnecessary, at this late day, for Kentucky to reassert her loyalty to the government of the United States; her acts in her legislative councils, and the prowess of her gallant soldiers on nearly every battle field in the South-west have attested it. Kentucky, in the line of patriotic duty and devotion to the unity of the States, takes no backward step, but will continue hereafter as heretofore, to make fresh sacrifices, if need be, for the cause in which she has embarked—the cause of Liberty, Equality and Justice, to all the States in the Union, and not out of it, in obedience to, and in defiance of, the National constitution.

3. That Kentucky stands unalterably opposed to the enlistment of negroes in the Federal armies, believing that it will degrade the service, increase the difficulties of final adjustment, and prolong the war, and with these views, while she will not resist unconstitutional acts by unconstitutional acts, we deem that the honor and interest of the State demand that she will oppose such enlistment within her limits by all constitutional means at her command.

4. That the doctrine recently announced, that the States now in rebellion are no longer States in the Union, and that upon the overthrow of the rebellion, they should be held as conquered provinces, by the strong arm of military power, and that they shall only be admitted to a place in the sisterhood of States upon new conditions, unknown to and repugnant to the constitution of the United States, is a doctrine fraught with evil and evil only, is in contravention of the Federal constitution, is dangerous to the liberties of the people, destructive of the rights, dignity, and equality of the States, tending directly to a consolidation of all political power in the Federal Government, to anarchy, and finally to military despotism, and recognizing in fact the dangerous principle of the right of secession; against this doctrine we earnestly protest.

5. That the constitutional relations of the States in rebellion to the General Government, have been suspended by the criminal invocation of military force, by their own people, and when that is subdued and the people of any of the States in rebellion, shall, in good faith, return to their allegiance to the constitution and laws of the United States, they have the constitutional right to resume their relations to the General Government as they existed before the rebellion, and any attempt to hinder or defeat this sacred right, by the application of new tests and conditions, is in derogation of the constitution and ought not to be sanctioned.
6. That copies of these resolutions be forwarded to the President of the United States, and to our Senators and Representatives in Congress, to be laid before that body.

Ordered, That the Public Printer forthwith print 150 copies thereof for the use of the members of the General Assembly, and that the same be referred to the committee of the whole House and be made the special order for Wednesday next at 12 o'clock.

Mr. Alfred Allen moved to be discharged from the further consideration of all resolutions which had been referred to the committee on Federal Relations.

Ordered, That the Public Printer forthwith print 150 copies of the substitute for the use of the members of the General Assembly, and that said bill and amendment be made the special order for the 3d inst., at 10 o'clock.

COMMONWEALTH OF KENTUCKY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, Frankfort, February 1st, 1864.
Gentlemen of the Senate and House of Representatives:
I herewith transmit to you, at the request of the Governor thereof, the "joint resolutions of the Legislature of West Virginia relating to the navigation of the Ohio river."

THO. E. BRAMLETTE, Governor.

THE STATE OF WEST VIRGINIA,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, Wheeling, Jan. 25th, 1864.
Sir: I have the honor to inclose you a copy of certain resolutions adopted by the Legislature of this State, on the 24th day of October, 1863, relating to the navigation of the Ohio River, and request that you lay the same before the Legislature of your State.
I am, respectfully, &c.,
A. J. BOREMAM, Governor.
To His Excellency, the Governor of Kentucky, Frankfort, Ky.

Joint Resolutions of the Legislature of West Virginia, relating to the Navigation of the Ohio River:
Whereas, By an act of the General Assembly of Virginia, passed on the eighteenth day of December, in the year one thousand seven hundred and eighty-nine, preparatory to the erection of the District of Kentucky, then within the jurisdiction of the State of Virginia, into an independent State of the United States, it was among other things enacted, that "the use and navigation of the Ohio river, so far as the territory of Kentucky or of Virginia lies thereon, shall be free and common to the citizens of the United States;" which was confirmed by another act of the said General Assembly, passed on the thirteenth day of January, in the year one thousand eight hundred, after the erection of the State of Kentucky, whereby the State of Virginia relinquished to the United States, any right she may have had to the exclusive navigation of so much of said river, as previously to the cession of the North-west Territory and the erection of the State of Kentucky, was entirely within her territory and jurisdiction:

And whereas, the said river is a navigable highway of commerce between different States of the Union, and the Congress of the United States has, from the earliest period, in the administration of its power to regulate commerce among the several States, claimed and exercised the right to regulate the navigation of the said river to the exclusion of the States binding thereon, and has moreover derived a considerable revenue from the enrollment and licensing of vessels navigating the same, and has established ports of entry at its head, and other places thereon:

And whereas, it is the duty, as it is the right of Congress, and in accordance with its long established policy, to promote and facilitate commerce between the several States, by the improvement of navigable rivers constituting its immediate channels; and this duty in reference to the Ohio river, has been repeatedly acknowledged by the passage and execution, from time to time, of laws having in view the partial improvement thereof:

And whereas, the war prosecuted for the suppression of the existing rebellion, and particularly, some of its more recent events, have forcibly demonstrated, that the safety in time of war and insurrection of several of the States, especially of those binding on the said river, imperatively demands that the navigation thereof should be so improved and maintained, as to place and keep it, at all times, in a condition to permit the free passage throughout its whole course of armed vessels, and the easy transportation of troops and munitions of war from point to point on its banks, and between distant sections of the Union:

And whereas, this legislature is informed that Congress, at its approaching session, will be again urged to appropriate the extraordinary sum of seventeen millions of dollars to the improvement of the Illinois and New York canals, each lying wholly within the bounds of a single State, and neither of them constituting by itself a channel of commerce between different States, on the alleged ground of the necessity of such improvement in time of war or insurrection, and particularly in time of war with a foreign power with whom we are now at peace:

And whereas, the improvement of the said canals as proposed, would, in the absence of the thorough and permanent improvement of the Ohio river, tend to divert from this and other States, a large portion of the commerce and transportation they now enjoy, and to deprive them of advantages they might otherwise derive from the projected railroad to the Pacific ocean—therefore,

1. Resolved by the Legislature, The Senators and Representatives of this State, in Congress, are earnestly requested to endeavor to obtain from that body, the early passage of an act providing for the adequate and permanent improvement of the navigation of the Ohio river, with an appropriation of funds sufficient for the purpose.

2. The legislatures of all other States interested, are requested to co-operate in effecting the object indicated in the foregoing resolution.

3. The Governor is requested to forward a copy of this preamble and resolutions to the executives of each of the States binding on the Ohio river, and of such other States as are immediately interested in the navigation thereof, with a request to lay the same before their respective legislatures.

Adopted October 24, 1863.

State of West Virginia, ss:

I hereby certify that the foregoing is a true copy from the rolls of the legislature. Given under my hand this 16th day of January, A. D., 1864.

GRANVILLE D. HALL,
Clerk House of Delegates and Keeper of the Rolls.

State of West Virginia, ss:

I hereby certify that the foregoing is a copy of a preamble and resolutions adopted by the legislature of West Virginia, on the 24th day of October, 1863.

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and affixed the seal of said State, at Wheeling, this 16th day of January, 1864.

The Speaker laid before the House the response of the Adjutant General, to the resolution of Mr. Waring adopted by this House on the 3d inst., as follows, viz:

HEAD-QUARTERS KENTUCKY VOLUNTEERS,

Adjudant General's Office,

Frankfort, February 4th, 1864.

To the Hon. Harrison Taylor, Speaker of the House of Representatives, Frankfort, Ky.

Sir:—In obedience to a resolution of the House of Representatives, notice of which has just reached me, I have the honor to submit the following statements:

There are at present employed in this office six clerks, with salaries per month, as follows: Chas. Hayden, $100 00; John B. Tilford, $100 00; Wm. E. Cox, $83 33; C. J. Clark, $75 00; Frank H. Pope, $75 00; Wm. A. Craig, $75 00.

The last named has just been employed as commissioner to muster in troops for the State, it being cheaper to employ him as a salaried clerk than as a commissioner. The others are regular clerks. An errand boy, John W. McClure, is also employed for this, as well as the Quarter-Master General's office, at a monthly salary of $10,00. The salaries are paid out of the military fund. Duplicate accounts are regularly made and forwarded to the War Department, on which advances to the State have constantly been made, and the whole matter is now undergoing settlement between the Federal and State Governments.

The clerks are all experienced in their business, which fact, added to this, that they are necessarily required to labor more than others, in other employments, frequently being compelled to work all night, and always required to labor regularly from 8½ A. M. to 5½ P. M., justifies the payment of good salaries.

The amount of force required in this office varies with the pressure of business. But four clerks were employed during the month of November. The fifth was added on December 1st, as the increasing business required it. The sixth was employed January 28th, to act as commissioner to muster troops now assembled at Monticello, and has been gone some days on that business. The pay of commissioners is considerably higher than that paid to any clerk in this office.

Compared to the expenses of this office, that of similar offices in our neighboring States is fully double.

No clerk is employed here—no salary is paid here—except on approval of the Governor, and it is expected the General Government will reimburse for all expenses, as on its action the necessity for placing our State Military Department on a war footing has occurred.

Respectfully, your obedient servant,

JOHN BOYLE, Adjutant General of Ky.

Also, the response of the Quarter-Master General, to the same resolution, as follows, viz:

OFFICE OF THE QUARTER-MASTER GENERAL,

For the State of Kentucky,

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 4th, 1864.

To the Honorable Speaker of the House of Representatives of the Legislature of Kentucky:

In obedience to a resolution passed by your honorable body on the 3d instant, I desire to report "the number of clerks and employees in this office, and what salaries they are paid, and out of what fund."

There is employed one chief clerk, who also acts as auditing clerk, at a salary of one hundred and twenty-five dollars ($125) per month, and one other clerk, at the arsenal, who acts as ordnance officer of this department, and who, also, sometimes, assists my said chief clerk, at a salary of eighty-three dollars and thirty-three cents ($83.33) per month. These two are the only regular clerks employed in this department.

In cases of great press of business, I have, sometimes, by the approval of the Governor, to employ additional clerical force for the particular emergency; though these emergencies do not often occur.

In addition to these two clerks, there is now employed at the arsenal the following "employees:" One chief gunsmith, at the daily wages of two dollars ($2) per day, and five other workmen, assistants to said gunsmith, engaged in repairing and cleaning guns and making up fixed ammunition and other work of the arsenal, at the daily wages of one dollar and twenty-five cents ($1.25) per day. The force employed at the arsenal varies as the amount of work is increased or diminished, from time to time. I also have, for the safety of the arms, equipments, and other ordnance stores, &c., to keep employed, at present, four night watchmen, two for the arsenal and two for the magazine, at one dollar and twenty-five cents, each, per night.

And there is employed one hand whose duty it is to assist in loading and unloading the arms and other things transported to and from the ordnance office, and to do the rough work generally for the different military offices located here, at the price of twenty-five dollars per month.

All the salaries and contingent expenses of this department are made up on proper pay rolls, or other proper vouchers, in similar forms, as required under the regulations governing such cases in the United States service, and are paid out of the military fund.

As nearly the whole of the business of this department is devoted to arming, subsisting, transporting, and equipping troops raised by this State for service in the United States army, the salaries of clerks and employees, &c., are, when paid as above, charged to the United States for reimbursement.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

S. G. SUDDARTH, Q. M. Gen. of Ky.

On motion of Mr. DeHaven,

Ordered, That the Public Printer forthwith print 150 copies each of said communications, and also 150 copies of the response of the Inspector General reported on yesterday for the use of the members of the General Assembly, and that said communications be referred to the committee on Public Offices.

The Speaker also laid before the House a communication from H. Blanton, in relation to the old bank of Kentucky:

FEBRUARY 1st, 1864.

HON. H. TAYLOR, Speaker House of Representatives:

Since the books and papers of the old Bank of Kentucky were taken out of my hands and placed under the control of the Auditor, it has been necessary for me to make frequent examinations for persons interested. I was called upon by a gentleman from Pittsburg a few days before the meeting of the present legislature, for information which I could not give him, for the want of a book which could not then be found. The books and papers are very voluminous; more than one-half of them useless. I would, therefore, suggest the propriety of the legislature appointing a committee to examine and ascertain if a large portion thereof could not be destroyed to advantage.

There ought to be funds in the hands of the Auditor or Commissioners of the Sinking Fund, after paying the amount to which the State is entitled, whatever the amount may be, should be ascertained and paid over to the individual stockholders who are entitled to it.

Respectfully,

H. BLANTON.
Ordered, That said communication be referred to the committee on Banks.

Mr. Thompson having obtained the unanimous consent of the House, moved the following resolution, viz:

Resolved, That hereafter, till the adjournment in this month, no member shall speak more than fifteen minutes on any one subject, except the report of the committee on Federal Relations.

The rule of the House requiring resolution to be referred to a standing committee of this House, having been dispensed with.

Said resolution was twice read, and adopted.

Mr. Brooks, from the committee on Enrollments, reported that the committee had examined sundry enrolled bills and a resolution which originated in the Senate of the following titles, viz:

An act to amend the revenue laws.
An act for the benefit of James Garrett and James T. Yates, executors of Cager Creel, deceased.
An act for the benefit of James Wood and T. W. Samuels, late sheriffs of Nelson county.
An act for the benefit of Thomas Conway, late sheriff of Union county.
An act for the benefit of the sheriff of Lyon county.
An act to legalize and pay off the debt of Bracken county.
An act for the benefit of the sureties of John G. Pickens, deceased, late sheriff of Clinton county.
An act for the benefit of John J. Miller, late sheriff of Boone county.
An act for the benefit of Stephen Howard, late sheriff of Magoffin county.
An act for the benefit of James H. Reynolds, late sheriff of Adair county.
An act for the benefit of J. J. Wood, late sheriff of Clinton county and his sureties.
Resolution in relation to the removal of the seat of government.
And had found the same truly enrolled.
Whereupon the Speaker affixed his signature thereto.

Ordered, That Mr. Brooks inform the Senate thereof.

The committee on Ways and Means, to whom leave had been referred, reported the following bills, viz:

1. A bill for the benefit of Jos. E. Mulkey, late sheriff of Monroe county.
2. A bill for the benefit of Paul C. Bedford, sheriff of Montgomery county.

3. A bill for the benefit of Wm. Mullins, late sheriff of Wayne county.

5. A bill for the benefit of Isaac Gastineau, late sheriff of Pulaski county.

6. A bill for the benefit of H. M. Ford, late sheriff of Pike county.

7. A bill for the benefit of Henry Haynes, late sheriff of Grayson county.

Whereas, It is represented to the General Assembly that Josiah W. Murphy, commissioner of Monroe county in the year 1863, had taken the taxable list of said county, amounting to about 2,100, and that the book containing 1,480 of said lists was by him left in the office of the clerk of the Monroe county court, and was in said office when it was burned by guerrillas; and that said Murphy took the lists of said county again in great haste and under circumstances of great personal danger; and in so taking said lists the second time, he omitted some who have since been reported by the sheriff of said county; and whereas, it is but just that said Murphy should be exempted, under the circumstances, for the forfeiture of fifty cents for each list omitted, and should be compensated for the taking of such lists as he had to take a second time—therefore,

§ 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, That the said Josiah W. Murphy be and he is hereby exempted from the deduction of fifty cents for each list he failed to report for taxation for the year 1863, in the county of Monroe, and the Auditor is hereby directed to draw his warrant on the Treasury for the sum of $148 as compensation to said Murphy for taking the lists which were burned.

Said bill, as amended, reads as follows, viz:

§ 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, That in all cases in this Commonwealth where lunatics who could not be received in the Asylum of the State, have been confined in the jails of the country by judicial authority to secure the peace and safety of society, the Auditor be and he is hereby directed to draw his warrant on the Treasurer, in favor of the county, in the jail of which the lunatic has been confined, for a sum not exceeding one hundred and forty dollars for each year a lunatic has been kept, and in the same proportion for a shorter period of time.
§ 2. That before any county shall be entitled to the benefit of the first section of this act, the clerk of the same shall certify to the Auditor first, the order of the court, or order of committing magistrate, confining said lunatic in the jail; second, the length of time said lunatic has been kept in the jail, and third, the jailer's receipt for the payment of the fees for keeping the lunatic.

§ 3. This act to take effect from its passage.

§ 4. This act shall only apply to pauper lunatics and those regularly found so by inquisition.

And the question being taken on the adoption thereof, it was decided in the negative.

The question was then taken, shall the bill be read a third time, and it was decided in the negative.

So said bill was rejected.

Said bill reads as follows, viz:

Messick, and styling himself commissioner of the so-called Provisional Government of Kentucky, in company with a body of armed men from Columbus, Ky., then in the possession of the rebel forces, did force and compel William Herrin, sheriff of Fulton county, to pay over to him, (Wm. Messick,) the sum of one thousand dollars on the 14th day of January, and the further sum of six hundred dollars on the 6th day of February, 1862, of the public revenue of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, collected by said William Herrin, sheriff as aforesaid, and which the said Herrin was compelled to pay under duress and against his earnest and most solemn protest therefore,

§ 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, That William Herrin, sheriff of Fulton county, in his settlement with the Auditor for the revenue due from that county for the year 1861, shall have a credit allowed him for the said two sums of one thousand dollars on the 14th day of January, 1862, and of the sum of six hundred dollars on the 6th day of February, 1862, and making in all the sum of one thousand six hundred dollars, and that he be released from the payment of all interest and damages on said sums of money, which he was compelled under duress, and notwithstanding his protest, to pay to one William Messick, styling himself commissioner of the so-called Provisional Government of Kentucky.
§ 2. Should it so happen, that the account of the said Wm. Herrin, sheriff of Fulton county, for the revenue of the year 1861 is already closed, and by which he is charged with the said sum of one thousand six hundred dollars, then and in that case, the Auditor is hereby authorized and directed to open the said account and to enter the credits as stated in the first section of this act.

§ 3. This act to take effect from and after its passage.

Mr. Ward moved to take up the motion offered by himself on yesterday, to reconsider the vote by which the House refused to order to its third reading a bill from the Senate, entitled,

John T. Clark, L. S. Luttrell, M. E. White,
James W. Davis, Thomas A. Marshall, John Whitnel,
John M. Delph, John S. McFarland, Geo. H. Whitten,

In the negative, none—

Said bill reads as follows, viz:

Whereas, F. L. St. Thomas, John McClintock, James E. Dickey, Samuel Taylor, C. G. Land, and Joseph Minor, citizen soldiers of Harrison county, Ky., belonging to no military organization, either State or Federal, and therefore entitled to neither pay nor bounty, under existing laws, were severally wounded in the fight with John Morgan's forces at Cynthiana, on the 17th day of July, 1862, and in consequence of their wounds incurred great loss of time and heavy expense—therefore,

§ 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, That the sum of two hundred dollars each, be and the same is hereby appropriated to said citizen soldiers; that the Auditor draw his warrant on the Treasurer in their favor for said several sums, to be paid out of any moneys in the treasury not otherwise appropriated.

§ 2. That this act take effect from and after its passage.

Mr. Dulin, from the same committee, who was instructed by a resolution of this House to inquire into the cause or causes why the Tenth Kentucky cavalry and a part of the Fourteenth Kentucky cavalry were paid only fifty instead of one hundred dollars bounty, and to make report; and also to whom leave was referred to bring in a bill for the benefit of enlisted men of the Fifteenth Kentucky cavalry.

Made the following report, viz:

The committee on Military Affairs, to whom was referred the resolution of this House, directing said committee to inquire into the cause or causes why the Tenth Kentucky Cavalry and part of the Fourteenth Kentucky Cavalry were not paid $100 bounty; and to whom was also referred leave to bring in a bill for the benefit of the enlisted men of the Fifteenth Kentucky Cavalry, (a kindred subject with the other,) have had the same under consideration, and beg leave to report:

That they find by the laws of Congress that only $50 bounty was promised to enlisted men for twelve month's service; that the said regiments were of said twelve months men; that when they were recruited, they were recruited by men commissioned as lieutenants, with commissions from the Governor of the State, and with power from the State military authorities to act as recruiting officers to recruit men, to be mustered first into the service of the State, and then into the United States service; that they had no authority or promises from the State or Federal Government authorities to promise, so far as your committee can learn, any further or higher bounty than was promised by the laws of Congress; that there is no authority given by any law of this State to promise or pay bounties for recruits; that if the State authorities or recruiting officers, either through ignorance or with a false intent, did promise to pay more or a higher bounty than was allowed by Congress, it was and is not binding on the State or Federal Government, and no relief can be by this State, extended to the men recruited under such promises. We further find that some of the men mentioned have been paid the full amount of the bounty authorized to be paid under the act of Congress. Some have not been paid; but we give it, as our opinion, that these can and will be paid by presenting vouchers to the Federal Government authorities. We, therefore, do not deem that any legislation can be had or is proper to be had on the subject; and no relief can be given by the State or by the Federal Government, to those men who were promised by the recruiting officers a greater bounty than was allowed by the act of Congress; and ask to be discharged from the further consideration of the subject. We find that the erroneous promises of the recruiting officers has had the effect to check and hinder recruiting in the State, and we suggest that in future, care should be taken that no promises or representations should be made to recruits, except what is authorized by law.

P. BUTLER HAWKINS,
Chairman of Committee on Military Affairs.

Which report was concurred in.

Mr. Hawkins, from the same committee, to whom was referred the resolution of Mr. Bedford in reference to the erection of monuments over the graves of Governor's Crittenden, Morehead and Letcher, Asked to be discharged from the further consideration thereof, Which was granted.

Ordered, That said resolution be referred to the committee on Public Offices.

Mr. Spurr, from the committee on the Expenditures of the Board of Internal Improvement,

Made the following report, viz:

The committee on the Expenditures of the Board of Internal Improvement, respectfully report:

That, in pursuance of their duty, they have made an examination of the accounts of the Board of Internal Improvement, and were much gratified at the manner in which the accounts and transactions of said Board are kept, and also with the attention and interest which the chairman displayed in giving to us all the information, and every facility necessary to a full and correct knowledge of the duty to be performed by us.

Your committee minutely examined the accounts and vouchers in the hands of the chairman of the Board, in relation to the Kentucky river navigation, and found, by comparing item by item of their receipts and expenditures, with the vouchers, that their accounts are correct, that the expenditures were for objects proper to be done, and that there remains a balance to the credit of the Board of the sum of $1,125 26, which sum of money we ascertained, from the certificate of the cashier of the Farmers' Bank of Kentucky, is on deposit in that bank to the credit of the Board. It is proper to state that all the money coming into the hands of the Board is placed on deposit in the Farmers' Bank, and is only drawn out when it is proper to apply it to some legitimate use.

Your committee did not examine into the accounts of the Board in relation to the Green and Barren rivers navigation, arising out of the fact, that the accounts and vouchers of said line of improvement had not been received by the chairman of the Board at the time we were engaged in this duty. Your committee would further state, that the accounts of the two lines of improvement are kept entirely separate—that of the Kentucky river line at Frankfort, and that of the Green and Barren river line by the members of the Board residing on that line. All of which is respectfully submitted.

R. J. SPURR, Chairman.

§ 2. It shall also be the duty of said agent to answer all communications addressed to him by any Kentucky soldier, or citizen, or any officer of the State Government, in regard to any matter of business, in any of the departments at Washington.

§ 3. Said agent shall perform such other duties as may, from time to time, be required of him by the Governor; and he may be removed by the Governor, whenever, in his opinion, the public interest demand it.

§ 4. The agent appointed, under this act, shall not, directly or indirectly, receive or charge any fee for services rendered under this act to Kentucky soldiers, their widows, heirs, or legal representatives, nor shall he purchase, trade, or deal in any claim placed in his hands for collection.

§ 5. Any violation, by said agent, of the provisions of the preceding sections, shall be regarded as a misdemeanor, and punishable by fine or imprisonment or both, at the discretion of a jury. He may be indicted in the circuit court of the county where the claimant or soldier resides.

§ 6. Before entering on the discharge of the duties of his office, he shall take the oath required by the constitution of other officers of this State; and shall execute a covenant, with sufficient security, to be approved of by the Governor, conditioned that he will faithfully and diligently discharge the duties of his said office; make full, fair and complete returns of all claims and funds which may come into his hands, or may be intrusted to him, and pay over to the claimant all moneys and effects which he may receive for any claimant; and that he will not, directly or indirectly, purchase, trade, or deal in, any claim put in his hands for collection or settlement. Which covenant shall be filed and preserved in the office of the Secretary of State, and upon which any one aggrieved may maintain a suit for any breach thereof; and any recovery on the same shall not bar any other suit upon the same for any other and distinct cause of action.

§ 7. He shall receive as compensation for his services under this act, two hundred ($200) dollars per month, payable out of the public treasury, as the salaries of other public officers are paid.

§ 8. Said resolutions reads as follows, viz:

1. Resolved by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, That the General Assembly reaffirms and readopts, as a fair expression of its political views on the subjects embraced therein, the series of resolutions on National affairs adopted by the legislature of 1863, and approved March 2nd of that year.

2. That it is unnecessary, at this late day, for Kentucky to reassert her loyalty to the government of the United States; her acts in her legislative councils, and the prowess of her gallant soldiers on nearly every battle-field in the southwest, have attested it. Kentucky, in the line of patriotic duty and devotion to the unity of the States, takes no backward step, but will continue hereafter, as heretofore, to make fresh sacrifices, if need be, for the cause in which she has embarked—the cause of Liberty, Equality and Justice, to all the States in the Union, and not out of it, in obedience to, and not in defiance of, the National constitution.

3. That Kentucky stands unalterably opposed to the enlistment of negroes in the Federal armies, believing that it will degrade the service, increase the difficulties of final adjustment, and prolong the war, and with these views, while she will not resist unconstitutional acts by unconstitutional acts, we deem that the honor and interest of the State demand that she will oppose such enlistment within her limits by all constitutional means at her command.

4. That the doctrine recently announced, that the States now in rebellion are no longer States in the Union, and that upon the overthrow of the rebellion they should be held as conquered provinces, by the strong arm of military power, and that they shall only be admitted to a place in the sisterhood of States upon new conditions, unknown to and repugnant to the constitution of the United States, is a doctrine fraught with evil and evil only, is in contravention of the Federal constitution, is dangerous to the liberties of the people, destructive of the rights, dignity and equality of the States, tending directly to a consolidation of all political power in the Federal Government, to anarchy and finally to military despotism, and recognizing in fact the dangerous principle of the right of secession; against this doctrine we earnestly protest.

5. That the constitutional relations of the States in rebellion to the General Government, have been suspended by the criminal invocation of military force, by their own people, and when that is subdued and the people of any of the States in rebellion, shall, in good faith, return to their allegiance to the constitution and laws of the United States, they have the constitutional right to resume their relations to the General Government as they existed before the rebellion, and any attempt to hinder or defeat this sacred right, by the application of new tests and conditions, is in derogation of the constitution and ought not to be sanctioned.

6. That copies of these resolutions be forwarded to the president of the United States, and to our senators and representatives in Congress, to be laid before that body.

Mr. Irvine move to dispense with the rules of the House in order to enable the committees to report.

And the question being taken thereon it was decided in the negative.

Said bill reads as follows, viz:

Whereas, the laws of this Commonwealth, enacted for the arrest and commitment of runaway and fugitive slaves from other States, were intended as acts of comity, and adapted to a condition of peaceful and friendly relations, and are inapplicable to our present condition; and the enforcement of them not only involves our citizens in losses, but brings our civil authorities unnecessarily in collision with the military authorities of our government—wherefore, for remedy thereof.

§ 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky: That any negro or mulatto arrested as a runaway slave during the present rebellion, shall be carried by the person arresting before some magistrate of the Commonwealth, who shall inquire into the case, and if such negro or mulatto is a fugitive from any other State than Kentucky, the magistrate, instead of committing to jail, shall order such fugitive or runaway to be delivered to the nearest military authorities or command. Should the magistrate not be able to determine whether such slave be a fugitive from another State, or a runaway from his master or owner within this State, he shall commit such runaway as now provided by law; and if the owner fail to come forward, as now provided by law, and prove property and discharge the fees and costs, such runaway shall be hired out for such time as will discharge the jailer's fees, and costs of advertising, and then be delivered to the military authorities as a fugitive from another State.

§ 2. That all negroes and mulattoes now committed to jails in this Commonwealth, having run away from another State, and whose masters or owners live without this State, in stead of being sold as now required by law, shall be hired out forthwith, after the passage of this act, for such time as will discharge the jailer's fees and costs of advertising, and shall, after the expiration of such hiring, be turned over to the military authorities of the United States.

§ 3. That all laws giving rewards to persons for arresting and committing runaway slaves, are hereby suspended during the present rebellion as to slaves run away from other States than Kentucky.

§ 4. This act to take effect from and after its passage.

The question was then taken on referring the bill to the committee on the Judiciary, and it was decided in the affirmative.

Mr. R. J. Browne moved that the committee be instructed to report said bill to the House on the 15th inst., at 11 o'clock.

And the question being taken thereon it was decided in the negative.

Mr. Shanklin, from the committee on Circuit Courts, asked to be discharged from the further consideration of the instructions of this House to said committee, to "inquire and report, by bill, the expediency, propriety, and constitutionality of providing, by a general law, where, in any county, the circuit courts cannot with safety be held, that by order of the judges of the districts suits may be removed, brought, and tried in any county nearest to it where courts can be held."

Which was granted.

Mr. Shanklin, from the same committee, to whom had been re-committed a bill which originated in the Senate, entitled,

An act to establish the 15th judicial district.

Reported the same with amendments

Which were adopted.

Mr. Wood sent up, and had read from the Clerk's table, a remonstrance of sundry citizens of Hart county, as follows, viz:

To the Legislature of the State of Kentucky:

The undersigned, citizens of Hart county, would respectfully remonstrate against the repeal of the law establishing equity and criminal courts in the 4th judicial district, believing that said courts are necessary for the due execution of the laws and the administration of justice; and although we ought not, and do not, object to the establishment of a new judicial district anywhere in the State that it may be necessary, if it can be constitutionally done, yet we would remonstrate against this county being included in any proposed new district; and we would remonstrate against being deprived of any of our present courts as they are now established by law.

JOHN DONAN,

G REYNOLDS,

and twenty-four others.

Mr. John R. Thomas moved the previous question.

And the question being taken, "Shall the main question be now put?" it was decided in the affirmative.

The question was then taken, shall the bill, as amended, be read a third time? and it was decided in the affirmative.

Also, a message in writing, which reads as follows, viz:

EXECUTIVE OFFICE.

FRANKFORT, FEBRUARY 13, 1864.

Gentlemen of the Senate and House of Representatives:
Since the commencement of the rebellion large numbers of fugitive slaves have been arrested and committed to jail, under the provisions of chapter 93, article 6, Revised Statutes.

This statute was framed in reference to peaceful relations, and to ensure those acts of comity due from one State to another of the same government.

This law was intended to secure to the owner the return of his slave. This purpose of the law cannot now be accomplished.

The hostile attitude of other slave States to the position and relations of Kentucky, wholly precludes the owner, in hostile States, from the benefits of the law. He cannot come here to prove ownership and reclaim his property; and such is the separation that he has no means of obtaining information of the arrest and commitment of his slave—our relations being such that he is entirely shut out from information. It follows, from these well known facts, that the law cannot be carried out according to its purpose, and that the arrest and commitment of a fugitive slave from another State is not, and cannot, be for the benefit of the owner, as the law intended.

For whose benefit is the arrest and committal to be made? The owner cannot be profited by it; and no Kentuckian desires to appropriate these fugitives to the public use; nor is it desirable in this questionable mode to increase that population, at this time, with its cumulative evils, upon our people, in violation of the spirit of our constitution, and the laws pursuant thereto, prohibiting the importation of slaves into this State as merchandise. No one derives benefit from the law except the captors, who obtain the reward, and speculators, who buy at nominal rates, and by selling shift the loss upon others.

Our Court of Appeals has recently very correctly decided, that citizens of belligerent States cannot maintain actions in our courts. The civil rights and remedies, which they enjoyed in their amicable relations, are suspended by their present attitude of hostility. This same hostility suspends the law for the rendition of fugitive slaves, in all its practical workings, on behalf of the owner. A bill has been passed and approved, at the present session, to remedy some of evils growing out of this law. It provides for refunding money paid by purchasers, in cases where the slave has been taken by the Federal authorities. Claims for compensation to jailers, and for fees for advertising and other expenses, will be constantly coming up, in cases where the military authorities take possession of these fugitives, after their committal. In addition to these results, there are other matters of great interest involved. The federal authorities claim, that by the laws of war the fugitives become captives of war, and are to be disposed of by the federal authority. This claim, whether well or ill-founded, brings our civil authorities, under this law, in collision with the federal. Shall the loyal State of Kentucky be brought in collision with the government, upon an issue as to which shall take charge of and dispose of a slave who has escaped from our enemies? Each may assert that the other has no right to seize slave—perhaps with equal truthfulness. Yet, it certainly can not be deemed either the part of wisdom or prudence, that we should, in such a quarrel, endanger our own security or break our relations of amity with our government.

If we say the federal authorities have no business to intermeddle in this matter, it might be retorted, that we have less. If rebels choose to brave the consequences of rebellion, whether legitimate or illegitimate, the fault is theirs—not ours; and we should not compromise any of our rights or securities, by assuming their quarrel with our government, by undertaking to keep their slaves for them. While in rebellion they have no claims upon us, whose government and laws they seek to overthrow and destroy. When they cease to be rebels, and become submissive to the just demands of our Government, it will be the proper time for Kentucky to raise her voice in behalf of a repentant and prodigal people, who have wasted their estate in rebellion, and have returned for shelter beneath the banner, and within the constitution of our fathers.

The people of Kentucky are a loyal people, and will not assume the quarrel of these in rebellion, nor will they consent to collide with the government because of their disapprobation of measures adopted for the suppression of rebellion.

We can not afford to have a collision with the federal authorities upon the question of which shall take charge of and dispose of the fugitives from the belligerent States.

What are we to do with these fugitives? We do not want them, we can not restore them to their owners, who are our enemies, we can not afford, at the public charge, to keep them in confinement, nor can we suffer them to go at large, to the demoralization of our own slaves. We wish to avoid collision with our government, upon a question wherein we have no interest, security, or rights involved. These fugitives are not ours, we do not claim them and do not want them, and have no personal interest in them, except to get rid of them in such way as not to endanger our own safety. To maintain our own rights in the government and under its constitution and laws, is what we seek. We cannot afford to endanger a forfeiture of these, by neglecting our own securities, to look after the claims of those who are in hostility with us, and seeking our destruction.

Some legitimate mode of relieving ourselves of the evils growing out of a collision of authorities, should be adopted, and at the same time secure ourselves against the demoralizing effects of leaving these fugitives to go at large within our limits. The law, so far as it purposes a restoration to the owner, is suspended by the state of hostilities existing, but this leaves the runaway still on our hands. Whether the fugitives should be turned over to the federal authorities, and leave the owner to dispute his rights with the Government, as we cannot afford to do so for him, at the hazard of our own security; or whether he should be hired out to defray his expenses until the law can be fairly executed; or whether he shall be sent beyond our limits at the public expense, are questions left for your consideration. The sale of such fugitives is calculated to involve our citizens in troublesome disputes, and in losses, and to beget an angry conflict with the federal authorities. The federal authorities claim these fugitives and take them from the jails and from purchasers. We should, by some wise and carefully digested mode, make provision for the avoidance of these evils.

In calling your attention to this subject, with the suggestions which I have deemed proper to submit, I feel that I have discharged my duty—the rest remains with you.

THOS. E. BRAMLETTE.

The House again resumed the consideration of the resolutions, entitled,

Resolutions in relation to Federal Affairs.

Mr. Hanson moved to amend the resolutions reported by the special committee, by striking out the 2d resolution, and by inserting in lieu thereof, the following, viz:

Resolved, That we declare our abhorrence and unqualified condemnation of the policy of enlisting negroes in the armies of the United States, as unjust to our soldiers, degrading to our armies, humiliating to the Nation, and contrary to the usages of civilized nations. This war is, on the part of the United States, the patriotic struggle of white American citizens for the preservation of their free institutions, and in this glorious struggle they ought to rely upon their own brave hearts and strong arms with unwavering confidence, and indignantly reject the co-operation of negro soldiers.

And also by adding to said resolutions, the following additional resolutions, viz:

4. Resolved, That slavery is a State institution, guaranteed by the Constitution of the United States, and slaves are regarded as property by the laws of all the States where slavery exists, and they have been so regarded since the establishment of the Government of the United States, and in many of the States from a period long before the existence of the Government of the United States, yet, like other property, they are subject to capture, and other lawful effects of war, and we do not object to their employment as laborers when ever the public service require it.

5. That the existing civil war, into which the Nation has been forced by the wickedness and treason of the rebels, ought not to be waged on our part in any "spirit of oppression, or for any purpose of conquest or subjugation, or for any purpose of overthrowing or interfering with the rights, or established institutions of any of the States, free or slave, but to defend and maintain the supremacy of the Constitution, and to preserve the Union, with all the dignity, equality, and rights of the several States unimpaired, and that as soon as these objects are accomplished the war ought to cease."

6. That the doctrine, recently announced in certain high places, that the States in rebellion are no longer States in the Union and that, upon the subjugation of the rebellion, they should be held as territories or conquered provinces by the strong arm of military power, and that they shall only be admitted to a place with the sisterhood of States upon new conditions unknown to, and repugnant to, the Constitution of the United States, is a doctrine fraught with evil, and evil only; is in contravention of the Constitution of the United States, is dangerous to the liberties of the people, destructive of the rights, dignity and equality of the States, tending directly to a consolidation of all political power in the Federal Government, and to anarchy, and finally, to military despotism, and it in fact recognizes the dangerous principle of the right of secession; against this doctrine we earnestly protest.

7. That the proper constitutional relations of the States in rebellion to the Government of the United States have been suspended by military force, and whenever the military power of the rebellion is subdued and destroyed, and the people of any of these States shall, in good faith, return to their allegiance, and to obedience to the Constitution and laws of the United States, they have the constitutional right to resume their relations to the Government of the United States, as they existed before the rebellion, and any attempt to defeat or hinder his sacred right, by the application of new tests and conditions, is in derogation of the Constitution, and ought not to be sanctioned.

8. That the Inaugural address and message of Governor Bramlette to the present General Assembly, so far as the same treats of our Federal Relations, reflect truly the sentiments of the Union people of Kentucky, are approved by the present General Assembly, and are recommended to the patriotic consideration of the American people.

9. That the Governor be requested to send a copy of these resolutions to the President of the United States, and to our Senators and Representatives in Congress, to be laid before that body.

Mr. Chandler moved the following resolutions as an amendment to Mr. Hanson's amendment, by way of substitute therefor, and for the original resolutions, viz:

1. Resolved by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, That the General Assembly reaffirms and readopts, as a fair expression of its political views on the subjects embraced therein, the first, second, third, fourth, fifth, seventh, eighth, and eleventh resolutions of a series of resolutions on national affairs, adopted by the legislature of 1863, and approved March 2d, of that year; also the resolutions adopted by the Louisville convention on the 18th of March last—the remaining resolutions of the series not being deemed applicable to the present state of affairs.

2. That it is unnecessary, at this late day for Kentucky to reassert her loyalty to the Government of the United States; her acts in her legislative councils and the prowess of her gallant soldiers on nearly every battle-field in the southwest, have attested it. Kentucky, in the line of patriotic duty and devotion to the unity of the States, takes no backward step, but will continue hereafter, as heretofore, to make fresh sacrifices, if need be for the cause in which she has embarked—the cause of Liberty, Equality and Justice, to all the States in the Union, and not out of it, in obedience to, and not in defiance of, the national constitution.

3. That Kentucky, having fulfilled all of her constitutional duties as a State of the Federal Union, by promptly furnishing her quota of men and money to suppress the existing rebellion, ought to have the right to manage and control her local and domestic affairs, (not in violation of the national constitution) free from opposition or hindrance on the part of the Federal Government.

4. That the doctrine recently announced, that the States now in rebellion are no longer States in the Union, and that upon the overthrow of the rebellion they should be held as conquered provinces, by the strong arm of military power, and that they shall only be admitted to a place in the sisterhood of States upon new conditions unknown to and repugnant to the constitution of the United States, is a doctrine fraught with evil and evil only, in contravention of the federal constitution, is dangerous to the liberties of the people, destructive of the rights, dignity, and equality of the States, tending directly to a consolidation of all political power in the Federal Government, to anarchy, and finally to military despotism, and recognizing in fact the dangerous principle of the right of secession; against this doctrine we earnestly protest.

5. That the constitutional relations of the States in rebellion to the General Government, have been suspended by the criminal invocation of military force, by their own people, and when that is subdued and the people of any of the States in rebellion, shall, in good faith, return to their allegiance to the constitution and laws of the United States, they have the constitutional rights to resume their relations to the General Government as they existed before the rebellion, and any attempt to hinder or defeat this sacred right by the application of new tests and conditions is in derogation of the constitution, and ought not to be sanctioned.

6. That copies of these resolutions be forwarded to the President of the United States, and to our Senators and Representatives in Congress, to be laid before that body.

Mr. Neale then moved a call of the roll.

And the question being taken thereon, it was decided in the affirmative.

The roll was then called, when the following members answered to their names and were present, viz:

Mr. Speaker (H. Taylor), J. B. English, H. C. McLoed,
Alexander E. Adams, W. M. Fisher, W. H. Miller,
Alfred Allen, Elijah Gabbert, William L. Neale,

§ 2. In auditing and passing upon said claims, referred to in the foregoing section, the Quarter-Master General is directed to be governed, as far as is applicable, by the rules and articles of war, and the general regulations for the government of the armies of the United States.

§ 3. When the Quarter-Master General shall have audited, and ascertained the amount due, upon the claims mentioned in the first section of this act, and the claimant shall have received from him for the amount so found due on said claim, then the Quarter-Master General shall give to said claimant a certificate to the Auditor of Public Accounts, setting forth the character of claim, and the amount due to claimant; and the Auditor, upon presentation of said certificate, shall issue his warrant upon the Treasury for the payment to the claimant of the amount so certified to be due, and keep said certificate on file in his office; said claims to be paid out of the military fund in the Treasury, or such other money as may be provided for that purpose.

It shall be the duty of the Quarter-Master General to keep a correct account with the General Government, of the expenses incurred by the State in arming, clothing, subsisting and equipping, and all other necessary expenses incurred in organizing the forces of Kentucky for the service of the United States, and to make all necessary exertions, from time to time, to recover from the United States the amount due to the State on account of said expenditure; and the amount thus obtained from time to time, shall be placed in the treasury, which, together with any other money that may be provided for that purpose, shall constitute the military fund of the State, and out of which all military claims, both for State troops and troops raised for the United States' service, as provided for in the first section of this act, are to be paid.

§ 5. The salaries of the Inspector General, Adjutant General, Quarter-Master General, Paymaster General and Surgeon General, and their respective clerks, and all the necessary and contingent expenses of their respective offices, including record books, furniture for offices, stationery, postage stamps and printing, and other necessary expenses incident to their said offices, may be paid upon the certificate of the Quarter-Master General, approved by the Governor, in like manner as other military claims.

§ 6. The Quarter-Master General is directed to keep a full record of his official acts, and is authorized to employ, with the approval of the Governor, such clerks and hands, in his office and the arsenal, as may be necessary, from time to time, to keep up the business of his department, and at such rate of compensation as may be approved by the Governor.

§ 7. All contracts and purchases made by the Quarter-Master General of ordnance or ordnance stores and other military stores, when approved by the Governor, may be paid as other military claims hereinafter provided for.

With an amendment.

The Speaker laid before the House a communication from the Public Printer, in relation to the resolution of Mr. Fisher, adopted by the House this day as follows, viz:

OFFICE OF THE PUBLIC PRINTER,
FRANKFORT, February 16, 1864.

HON. HARRISON TAYLOR, Speaker of the House of Representatives:

Sir:—The following resolution was handed me this moment, viz:

"Resolved, That the Public Printer print, for the use of this House, a list by their titles, of all general acts passed at the present session up to and including the 17th February, and that ten copies of each list be furnished to each member on to-morrow morning."

A moment's reflection will show the impracticability of executing this order. In the first place, the acts passed by the General Assembly are not in the possession of the Public Printer—those passed by the House of Representatives are in the possession of the clerks of that body, and those passed by the Senate in the possession of the clerks of that body; a part are in the hands of the enrolling clerks for enrollment, and a part of them are in the hands of the Secretary of State—such as have been approved by the Governor—and a part again are in the hands of the Governor, who is examining them for approval.

Now, the Public Printer, to carry out in good faith the objects of the resolution, will have to read some portion of every act which has been passed during the present session to ascertain whether it is general or local, and then transcribe the title. This alone would be the labor of several days, even had he the acts in his possession by which to accomplish the objects of the resolution.
We have commenced preparing a complete list of the titles of all the acts passed by the present General Assembly, which have been approved by the Governor, and when the title does not fully set forth its objects, giving a summary of its contents, and as far as practicable publishing all general laws entire. This we are permitted to do in the Secretary's office, by examining the enrolling acts, and when completed will be published entire in the Commonwealth. In to morrow's paper will be a specimen of the manner in which this is being performed, by the publication of the titles of the first fifty chapters.

It would afford me great pleasure to comply with the resolution of the House of Representatives if it were practicable to do so. But, for the reasons before stated, it is out of my power to comply.

Respectfully,

W. M. E. HUGHES, Public Printer.
By A. G. Hodges.

Mr. Bramlette moved the following resolutions as a substitute for the amendment and original resolutions, viz:

1. Resolved, That this General Assembly declares, as before it has often times declared, that the State of Kentucky hath ever been, and is, loyal to the Government of the United States of America, and is determined to maintain that loyalty against both domestic and foreign foes.

2. That this General Assembly recognizes a manifest difference between any administration of the Government and the Government itself; the one is transitory, limited in duration only to that period of time for which the officers elected by the people are charged with the conduct of the same; the other is permanent, intended by its founders to endure forever.

3. That it is the deliberate opinion of Kentucky that the only hope for the restoration of the National Union is upon that great charter of our freedom, the Constitution of the United States; and that the civil war now pending between the United States and the people in rebellion should be prosecuted for the sole purpose of defending and maintaining the supremacy of that Constitution, and the laws enacted in pursuance thereof.

4. That in the exercise of its right to criticize the conduct of the national administration, this General Assembly declares that the proclamations of the President of the United States, by which he assumes to emancipate all slaves within certain States, is unwise, unconstitutional, and void.

5. That while Kentucky desires the restoration of the authority of the national constitution, and the Union formed thereby, and while she is not now prepared to suggest any plain for the accomplishment of that end beyond the suppression of the military power of the rebellion, she yet condemns, as violative of every principle of our republican form of government, any effort to reduce any of the States to a colonial or territorial condition, or to abolish or alter the relative position of any of the States toward each other or to the Federal Government.

6. That Kentucky disapproves of the enlistment of negroes into the army of the United States, and she protests, in the most solemn manner against any attempt to enlist, in said army, the slaves of citizens of Kentucky against the will of their owners. Kentucky will promptly furnish, as she has heretofore done, of her own citizens, all the men required from her by the National Government.

7. That for all wrongs which may have been committed, or evils which may exist, Kentucky will seek redress under the Constitution and within the Union, by the peaceful but powerful and irresistible agencies of the suffrages of a free people.

8. That the present causeless and wicked rebellion should be crushed by the whole power of the Federal Government, and the national authority restored over all the revolted States. And we are in favor of devoting our whole resources, if necessary to the accomplishment of that object.

9. That we are opposed to the intervention or mediation of any foreign power in our present troubles, preferring to settle our own dif-fecilities in our own way, and all propositions to that effect which may be made by any foreign State or nation ought to be respectfully but unequivocally declined by our Government.

10. That the people of Kentucky have suffered insult and injury at the hands of the so-called Southern Confederacy, and are stimulated by every motive of interest and honor to oppose and overthrow it. This Confederacy has sought and now seeks to break up the Union, forever dear and necessary to them, and when by their often repeated decisions they refused to join in the work of treason, infamy, and ruin, it trampled down their State Constitution, put up a weak and usurping Governor over them and placed pretended Senators and Congressmen in its conclave at Richmond, assuming to speak their voice; it invaded their State with armies and sought to conquer and carry them away from a Union they revered, to one they detested, it ravaged by bands of marauders, not soldiers, their fields, time and again, robbed them of their public revenues and private property, destroyed their public records, burned their towns and houses, carried away their non-combatant citizens into long and loathsome imprisonment; where many still languish, murdered many of them, sometimes in their own homes and in the presence of their families, and sometimes by cruel and infamous deaths, extending these atrocities even to women and children, thus setting at defiance all the laws of civilized warfare; and these efforts have continued and increased with the increasing aversion of the people of Kentucky to all its wicked designs, and now threaten to break with fresh force upon that State and people; that therefore the people of Kentucky can never cease their efforts for their own protection, the condign punishment of the authors of these wrongs, and the complete overthrow of the rebel confederacy; and all citizens of Kentucky (if any there be) who refuse to support their State and fellow-citizens against such unprovoked wrongs and cruelties, or profess to sympathize with such enemies, are false to their allegiance to friends, neighbors, State, and nation; that, nevertheless, of one thing the people of the revolted and the loyal States and of the world may rest assured, Kentucky "will submit to such a depopism when she has no power to resist it:"

11. That it is the duty of the Federal and State Governments to take timely and energetic steps for the defense of the soil of Kentucky against invasion, the people from further plunder and ruin; and we earnestly invoke their attention to the subject, at the same time calling upon all the citizens of the State to second every effort in this behalf.

12. That our thanks are due and are hereby tendered to our gallant soldiers in the field for the brave and devoted manner in which they have hitherto upheld the ancient renown of Kentucky, and bid them "God speed" in the noble work of defending the honor of our flag, and preserving the Constitution and Union, assuring them of our cordial, united and unaltering support, and the praises of a grateful country. That we feel also the profoundest veneration for the memory of the brave Kentuckians who have fallen in the great struggle for the Union, and the deepest sympathy for their surviving relations, whose just claims upon the country are hereby gratefully recognized.

§ 2. That the marshal of said city be and he is required by this act to collect the poll tax and revenue tax of said city, and that duty shall be hereafter performed by him, as a part of his official duty; and all laws now in force in relation to the collection of taxes in said city are made applicable to said marshal. The council shall fix his compensation for collecting said taxes, and require of him a bond with good security, for the faithful discharge of his duties as collector, under the laws and ordinances of said city. Should the marshal refuse to act as collector of said taxes, or be unable to give bond with security, or for any other cause does not act as collector, then his office shall be declared to be vacant, and it shall be the duty of the council to elect or appoint some competent person as marshal and tax collector to fill said office till the next regular election.
§ 3. That in all cases of arrest in said city by the marshal or his deputy, for a violation of any ordinance or law of this State, for misdemeanor, or felony, said marshal or his deputy shall have the same power to take a bond or recognizance of the person arrested, with good security, for his appearance, as sheriffs now have by law.
§ 4. It shall be the duty of the marshal to hold an inquest over the dead bodies of all persons found in the river opposite Paducah, or floating to its banks, or found in any other place in said city; and the city physician shall attend the inquest, and examine the body and testify in the case. The proceeding shall be by warrant of arrest, issued by the clerk of said city court, upon oath, or upon information of the mayor, marshal, a councilman, city judge, city attorney, or other officer of said city; and said warrant shall be executed by the marshal or his deputy.

§ 8. In all cases of felony the city court of said city shall duly act as an examining court, either to acquit or send on the accused to the circuit court for further trial; and the laws of this State applicable to examining trials in felony cases before magistrates, are made applicable to this court.

§ 9. It shall be the duty of the police judge of said city to bind out the pauper children of said city, under the same rules, regulations, and restrictions as now required by law of county courts; and this duty shall be enforced by ordinance of the council.

§ 10. All fines imposed by judgment of the city court and costs, may be repleived for three months, by defendant executing bond to the city of Paducah, with good and approved security, bearing interest from date. Said fine may be paid to the clerk or repleived in the office before an execution issues, before the clerk, who shall approve the security; or it may be repleived when in the marshal's or other officer's hands for collection; and the replevin bond shall be taken by the marshal, and the security approved by him, upon which bond and execution may issue at maturity if not paid.

§ 11. For all violations of the city ordinances, or violations of the special laws of the State, in relation to Paducah, the warrant or process shall issue in the name of the "City of Paducah," and for all violations of the general laws of this State, committed within the city limits, the process shall run in the name of "The Commonwealth of Kentucky."

§ 12. That from and after the termination of the term of the present city attorney, the term of office of said city attorney shall be two years, and until his successor shall be duly elected and qualified.

The offices of city court clerk and clerk of the council are now declared to be distinct offices.

§ 16. It shall be the duty of each and every officer of said city, whether elected or appointed, judicial, ministerial, or executive, to obey all ordinances of the council; on failure to do so, and for violating any of, or refusing to execute any of, said ordinances, he shall be fined by warrant in the city court, not less than five nor more than one hundred dollars.

I shall return to my home, gentlemen, with little or nothing calculated to disturb, in the least degree, the many pleasant and lively recollections of my intercourse with you whilst here, save perhaps, a consciousness of my own shortcomings in the discharge of the duties which you were pleased to assign me.

I part with you, gentlemen, entertaining for each and all of you, sentiments of the most sincere and affectionate regard. I shall never forget you, nor cease to be grateful for the respect and confidence which, during our labors here, you have so constantly manifested towards me.

It has been my fortune, gentlemen, to have seen assembled in this chamber, many, very many, of your predecessors; and I feel that it is no undeserved compliment to you, nor disparagement of them, to say, that in all the high qualities which should characterize and adorn the faithful, dignified and enlightened legislator, this House, in my judgment, stands unexcelled by any of them.

And now, with my whole heart, wishing you a safe return to the bosoms of your families, and constituency, and that God in his Providence will bless you all the remaining days of your lives, I pronounce that this House stands adjourned until the first Wednesday in January next, and bid each of you a respectful and heart-felt adieu.
