A message was received from the Governor by Mr. VanWinkle, Secretary of State, which was read as follows, viz:

COMMONWEALTH OF KENTUCKY,
EXECUTIVE OFFICE, FRANKFORT, KY.,

December 4th, 1865.

Gentlemen of the Senate and House of Representatives:

Through the overrulings of a beneficent Providence, to whom we owe profound and reverent thankfulness, we are now blessed with the auspicious return of peace over a united country and a restored government. The dark clouds of rebellion and war, which lowered upon our country, obscuring with the smoke of terrific conflict and bloody battle the star-gems of sister States of the Union, have broken away, and, one by one, their light again appears in the galaxy of the Union, blending their radiance in united harmony, to illumine the pathway of our great and free people in the grand progress of nationality.

Every prompting of patriotism commands us to give our united and individual aid to promote and forward that complete Union and harmony so requisite to our progression and happiness, which has been so unfortunately disturbed.

The passions and prejudices evoked by the conflict should be cast away, and dispassionate, prudent, and wise counsels be pursued. It is a time which demands discreet counsels and considerate statesmanship, and the banishment from Executive Chambers and Legislative Halls of all partisan aspersities, all temporizing expedients for party ends, and all captious opposition to inevitable and unavoidable conclusions.

Trusting that you come together with the patriotic determination to so shape your action as to promote the highest and best interests of our beloved State, it affords me pleasure to lay before you such facts bearing upon the state of the Commonwealth as are deemed of importance to your present assembly.

In giving a view of the state of the Commonwealth, it is necessary, in order to a proper appreciation of our present favorable condition, that you should have a synoptical statement of our connection with the great struggle for the maintenance of our national existence.
Official returns from the various counties of the State show that at the commencement of the rebellion, and before our population was disturbed by the war, in the first of the year 1861, the white males in the State above the age of 21 years numbered 191,391; and white males between the ages of 18 and 45 years, called "Enrolled Militia," numbered 137,211. The returns at the commencement of the present year—1865—show a considerable diminution since the commencement of the war. The returns for the present year give the number of males over 21 years at 169,749, and between the ages of 18 and 45 years, at 103,401. This diminishment is accounted for by the absence, at the time of taking the lists, of our soldiers in the armies; and by the fact that, according to the best and most reliable estimates, about 15,000 to 20,000 of our population left for the rebel armies.

The enrollment of 1863 by the United States authorities of white males between the ages of 20 and 45 years numbered 112,742; and in 1864 numbered 113,410. The enrollment of "colored" males between the ages of 20 and 45 for 1864 numbered 20,083. Making an aggregate within the military age, of white and "colored" males, of 133,493.

The muster rolls in the office of the Adjutant General show that we furnished to the Federal armies—most of them three years' men—63,975 white soldiers, against an enrollment of 113,410. The rolls on file in the same office show the muster-in of 20,438 "colored" troops; and other evidences on file show that about 5,000 more were enlisted, but not yet reported to that office by muster rolls; making an aggregate colored troops of 25,438.

The increase in the number of colored troops above the enrollment is attributable to the fact that regard was not had to age in their enlistment. "Color" was regarded as sufficient qualification.

It will thus be seen that, with a white and black male population between the ages of 20 and 45 years amounting to 133,742, we contributed 89,413 to the armies. Besides the hundreds of Home Guards engaged in local defense throughout the period of the rebellion, we also had in the State service, for various periods, 13,526 militia or State troops, paid and subsisted by the State.

These facts and figures amply vindicate the devoted loyalty of our people, and are a sufficient answer to the stereotyped slanders so persistently urged in some quarters against our noble State. Holding, as we have, with steady and unflinching hand, the dangerous and exposed position of a loyal border State during the rebellion, we have at the same time furnished our full proportion of the defenders of our Union faith, despite the allurings of sectional sympathy, and the unjust buffetings from those who professed to be friends.

Ours was not the loyalty which draws its subsistence from promised profit, and its courage from distant danger, but that unyielding devotion to principle which neither loss of property nor present danger could overcome. Steady and unshaken as our eternal hills in our fidelity to the Union—onward and unchecked as our everlasting streams—flowed the resistless current of Kentucky loyalty, crimsoned with the blood of her noble sons.

During the pendency of the war our State expended, in aid of the Government in the prosecution of the war, and for which we hold vouchers against the Government of the United States, the sum of $3,268,224. Of this sum we have had refunded in Government securities, which answered the place of money, the sum of $1,051,000, and from other means $57,230; amounting in the aggregate to $1,109,230. This leaves in favor of the State against the United States a balance of $2,159,994. From this amount should be deducted the State's proportion of the $20,000,000 direct tax, which the Legislature, by resolution approved Dec. 23d, 1861, assumed to pay. This amount is $713,695 33¼, less 15 per cent., making $606,641 03¼, which the Federal Government reserves out of our military advancements in payment of our taxes. This sum should be credited to the Military Fund, and charged upon the civil list. The balance, after allowing all these credits in our favor against the United States, is $1,553,353 17½, which we hope to have refunded soon.

In addition to these expenditures, the State expended nearly one million of dollars in maintaining home troops for local and State defense. This service, though local in its character, yet was for the general defense; and we have well-founded hope that the Government will, when prepared for presentation, assume the payment of this expenditure.

Notwithstanding these expenditures, our financial condition is of the most satisfactory character. The Auditor has furnished me a statement of our public debt from 1859 to November 23, 1865, which is hereto appended (A).

From this statement it will be perceived that, at the close of the present fiscal year (10th October), our debt was less than at the close of the fiscal year 1859.

To this sum must be added the sum of $360,000, borrowed since the 10th October, and up to 23d November, to meet the payment of State troops and other military expenditures; making the total debt owing by the State for all purposes, up to 23d November, the sum of $5,614,346 80. It is estimated that $250,000 additional will discharge all other outstanding war claims. To meet this indebtedness, according to the last annual report of the Auditor, the resources of the Sinking Fund are estimated at $7,510,487 17. If we add to this the amount which we may confidently expect to receive from the Federal Government in payment of our advancements, viz: $1,553,353 17¾, it gives $9,063,840 34¾ to meet an indebtedness of $5,864,346 80.

From a statement furnished by the Auditor, taken from the commissioners' returns for the years 1861 to 1865, inclusive, it will be seen that there is a reduction in the assessment of taxable property this year of $109,046,461 below that of 1861. This is accounted for by the destruction of slave property, and from the reduced rates at which property was held at the date of assessment, owing to the insecurity of person and property, as well as to the immense amount of property swept away by the wasting hand of war in the sweep of armies over our State. The statement (B) furnished by the Auditor is appended hereto for your information. The return of peace, with the consequent restoration of confidence and security, and the revival of industrial pursuits, will, it is confidently believed, in less than two years, restore our taxable property to the highest figures of any former year.

The death of James H. Garrard, late Treasurer of Kentucky, devolved upon me the appointment of a successor to fill out his term. Mason Brown, jr., was appointed to fill out the term, and his report, herewith transmitted, bringing up the accounts of his predecessor to the time of his death, and his own to the close of the fiscal year, bears ample testimony to his efficiency as Treasurer. In the death of Col. Garrard the State lost an efficient and incorruptible officer, and the community a noble citizen, whose mental, moral, and social qualities endeared him to all. The term of the present incumbent will expire with the year, under the provisions of the Constitution. Col. Garrard was re-elected, a few days before his death, to the next term of two years, beginning with 1st January, 1866. It will devolve upon me at the proper time, according to the provisions of the Constitution, to fill the vacancy for the next term, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate.

From the report of the Inspector General, herewith transmitted, it will be perceived that only nine companies have been organized of the "National Legion," under an act, entitled "An act to organize the militia of Kentucky," approved March 4th, 1865.

The difficulty of diffusing a proper understanding as to the intent and character of this organization has been the obstacle to its successful progress. With the minutest detail of instructions, it has been in some cases impracticable to have the law understood. Instead of looking to the law and to the instructions thereunder, precedent is drawn from the late military organizations, and those who attempt an organization seem to consider it part of the plan that they should go into camp, and enter upon the life and duty of soldiers, instead of pursuing the object and plan of the law of organizing as citizen soldiers, and holding themselves at all times in readiness to be placed upon active duty when required, to assist in the enforcement of civil law. These difficulties of a proper understanding of the law and its intended operations, result, in part, from the long neglect upon the part of the State to keep up a militia organization until its forms have been forgotten.

These obstacles, we trust, will soon be removed, and the militia organized as contemplated by the law. When this is done, and the State thoroughly organized as contemplated by the law, entire security will be given to every county in the State against marauding bands, should such attempt to disturb any part of the State.

If each county will organize a company of good men, who will be ever ready to support the civil authorities, no better security can be had. Had this organization of the militia been effected two years ago, it would have saved our people from many vexations and great losses. It would have dispensed with any occasion for retaining other troops in the State after the close of the war, and in this would have been a great relief. A citizen soldiery organized in each county, of good men, who, pursuing their ordinary vocations, yet ever holding themselves in readiness to assemble and meet an emergency of danger or support the civil authorities of the county in the enforcement of the laws, is the surest safeguard to person and property of any military organization that can be given, and the only one compatible with a time of peace. To have a well-organized militia is the duty of every State.

I transmit herewith the report of the Inspectors of the Penitentiary, and invite your attention particularly to the suggestions therein contained. The new structures erected in place of those destroyed by fire, and those ordered to be removed and replaced with suitable buildings, are now nearly completed. Inspection of those new buildings will demonstrate that true economy in public buildings consists in having them of the best material, most substantial structure, fire-proof, and adapted to the uses intended. These new buildings meet these requirements.

It is a pleasure to indorse the commendation of the present keeper, Captain H. I. Todd, given by the Inspectors. The State has been fortunate in securing the services of a keeper so richly endowed with those qualities which enable him in efficiently conducting the affairs of the prison, and executing the punitive justice of the State, to ever represent the generous humanities of our people and State.

In this connection your attention is invited to the practicability of improving our plan of prison discipline. A system of rewards for good conduct should be established by law, under which convicts may obtain a release of a portion of their term for good conduct. If a plan could be adopted, by which the convicts could be separated into classes, having reference to age, character of offense, and to conduct, much good might be effected. To hold out the hope of advancement to a more favored class, and the shortening of the term for good conduct, would greatly promote prison discipline and encourage reform in the convicts. Sufficient attention has not been given to the subject of reforming those upon whom the punishments of law are inflicted. It may well be questioned whether the prevailing systems reform as much as they demoralize. The punitive justice of a State should have regard to the reclamation of those upon whom its penalties are imposed, and should be adapted to reform rather than harden in crime.

Our system does not provide for proper classification of convicts, nor is there any reward held out for good conduct, save the hope of Executive clemency. It is suggested that the appropriate committee give consideration to this subject.

The large amount of vouchers for unsettled claims which the State holds against the United States Government, which are kept in the office of the Quartermaster General of the State, and the invaluable records of the Adjutant General's office, embracing the muster-in and muster-out rolls of our Kentucky soldiers, and in which every soldier and soldier's family has a direct personal interest, made it necessary to have some suitable and safe place in which to keep and preserve them. The offices heretofore used by those officers have been rented from time to time, and have never been adapted to the business of those offices, and wholly insecure for those records. Having at my disposal a fund sufficient to construct suitable offices, with fire-proof vaults in which to preserve those valuable and important records, I determined upon erecting them for the benefit of the State. In selecting the plan, I found that for comparatively a small additional cost office rooms for the Superintendent of Public Instruction, the Board of Internal Improvement, and Chambers for the Appellate Judges, could be included, as also store-rooms for the public books and stationery. The rents heretofore paid for offices and store-rooms have been equal to over six per cent. upon the cost of the entire structure, which, in addition to the offices and store-rooms heretofore rented, furnishes the office rooms and chambers mentioned and not heretofore provided. As these buildings were about being completed, and were partly occupied as offices, a fire, originating in the office of the Clerk of the Court of Appeals on the night of Tuesday, the 21st November, entirely consumed that office, with all the books and records then in the office, and communicated to the office of the Secretary of State, soon invested that office and the Executive office in flames; but was fortunately arrested after it had made some progress upon the new buildings, but before any serious damage was done to them. The archives and all the papers of value were saved from the office of the Secretary of State; also most of the laws, journals, and judicial decisions of sister States, kept in that office, were saved. There were still on hand in that office some 357 copies of Stanton’s Revised Statutes of Kentucky. The greater portion of them were consumed. An account has not yet been taken of the number saved from the burning building. All the papers and furniture of the Executive office were saved. The Clerk of the Court of Appeals has filed with me a written report in relation to the destruction of his office, &c., with some valuable suggestions, to which your attention is invited, and which is herewith transmitted. I would recommend to your consideration the propriety of providing by law for keeping insurance upon the public buildings; and also to provide by law for the employment of a night watchman, who, having pass-keys, may pass through all the rooms during the night, and see that they are in safe condition. The Auditor would be the proper officer to be charged with this duty. The buildings destroyed can be replaced, if you so direct, in a short time; and may be better arranged for the purposes to which they were set apart than they were. Temporary offices for the Secretary of State and Executive have been taken in the new office building.
Your attention will be directed to making suitable provision to sustain our public charities. Reports from the Eastern and Western Lunatic Asylums have not yet been received at this office; when received, they will be laid before you.

Provision should be made more ample for the support of the “Feebleminded Institute” at Frankfort, the Deaf and Dumb Asylum at Danville, and the Institution for the Blind at Louisville. These noble and deserving charities have been somewhat overlooked during the war; yet they have been kept in a highly favorable condition by their respective superintendents.

It is recommended that you make suitable provision to meet the just demand upon the public bounty which the silent, but ever-appealing afflictions of those stricken ones, makes upon the charity of the State.

Your attention is invited to the consideration of our common school system. A radical defect in our system is the want of a school for the education of teachers. No system of public schools, which fails to provide for the education of teachers, can ever be successful but to a very limited extent. The experiment of a normal school adopted in Kentucky, which was so soon abandoned, failed because of its incompleteness. The Kentucky University and Transylvania University having organized under the provisions of “An act to establish an Agricultural College in Kentucky,” approved February 22, 1865, and to be hereafter known as “The Kentucky University,” presents a most favorable opportunity for supplying the defect in our school system. The united endowments of those Universities, with the addition of the “agricultural” fund arising from a sale of the land scrip donated to the State by the General Government to found an Agricultural and Mechanical College, affords the opportunity for founding a permanent and thorough system of common school education, embracing instruction in agriculture and mechanics. A system which shall secure to each county the perpetual scholarship for at least one pupil in the Kentucky University, and such scholars be required, upon completion of their course, to take charge of a county school for teachers, and instruct teachers in their respective counties, to be selected from each school district by the trustees of the school districts, who, in their turn, shall be required to take charge of the district schools of their respective districts, will secure to every child of the Commonwealth fair and equal advantages of uniform instruction, embracing agricultural and mechanical education. This is an outline only of a system which you now have the opportunity to perfect, and which, if done, will yield the richest returns of blessing to our noble Commonwealth. I shall not urge upon your enlightened body the importance to the future of our country of having an educated population. To those who do not already see and appreciate this necessity, no light can possibly be given. "Thick darkness" veils the reason of such, and no ray of intelligence can be expected to penetrate the settled gloom of such minds.

Under the provisions of "An act empowering the Governor to appoint agents to visit and aid sick and wounded soldiers of Kentucky," approved February 27, 1865, Col. J. W. Gault and Col. W. De B. Morrell were appointed. Their labors have been of incalculable service to our suffering soldiers. Their reports will, when received, be laid before you.

The number of disabled and homeless soldiers, who are poor, and, from disability, prevented from making a subsistence, demands that some provision should be made for them, so as to secure them against want and suffering. I would suggest that proper steps be taken to obtain from the Government of the United States the "Soldier's Home" at Harrodsburg, to be set apart as a home for disabled Kentucky soldiers who are homeless and poor. Doubtless this property can be had for that purpose on most liberal conditions. It is a sacred duty imposed upon the patriotic bounty of our country to provide for the poor and homeless soldier whose maimed condition disqualifies him from earning a subsistence. Every State should look well and diligently to this subject.

The reports of the Quartermaster General and Adjutant General will be laid before you. During the past year these offices have been over-crowded with press of business, resulting from the muster-out of our soldiers, and the necessary settlements of accounts and claims.

The Adjutant General has prepared, so far as our soldiers have been mustered out, the muster-out rolls and historical sketch of the regiments. Specimen sheets will be laid before you. If these records were ordered to be printed, and a copy furnished to each county, it would be of great service to the soldier and his family having claims arising under any laws of the United States. In addition to which, should the original records, by any chance, be destroyed, the means would remain in each county of supplying the loss. The act requiring this report to be gotten up did not provide for its publication. Whether it shall be published, therefore, rests with you to determine by law.
The termination of our civil war has thrown upon us some important questions for adjustment. It is gratifying to know that those who have taken active part in the war of rebellion, as a class, now cheerfully accept the new order of things. What shall be done with those who have resumed their peaceful relations with the Government, and manifest an earnest purpose of future loyalty? Are they to be crushed—humiliated—debased by continued punishment? or shall they be forgiven—trusted—restored? Though secession is heterodox and suicidal, yet there were many able, intelligent, and conscientious men who honestly held and taught the right. The result of the war has been to forever banish this heresy. Those who held to it, and fought for it, have given it up and abandoned the claim. Forgiveness—trust—restoration—is the corollary of the problem solved by the war. Those who stood aloof from the conflict, but bade it rage, and who drew personal profit from the calamities of the times, may continue vengeful and unforgiving. Civil war ever calls forth from obscurity many whom peace will return to their wonted insignificance. Such will naturally oppose the return of that state which deprives them of their consequence, and remits them to their proper level. There are others who, upon the restoration of civil rule, riot in their enlarged security, and provoke disquiet by the turbulence of a captious spirit. The just, considerate, and patriotic will discountenance such extremes, and seek to cover the past with forgiving charity, and promote the harmony and union so essential to our happiness and progress. Those who fought the battles are for peace. Those who nursed their courage at a distance from danger, "to keep it warm," only ask time to cool. The war has determined the impracticability of secession, and it only remains for the judiciary to decide that secession is treason, to have the subject forever and finally adjusted. This adjudication should properly be had in the case of the chief of rebellion, to make it a precedent for all time to come. It is understood to have been wisely determined to hand Mr. Davis over to the civil tribunals, where a decision will settle the legal estimate of secession, and determine whether it be treason or a right. This will end the trial of questions by military courts which are proper for civil adjudication, and leave nothing for military courts to determine but questions of military jurisdiction arising under the laws of civilized warfare. That we may contribute to the general harmony and restoration of good fellowship, I would suggest the expediency of amending our laws of expatriation, so that all who have accepted the terms of amnesty, or received pardon from the President of the United States, may each go before the county or circuit court of his county, and, upon production of his oath of amnesty or pardon from the President of the United States, and satisfactory evidence to such court that he has conformed to the conditions of such oath or pardon, such court, by order reciting those facts, shall restore such person to all the privileges of citizenship. This mode of restoration will at once open the door to all who, in good faith, have returned to their allegiance and their homes; and will still exclude those who refuse to give evidence of their abandonment of their hostility to the Government. The process is convenient and facile to all who would be entitled thereto, and the discrimination just and proper. To forgive a man who does not ask it, nor crave it, and restore him to rights which he had forfeited, would be to offer a bounty to wrong; but to forgive those who seek it, and who give assurance of future allegiance, is the humanity of patriotism.

The government of the Union is founded upon the existence of States. The existence of States presupposes State rights. Without the States there could be no United States formed upon the basis of republican government. At the foundation of that Union is this distinctive, well-marked feature of a united republican government—that each State shall form its own organism, with the single restraining right of the general government to guarantee a republican form. This is the feature which, being preserved, will forever prevent the only remaining danger to our republican government—centralization. The Federal or united sovereignty can only require that a State shall have a republican form of government; and can only interpose to prevent a State of the Union from adopting a monarchy, or other form of government than a republican or people’s government. If the State Government be republican in form, the right to direct its details is exclusively with the State, and wholly without the powers of the Federal Government. One of the rights sacred to this form of government, and which is panoplied by constitutional guaranties, is the right of each State to determine for itself who shall be eligible to office, and who shall exercise the elective franchise. So carefully guarded is this fundamental feature of our government, that those to be elected to Federal offices by the people are remitted to the respective State regulations. Members of the House of Representatives to Congress are to be chosen by those in the respective States who are entitled to vote for the most numerous branch of the State Legislature. Senators are chosen by the Legislatures of the respective States. Electors for President and Vice President are s.—2 to be chosen in such manner as the respective States may prescribe, with only the power in the General Government to prescribe the time for holding such elections. How well and carefully guarded are the rights of States upon the elective franchise. The whole power over the elective franchise is with each State—no part of it is left to the United States. This is the security against centralization. To destroy this safeguard would be to centralize. To centralize would be to destroy republican government. The attempt to destroy our republican government is treason. The effort to centralize is treasonable to our republican government, is but the counterpart of the rebellion, which sought to destroy by disintegration, and which has been so successfully repressed. The counterpart must also be crushed ere rebellion will be effectively crushed. The Federal Government is a government of United States, "ordained and established" by "the people of the United States," "in order to form a more perfect union, establish justice, insure domestic tranquillity, provide for the common defense, promote the general welfare, and secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity."

To preserve the rights of the States, without surrendering the just rights of the people in their national authority, is the wise and statesmanlike policy of the present Chief Executive of the United States. Every true friend of republican government must feel himself constrained to the support of such an Administration. Under his prudent care order emerges from the chaos of revolution; harmony supersedes the babel of recent conflict; good fellowship arrests the course of passion and prejudice; and Union firmly binds the elements of State and nation. It is a source of gratification to all lovers of civil liberty to witness the steadiness of purpose with which he pursues, with unbending will, the accomplishment of the desired end, the entire restoration of civil government.

An important question is still open for your consideration, thrown upon us as one of the unavoidable rulings of the rebellion. Though the proper solution of all the details connected therewith is difficult, yet, at this day, it must be apparent to every man, whatever may have been his previous hopes and former convictions, that the extinction of slavery within the United States and its dependencies is one of the inexorable and irreversible conclusions of the logic of rebellion. It rests not in human power to reinstate or longer preserve slavery. How shall we dispose of this question? Shall we fold our hands and refuse to act, and content ourselves with sullen submission to unavoidable able results; or shall we manifest our just appreciation of existing facts by timely and appropriate action?

The time for partisan disputation upon this question has passed, and we should think and act with a wise and prudent regard to our present interests and future good, regardless of the passions of the hour and the prejudices of the moment. I therefore invoke your calm and patriotic consideration to this question, that you may take such action as will redound to the honor and good of our State.

There are but two means of settling this question—one through separate State action; the other by the action of the people of the States through an amendment to the Federal Constitution. Our State has but two modes of reaching the subject by separate State action. First, by legislative emancipation, with just compensation; and, second, by an amendment to the State Constitution in the appointed mode. The former is deemed impracticable, unless the Legislature shall assume the fact that slave property is now of no value. Although to this may be true in fact, yet has the Legislature the right to assume it? The latter mode, by amendment of the State Constitution, is expensive, besides being too slow to meet the necessities of our present condition. On the other hand, the adoption of the proposed amendment to the Federal Constitution is without expense; is immediate; is effective; and just as lawful as the other modes. If it be objected that this is an inroad upon State rights, due consideration will demonstrate the error of such objection. Slavery being local, the regulation and government of it, as property, does of right belong to the State where it exists. But freedom is national, and, when it is a settled question that slavery shall no longer exist in the United States, what State right can possibly be invaded by declaring this determination through the National Constitution? To provide for the regulation and government of slave property is the right of the State, because slavery is local and limited to the State; but freedom is national, and is, therefore, more appropriately declared so to be through the Federal Constitution than by local or State action.

The power to enforce the freedom so secured by the first section of the proposed amendment, is aptly limited in the second section to appropriate legislation for its enforcement. The only power conferred is to enforce the right to freedom—the right to life, liberty, and property. There is no power to confer other franchises than freedom, and the consequent power to protect that freedom from hostile legislation of States. Hence any laws enacted by a State hostile to the freedom guaranteed by the Constitution, would be in conflict therewith, and null and void; and an appropriate remedy may be given through the judicial tribunals to set aside such hostile legislation.

Should any of the recent slave States, for any purpose, attempt to nullify the freedom secured by the Constitution; or should any of the former free States attempt, by hostile constitutions or legislation, to abridge the right of freedom, by prohibiting the migration of the freedmen to such States, all such action will be in conflict with the Constitution, and will be declared null and void. In a word, any State, wishing to add to the immunities of freedom, will have the reserved right to do so for itself, but will be inhibited from abridging the natural right of "life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness." Franchises other than freedom are political, not natural, and are left to the States respectively to regulate each for itself. The Federal Constitution will bear equally upon every State and alike upon all; and so must all laws for its enforcement. The law which bears upon South Carolina will with equal force bear upon Massachusetts. We shall thus be secured from divisions among ourselves in the recent slave States, which would inevitably and unavoidably result from separate State action; and the former free States will be as effectively debarred from hostile legislation to confine the freedmen within former limits. Were the subject left to separate State action, the certain and inevitable result would follow, that some State, in order to force the freedmen from its limits, and prevent others from immigrating thereto, would adopt laws so hostile as to amount to worse than enslavement; others would, in self-defense, pursue similar and more stringent enactments; and the former free States would adopt like policy to exclude them from their limits; and thus this unfortunate race would be driven by persecuting laws, with no place of refuge and no means of defense, until the voice of the civilized world would be raised against the iniquity of our proceedings.

Nay, further: this hostile legislation, which would inevitably result, if left to separate State action, as a logical sequence, would give overwhelming force to the demand for additional guarantees to freedom through another amendment, securing to the freedmen the power of self-protection through the ballot-box. We of the heretofore slave States, knowing the incapacity of the negro population for self-government, and much less for the government of others, will be secured against the follies, evils, and dangers of separate State action, by adopting the proposed amendment, and will avoid the evil most dreaded by our people, of having the negro placed upon political equality. To leave the power of hostile legislation in the several States, after slavery has ceased to exist, and universal emancipation has made freedom thoroughly national, would be to invite the evils we most dread, and incur dangers greater than any through which we have passed.

On the other hand, the adoption of the proposed amendment will give to us perpetual indemnity against the attempt to control the question of suffrage through the Federal power. Each State being inhibited from hostile legislation abridging the right of freedom, but left at liberty to enlarge the privileges of freedmen, the moment any State shall confer upon that class the right of suffrage, it will be followed by a tide of "colored" migration to such State, and by the best class of the white population of such State, in return, coming to those States where the government is reserved to the white man. The certainty of this result will be a perpetual guaranty against the agitation of the negro-suffrage question. Each State being secured, as it is, in the right to regulate its own institutions of government, with the single restriction that it shall be republican in form, no State can insist on another adopting negro suffrage, except by setting the example. The certainty of being flooded with "colored" voters, and of losing their own better population, will be the surest guaranty that such examples will not be very far extended. The adoption of the proposed amendment will give the quietus to the question of negro suffrage. The loyal record of Kentucky will be complete in all honor by its adoption. In addition to which, it will insure a more favorable hearing of our claims for indemnity for those slaves taken into the United States service and freed by congressional enactments. The rejection can accomplish no good; for it is now reduced to a certainty that, during the present winter, the requisite number of States to make it part of the Constitution will ratify it.

What is to become of the negro? This will be solved by time and the natural laws governing population and labor. The question, if let alone, will solve itself; or, rather, the future will suggest the proper solution. The question of what shall become of him, constitutes neither an objection nor an argument against the proposed amendment. He will be free—what more, the future must develop. What shall become of us? Shall we refuse to make wise provision for our present, because we cannot see or determine our future? The question is as apt in the one case as the other.
Having been compelled by my position to investigate the question, in order to determine what course a just and prudent statesmanship demanded, I have given you the sincere convictions of my mind, and only ask that you will, with like integrity of purpose, consider the important bearing which your action is to have upon the present and future good of our State.

The entire breaking up of our labor system, and the necessity of adopting a new system upon the free basis, suggests the propriety of adopting measures to invite to our fields of labor a superior class of laborers, who have, by reason of slavery, heretofore been kept from our State. Your attention is particularly invited to the subject of adopting suitable encouragements to induce immigration to our State. The vast extent of our mineral wealth to be developed, and which is now attracting much attention, and drawing capital to our State for investment, demands a superior class of laborers to those we have heretofore employed. Our fertile lands and genial climate will likewise present strong inducement to agricultural industry.

If, in addition to these measures, proper encouragement be given, by suitable internal improvements, to afford facilities to industry and capital, by opening up our natural thoroughfares to navigation, and making suitable roads for transportation of the products of the country to market, and for receiving supplies of merchandise and other commodities in return, we shall soon make our State the pride of the Union, as it has ever been the pride of her sons.

Trusting that your counsels may be characterized by wisdom and blessed with the harmony of patriotism, you will find me ever ready to co-operate with you in every thing which tends to the honor, the welfare, and happiness of our people.

THOS. E. BRAMLETTE,
Governor of Kentucky.

Letter from the Inspector General.

HEADQUARTERS KENTUCKY NATIONAL LEGION;
Inspector General's Office,
Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 15, 1865.

Hon. Thos. E. Bramlette, Governor of Kentucky:

GOVERNOR: At your request, I herewith furnish you with a list of the companies that have been organized under the militia law of March 4th, 1865, and mustered into the Kentucky National Legion, together with the number of men belonging to each, as appears from the muster-in rolls on file in this office:

</tr>
<tr>
<td>Capt. S. G. Rogers, Nicholas county</td>
<td>92</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Capt. Daniel Campbell, Perry county</td>
<td>101</td>
</tr>
</tbody>

Of these companies, five have drawn arms—Lieuts. McDonald, Nethercutt, Jas. Johnson, and Capt. G. Reid, and H. H. Johnson—while only two have been on active duty in the field—those of Capt. Reid and Johnson.

There have been several other companies in the process of formation in other counties, but the great drawback upon their being filled was the length of the term of enlistment—five years.

I am in daily receipt of letters from different parts of the State, requesting that military aid be given the civil authorities in enforcing the laws of the State. This law, if properly carried out, would render all the assistance that is necessary; and I am satisfied, that, if the law was so amended as to make the term of service in the Kentucky National Legion one year instead of five, there would be no difficulty in raising a company of forty men in each county in the State, who, being armed, and subject to the call of the civil authorities, upon your approval, would soon put down all of the thieving bands that are now infesting the State.

Yours, respectfully,

J. T. BRAMLETTE,
Inspector General of Kentucky.

Report of Inspectors of Kentucky Penitentiary.

Frankfort, November 21st, 1865.

Hon. Thos. E. Bramlette, Governor of Kentucky:

SIR: We were directed by a resolution of the last General Assembly (approved February 23, 1865) to sell the old buildings, old iron, and damaged machinery in the Penitentiary, pay the amount into the Treasury, and report the fact to you. This resolution has been complied with, and the nett amount, after deducting expenses for advertising and drayage, and barreling the iron, is six hundred and sixty-three dollars ninety-four cents (663.94). A duplicate statement and receipt of the Auditor are herewith inclosed. The buildings were sold according to an estimate of three architects, and the iron was valued at the market price of one cent per pound, we engaging to deliver it at the depot for shipment.

The new buildings erected in the yard are almost entirely completed, are very substantial in character, and creditable to the State. The chief reason why the institution has not been a source of revenue to the Commonwealth, is on account of the old dilapidated tenements that have been removed, and which required incessant repairs to make them even partially fit for the various trades and manufactures carried on. If one keeper was careless about keeping up repairs, his successor suffered on account of the neglect, and thus the concern was transmitted from hand to hand, and deductions from the lease would be claimed, because so much was required for essential repairs and improvements. The true economy was, to a certain extent, adopted by the last Legislature, and buildings are now within the walls which will not be out of order for quite a number of years to come.

In this connection we would call your attention to a matter that certainly requires a remedy. We allude to the facility with which prisoners effect their escape over the walls. Attempts of this character are frequent, and success too often attends them. The walls are too low. The prisoners know it, and hesitate not to try the experiment of throwing over the rope, which, once accomplished, escape is quickly effected. This can easily be prevented by raising the walls and placing some sort of barricade on the top. The details we do not suggest, as these could be arranged after proper examination as to the mode; but as to the necessity of the matter, we think there can be no question.

Another improvement is recommended in the way of an addition to the hospital. This addition is needed as a kitchen and water-closet. As at present arranged, the kitchen is a part of the hospital room, separated from the beds by a plank partition, with only one window, and has to be used also as a room for laying out the dead and for bathing purposes, which is a part of the medical treatment of the patients. The only arrangement for a water-closet and going to stool is a large tub in one corner of the bed-room, which, when filled, has to be lifted out and carried to the sewer in the yard, and then returned to its place. Cleansed as often as may be, the stench is never fully removed, and it is at best an unsuitable and inconvenient affair. In the proposed addition, a water-closet could be placed with a sewer leading to the main one, and supplied with a water tank in order to keep it clean. The kitchen could be conveniently arranged so that the diet for the sick would be properly prepared, and the room now used for that purpose could be legitimately applied. When the hospital was first erected, the defect was seen at once. The commissioners had failed to have a kitchen attached, and being too far off from the one connected with the dining-room, the resort was partitioning off one corner for this purpose. A plan was laid before us, at our request, for this improvement, and the estimated cost was fifteen hundred dollars. The plan we herewith transmit.

In closing this report, we deem it not improper to bear testimony to the efficiency of the present keeper. Of course we do not speak of the business management of the prison, but the general discipline; the clothing and feeding of the prisoners, the humane treatment extended to them; the liberal supply of the hospital with medicines, and comfortable beds; all indicate commendable qualities in Captain Todd.

The attending physician, Dr. Phyhtian, discharges his duties with zeal and success, and exhibits more than ordinary interest in his department. He fills his position in a highly creditable manner.

Very respectfully,

J. M. MILLS,
JOHN S. HAYS,
Inspectors Kentucky Penitentiary.

W. T. SAMUELS, Auditor.

Letter from the Clerk of the Court of Appeals.

COURT OF APPEALS OFFICE,
FRANKFORT, NOV. 24, 1865.

His Excellency Thos. E. Bramlette, Governor of Kentucky:

Dear Sir: I consider it my duty to make to you, as the Executive head of the State, this report in reference to the destruction of my office, last Tuesday night, by fire.

Ever since I have been in office, I felt the rooms I occupied were in imminent danger of the terrible calamity which has just befallen us, and have therefore repeatedly called the attention of the Legislature to the subject; but my warnings were disregarded. I have usually been the first officer on the State House lot in the morning and the last in the evening, with a careful person employed, and paid by myself, to open and close my office, make fires when needed, and keep it in good order. There were but two keys to it—one in possession of my 1st deputy (Mr. R. R. Bolling), the other in possession of my hired attendant, in whose care and fidelity I had every confidence. It was almost as combustible as a powder magazine, with every part full of papers and books—all round the fire-place, as well as elsewhere, in open cases and on shelves, some in bundles, and some necessarily loose in pigeon holes. No safety anywhere against even a spark of fire. The afternoon before the fire I left about 4½ o'clock with a friend and went to my sleeping room, one-third of a mile distant, near the court-house, where I remained till next morning. Mr. Bolling and Mr. Chesnutt remained till nearly five o'clock, and until the old colored man came to shut up the office. Then there was but little fire in the grate, with a wide brick hearth in front, and no apprehension of danger—just as it had been left thousands of times before.

I knew nothing of the fire till aroused by Messrs. Tole and Franklin, out of my bed, about 4 o'clock in the morning. How it originated God only knows—I certainly do not; no one slept in any of the ten rooms destroyed; but it was disastrous in the extreme. All the books, records, and papers in the building, public and private, were burnt. The loss to the State is incalculable—to me most ruinous.

Fortunately, in order to give more light to Messrs. Bolling and Chesnutt's tables, a press containing the oldest deed books—26 in number—had been removed, about ten days previously, to the back court room in the Capitol. The indexes were also carried there for convenient examination, and are safe.

There are about seventy cases under submission, and the records and briefs in possession of the court.

I think I shall be able to supply eighty or ninety other records, by copies given out to attorneys. Many of those used by the reporter (Judge Duval) were removed to the court room named, for his convenience, some weeks since, and are safe.

I hope this terrible disaster will induce the Legislature, to make immediate provision for the office of our supreme court, as well as for that of the Governor and Secretary of State. If fire-proof rooms are not provided, certainly watchmen ought to be employed to be on duty at night.

I respectfully ask the Governor to transmit a copy of this letter to the Legislature on the 1st Monday in December.

Your most obedient servant,

LESLIE COMBS, C. C. A.

On motion of Mr. Wright,

Ordered, That the Public Printer forthwith print, for the use of the members of the Senate, the number by law required of the Governor's message, the same to be enveloped.

Mr. Helm moved the following resolution, viz:

Resolved, That the Clerk forthwith inform the Senate whose seats, as members, are contested: that on the making such report the Senate proceed to form committees pursuant to the statute, to whom the notice of contest and accompanying documents shall be referred.

Which was adopted.
Mr. Chandler read and laid on the table the following joint resolutions, viz:

Resolved by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, That the effort now being made by certain manufacturers, dealers, and speculators in tobacco, to induce Congress to remove the present tax on manufactured tobacco and place it on the leaf in the hands of the producer, will, if successful, in the opinion of this General Assembly, be disastrous and ruinous in its effects upon the tobacco interest of the country, and will greatly lessen the production of this important staple in the State and elsewhere, thereby cutting off a prolific source of revenue, both State and Federal, and in many ways permanently injuring the production by planters of this most important source of national wealth.

Resolved, That this General Assembly respectfully but earnestly remonstrate with Congress against the proposed tax on leaf tobacco, and our Senators and members of Congress are requested to use their influence and vote against any law of the kind that may be proposed.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to each of our Senators and Representatives in Congress.

Which resulted in the selection of Messrs. Chandler, Dudley, Cleveland, Bruner, and A. D. Cosby in the case of Dr. A. S. Allan.

Messrs. Garriott, Cook, Black, Prall, and Dudley in the case of O. P. Johnson.

To whom were referred the various papers in said cases, the oath required by law having been administered to said board in the presence of the Senate, by George W. Gwin, a justice of the peace for Franklin county, Kentucky.

And then the Senate adjourned.

WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 6, 1865.

Dr. A. S. Allan, from the Twenty-ninth Senatorial District; Mr. William W. McKenzie, elected to fill the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of B. H. Bristow, from the Sixth Senatorial District; and Mr. R. T. Baker, from the Twenty-fifth Senatorial District, appeared, produced certificates of their election, and took the oaths required by the Constitution of the United States and the Constitution and laws of this State.

The following petitions were presented, viz:

Mr. Dudley, from the committee to whom had been referred the contested election case in the Senate of Dr. A. S. Allan, made the following report, viz:

The undersigned, who were appointed a board for the trial of the contested election of Thompson against Allan, beg leave respectfully to report:

That after examining the law under which they were appointed (1 Stanton, 442), and its construction by the Court of Appeals in the case of Leeman against Hinton (1 Duvall, 37), they are of opinion that they are without authority in any other than the following cases:

"Where the candidates receiving the highest number of votes have received an equal number, the right to the office shall be determined by lot, under the direction of the board. Where the person returned is found not to be legally qualified to receive the office at the time of his election, a new election shall be ordered. Where another than the person returned is found to have received the highest number of legal votes, such other shall be adjudged to be the person elected."

A subsequent section of the same act (1 Stanton, 447), limits the investigation to the grounds of contest set forth in the notice.

And as the notice in this case does not set forth any of the grounds recited in the law, but seeks to impeach the election on the ground that it was illegally, fraudulently, and violently held and controlled by the officers and soldiers of the United States, and other persons acting in concert with them, to the prejudice of the contestant and in favor of the sitting Senator, the undersigned are of opinion, and do so decide, that they have no legal authority to entertain the same.

Wherefore, they ask to be discharged from its further consideration.

J. B. BRUNER, Chairman,
W. A. DUDLEY,
J. H. CHANDLER,
F. L. CLEVELAND,
A. D. COSBY.

And the question being taken on concurring in the report of the committee, it was decided in the affirmative.
Mr. Bruner moved the following resolution, viz:

Resolved, That the notice of Harrison Thompson to A. S. Allan, contesting his right to a seat in the Senate, with the accompanying documents, be referred to the standing Committee on Privileges and Elections.

Mr. Prall then moved the following as an amendment thereto, viz:

And that said committee further inquire whether military interference was used at any of the voting places when any other member of the Senate was elected, either at the last election or the election of 1863, and whether, in the judgment of the committee, such interference in either case affected the result, and whether it was used at the instance of the Senator whose election was thus affected, and that said committee have power to send for persons and papers.

The question was then taken on the adoption of the amendment, and it was decided in the negative.

The yeas and nays being required thereon by Messrs. Prall and John D. Landrum, were as follows, viz:

Those who voted in the affirmative, were—

Those who voted in the negative, were—

The question was then taken on the adoption of the resolution, and it was decided in the affirmative.

A message in writing was received from the Governor by Mr. Van Winkle, Secretary of State, which reads as follows, viz:

COMMONWEALTH OF KENTUCKY,
EXECUTIVE OFFICE, FRANKFORT, Dec. 6, 1865.

Gentlemen of the Senate and House of Representatives:

The accompanying “Joint resolutions in relation to the reconstruction of the States recently in rebellion,” adopted by the “General Assembly of the State of Vermont,” were received by me on yesterday, and are now laid before you for your consideration.

Holding that the Union is indissoluble; that secession is a nullity; that the separation of the States by rebellion is impracticable; that the States are, as is the Union, perpetual; that no treason or rebellion of the people of any State can destroy the existence of such State, except by destroying the Union, I would suggest and recommend that you give decisive expression of your condemnation of the destructive and revolutionary policy urged by these resolutions.

Either secession is a right of a State, or it is a nullity. If it be a right, then ages of repentance cannot purge our country of the sin of having prosecuted a war of conquest against the seceded States. If the secession of those States was, as I insist, a nullity, then these resolutions are as heretical and adverse to our form of government as secession; for they are based upon the admission that secession has accomplished separation, and that we hold those States by conquest. Of the two, secession has the vantage ground; for these resolutions, by necessary implication, admit the right of secession, and make us guilty of bathing our country in its own best blood to establish their heretical dogmas.

The States being perpetual and indestructible, the rebellion of its citizens, when unsuccessful, cannot destroy a State. Restoration of the Government over such State, ex necessitate rei, restores the State to its relations with the Government of the Union, and leaves nothing to complete the perfect relations but to organize the State Government. The citizen in rebellion only can be punished—not the State.

The life of the States is the life of the Union. A State cannot perish, and the Union live. It is a member of the Union; its life is part of the life of the Union; and when it perishes, the Union decays and dies. The perpetuity of the States is essential to the existence of the Union. The destruction of the States destroys the Union.

The existence of the States depends upon preserving the right of each State to determine for itself the details of its own republican form of Government. The right to "life, liberty, and property" is a natural right which pertains to each individual in a state of nature. The right to vote, to hold and exercise office, are strictly and purely political rights or franchises conferred by organized society upon those deemed by such society competent and safe to intrust with these franchises.

Each State must be left free to choose for itself its own form of republican government, and determine who shall be the depositaries of its political franchises; otherwise the foundations of our republican government will be upheaved, and the fairest fabric that ever sheltered human liberty will be overthrown. The States will be blotted from the map of free republics; and centralized domination will overbear the cherished freedom of our people.

Holding these opinions as fundamental and vital, I recommend that you give to them a clear, emphatic, and decided expression as the views held by your body and by the noble people whom we represent.

THOS. E. BRAMLETTE,
Governor of Kentucky.
Joint Resolutions in relation to the reconstruction of the States recently in rebellion against the United States.

Resolved, That it is the sense of the General Assembly of this State, that in the reconstruction of the Governments of the States lately in rebellion against the Government and authority of the United States, the moral power and legal authority vested in the Federal Government should be executed, to secure equal rights, without respect to color, to all citizens in those States, including herein the right of elective franchise.

Resolved, That the Secretary of State is hereby instructed to transmit a copy of these resolutions to the President of the United States, to the Governors of the several States, and also a copy to each of our Senators and Representatives in Congress, who are hereby requested to present the same to both Houses in Congress.

JOHN W. STEWART,
"Speaker of the House of Representatives.
A. B. GARDNER,
"President of the Senate."

STATE OF VERMONT, SECRETARY OF STATE'S OFFICE,
MONTPELIER, November, A. D. 1865.

I hereby certify that the foregoing is a true copy of a joint resolution passed by the General Assembly of the State of Vermont at the October session, held A. D. 1865.

GEORGE NICHOLS,
"Secretary of State."

On motion of Mr. Bruner,
Ordered, That the Public Printer forthwith print 150 copies thereof for the use of the members of the General Assembly, and that the same be referred to the Committee on Federal Relations.

Also a message in writing from the Governor, which reads as follows, viz:

COMMONWEALTH OF KENTUCKY,
EXECUTIVE OFFICE, FRANKFORT, DECEMBER 5, 1865.

Gentlemen of the Senate:

An enrolled bill, which originated in the Senate, entitled "An act concerning slaves and runaways," was laid on my table for approval, after night, on Saturday preceding the final adjournment of the recent General Assembly, on the morning of Monday, the 5th June, 1865.

The bill proposed some material changes in the existing laws; some of which met my approbation; but, as the bill had to be taken as a whole, or rejected, I could not give my approval to all its provisions; and not having time to write out my objections, it was held over until your present assembly, pursuant to article 3, section 22, of the Constitution of Kentucky.

The 1st section, which repealed the laws giving rewards for the apprehension of runaways, and the 3d section, which authorizes owners to give permission to their slaves to hire themselves out, either for their own or owner's use, as the writing should specify, were regarded as in accordance with the then existing facts relating to slavery, and would have been approved but for the 2d section, which provides:

"That any person who hereafter shall, without the consent of the owner, hire or permit to remain in his or her service the negro slave of any other person, that the person so hiring or permitting to remain in his or her service such slave, shall be liable to the owner thereof for the sum of five dollars for every twenty-four hours such slave may be in such service, to be recovered and collected as other debts for similar amounts under existing laws. Any judgment under this section may be enforced by execution of "ca. sa."

This section fixes a highly punitive compensation, and revives, for the special enforcement of slave hire, imprisonment for the debt—a principle of law which has been so long and justly condemned as odious by our free and intelligent people.

The laws which give a just and reasonable compensation, with the usual means of enforcement, are ample for all the purposes of right and justice. I cannot see that slave labor has any higher claims for compensation, and the means of enforcing its payment, than the labor of the free white man. Yet this second section discriminates in favor of slave labor, by giving exorbitant wages to slave owners, with the extraordinary remedy of imprisonment for the debt—"execution of "ca. sa."

Laboring white men have no such remedy to enforce the payment of their wages, how much soever their necessities may cry aloud for the enforced payment of their daily earnings. I can perceive no just reason for this discrimination in favor of slave labor. At the time this bill was laid upon my table, the force of current events had so disturbed the condition of slavery, and upheaved its very foundations, that scarcely any one could tell who was slave and who free of our negro population. By the enactments of Congress, the negro soldier, whether volunteer or drafted, and his family, were declared to be free. The constitutionality of these enactments were hotly disputed pro et contra. Negroes were going at large, asserting their freedom under those laws, and in virtue of military passes, with no owner, in a large number of cases, pursuing or claiming them; and, in other cases, they were pursued with earnest zeal into the very camps of recruits by claimants.

Had this 2d section become the law, it would have been the occasion of a large amount of captious and vindictive litigation, and would have provoked the general disquiet and disturbance of society; greatly aggravating and increasing the evils already upon us, without one redeeming good result. It would certainly be ill-timed now to adopt resentful legislation toward that condition of affairs relating to slavery, which we could not avoid, and for which we are not responsible, and which would be fraught with much evil, with no compensating good. It cannot be presumed that any reasonable mind could hope, by such a measure, to secure slavery in Kentucky from the irresistible sweep of current events evoked by the storm of rebellion. I could not presume the General Assembly guilty of such nugacity.

The adoption of such law would moot the constitutional powers of Congress in every justices' court throughout the State, and overwhelm the country with ill-natured and vexatious lawsuits. Its effect would be to vagabondize the negroes turned loose upon the country, by deterring the citizen from employing those willing to labor. The uncertainty of who was free, and who not, and the certainty of the threatened penalties of this law, would have the effect to make vagabonds of those who would work, but who, by this law, are denied employment.

It occurs to me that the true wisdom for the times through which we are passing, is to harmonize, reconcile, and restore good fellowship and kindly relations, rather than afford facilities to a captious spirit, and encouragements to a vindictive temper. This second section offers a tempting bounty to this class of persons, and holds out an inviting reward to recruit the ranks of ill-natured litigants. If they will bring suit, it promises vindictive wages, and the enforcement of any judgment recovered under the 24 section by imprisonment for the debt—"execution of ca. sa."

A further statement of objections is deemed unnecessary; these being regarded as sufficient to warrant me, pursuant to the provisions of article 3, section 22, of the Constitution of Kentucky, in returning the bill to the Senate, in which it originated, with these my objections to its passage.

THOS. E. BRAMLETTE,

Mr. Prall, from the board selected to try the case of S. P. Love, contesting the right of O. P. Johnson to a seat upon the floor of the Senate, handed in both a majority and minority report in said case.

The majority report is as follows, viz:—

The undersigned, the majority of the board selected to try the case of S. P. Love, contesting the election of O. P. Johnson, the sitting Senator from the district composed of the counties of Ohio, Muhlenburg, and Butler, report that the notice of contest in said case does not set forth any of the grounds upon which by law we are authorized to act. It is, therefore, our judgment, that the claim of said contestant should be dismissed.

JOHN A. PRALL, Chairman,
N. R. BLACK,
M. J. COOK.

The minority report is as follows, viz:—

The undersigned, the minority of said board, do concur in so much of the foregoing judgment and report as decides that the notice of contest is not such as is required by law, and that they have no jurisdiction of the matter. But being without any jurisdiction, they do not regard the board as authorized to “dismiss” the matter; and, therefore, they would refer it to the Senate for final disposition.

W. A. DUDLEY,
E. M. GARRIOTT.

The question was then taken upon the adoption of the majority report, and it was decided in the negative.

Mr. Botts, from the board selected to try the case of George R. Fearons, contesting the right of R. T. Baker to a seat upon the floor of the Senate, handed in both a majority and minority report in said case.

The majority report is as follows, viz:

The undersigned, the board appointed and sworn to try the case of George R. Fearons, contesting the election of R. T. Baker, Senator from the 25th senatorial district, report that the notice of the contestant does not set forth any one of the grounds upon which we are authorized to act; and, inasmuch as we have no authority to hear proof as to any ground not set forth in the notice, it is adjudged that contestant has failed to establish his claim, and that the sitting Senator, R. T. Baker, is entitled to his seat.

ELIJAH PATRICK,
W. J. WORTHINGTON,
T. P. CARDWELL.

The minority report is as follows, viz:

The undersigned, members of the election board raised by the Senate, in conformity with the 7th article of chapter 32, of the Revised Statutes, to whom was referred the memorial and accompanying papers of George R. Fearons, contesting the legality of the election under which R. T. Baker was returned elected from the 25th senatorial district, composed of the counties of Campbell and Pendleton, concurring in the premises assumed by the majority of such board, but dissenting from their conclusion, submit the following report of a minority of said board:

The article of the Revised Statutes referred to (in the opinion of the undersigned) makes provision for the action of a board raised, as in this instance, in three contingencies only; neither of which embraces the objections urged by the memorialist to the sitting member retaining his seat. It is not contended by the memorialist in the notice which he has had served on the member returned, that he has received a greater or an equal number of the legal votes cast at the late election; or that the member returned, when voted for, was not legally qualified to receive the office—the only subjects (in the opinion of the undersigned) for investigation by this board that provision has been made for by law. But it is contended by the memorialist that the election under which the Senator returned claims to have been elected, "was not held or conducted according to the Constitution and laws of the State of Kentucky." Of which grave imputation there are eleven specifications; among which specifications, it is alleged that the officers of the election were subjected to military duress; that legal voters were arrested at the places of voting, for attempting to exercise their right of suffrage; that others were deterred when at the polls from offering to vote; that legal voters were deterred from attending the several voting places by the presence of armed military force; and that oaths unauthorized by law were prescribed to legal voters when offering to vote. How far such charges presented in the documents referred by the Senate to this board have been sustained by the accompanying evidence, the undersigned have not deemed it their province to investigate or report to the Senate, though so vitally involving the freedom and equality of the election—that investigation, in their opinion, not having been prescribed to them by law while acting as a board constituted as they are, and no further powers having been conferred on them by the Senate than such as are prescribed by the statute under which they were raised. They are fortified in the conclusion at which they have arrived, that their scope of inquiry and investigation is circumscribed by the statute and Constitution of the State, by a recent adjudication of our appellate court in the case of Leeman vs. Hinton, reported in 1st Duvall, page 37. Power to investigate and report the facts of this case, with their opinion thereon, as has been assumed by a majority of the board, and even to suggest appropriate action for the Senate, might have been legally and constitutionally conferred (in the opinion of the undersigned) on this board by the Senate, in whom all control of the subject is reposed by the 20th section of the second article of the Constitution. But such power over the subject not having been conferred on them by the Senate, and could not have been in their view of the section of the Constitution referred to reposed in them by law, such article of the Constitution providing that "each House of the Legislature shall judge of the qualifications, elections, and return of its members; but a contested election shall be determined in such manner as shall be directed by law," they respectfully request that the board on which they have been chosen be discharged from any further consideration of the subject referred to them, that the Senate, under the foregoing section of the Constitution, may take such action in reference thereto as may be deemed most appropriate, which the undersigned could not conscientiously entertain in view of the oath which, as members of this body, and at the organization of this board, was administered to them.

WM. S. BOTTS,
J. W. GORIN.

The question was then taken upon the adoption of the report of the majority, and it was decided in the negative.

Resolved by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, That we do hereby unequivocally express a firm resolution to maintain and defend the Constitution of the United States, and the Constitution of this State, against all foreign or domestic aggressions, and against disunionists, whether from the North or the South; that we will support the Government of the United States in all measures warranted by the Constitution.

2. Resolved, That Kentucky does hereby explicitly and peremptorily declare that she views the powers of the Federal Government as resulting from the compact as limited by the plain sense and intentions of the instrument constituting that compact, and that, in case of a deliberate, palpable, and dangerous exercise of other powers not granted by said compact, the States who are parties thereto have the right to interpose for the arresting of the evil, and maintaining in their respective limits the authorities, rights, and liberties appertaining to them.

3. Resolved, That Kentucky also expresses her regret at the manifestations of the Federal Government to enlarge its powers by a forced construction of the Federal Constitution; and that, while Kentucky is free to indorse the policy of the present Executive, Andrew Johnson, in his late message to the Congress of the United States upon the status of the seceded States and negro suffrage, we think this a proper time to further declare that Congress has no power, under the Constitution, to interfere with or control the domestic institutions of the several States, and that such States are the sole and proper judges of everything appertaining to their own affairs not prohibited by the Constitution; and that all efforts made by Congress to interfere with slavery in Kentucky, or to take incipient steps in relation thereto, are calculated to lead to the most alarming consequences, and should not be countenanced by any friend of our political institutions, and will receive the utter condemnation of this Legislature.

4. Resolved, That Kentucky is, and ever has been, loyal to the Government; and while she claims the right to discriminate between the Government and the Administration, she claims that she is entitled to all the rights of a loyal State, the restoration to the right of the writ of habeas corpus, trial by jury, the withdrawal of the military, and the restoration of civil in place of military law.

STATE OF KENTUCKY, EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,}
FRANKFORT, Dec. 12, 1865.

Lieut. Gov. Jacob, President of Senate of Kentucky:

In response to the resolution of the Senate of 11th inst., I can inform the Senate that no official information has been received of the ratification of the Constitutional Amendment by the requisite number of States; upon the contrary, I received, a few days since, the accompanying communication from Hon. Wm. H. Seward, Secretary of State United States, which is all the information in this office of official character.

THOS. E. BRAMLETTE,
Governor of Kentucky.

DEPARTMENT OF STATE,}
WASHINGTON, November 18, 1865.

To His Excellency the Governor of Kentucky, Frankfort, Ky.:

Sir: Congress, in February last, by the requisite vote of two thirds of both Houses, passed a resolution proposing an amendment to the Constitution of the United States, which declares that neither slavery nor involuntary servitude, except as a punishment for crime, whereof the party shall have been duly convicted, shall exist within the United States, or any place subject to their jurisdiction; and that Congress shall have power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation. A certified copy of this resolution was promptly transmitted by mail to each of the Governors of all of the States. When the proposed amendment shall have been adopted, by being ratified by the Legislatures of three fourths of the States, the law makes it the duty of the Secretary of State, after official notice thereof has been received at the Department of State, forthwith to cause the said amendment to be published in the newspapers authorized to promulgate the laws, with his certificate, specifying the States by which the same may have been adopted, and that the same has become valid to all intents and purposes as a part of the Constitution of the United States.

Up to the present time, official notice of the ratification of said amendment by the Legislatures of eighteen States has been received; but there is reason to believe that the Legislatures of other States have ratified the said amendment. It is also supposed to be probable that the Legislatures of still other States will shortly ratify it. In that case, and upon receiving the proper notices, it will become necessary for this Department to fulfill the duty of publication and certification already referred to.
With a view, therefore, of being prepared for the prompt performance of the important duty thus enjoined by law, I have to request that your Excellency will be pleased to give to this Department, as soon as convenient, the official notice contemplated, whenever the Legislature of the State of Kentucky shall have duly ratified the amendment in question.

I have the honor to be,

Your Excellency's most ob't servant,

WILLIAM H. SEWARD.

Ordered, That the Public Printer print 150 copies of said communication, and that it be referred to the Committee on Federal Relations.

Together with the amendment heretofore proposed by Mr. Benton as a substitute for said bill.

Said amendment reads as follows, viz:

Whereas, It has been officially announced that the national authority has been restored in all the States and Territories of the Union; and whereas, a mere territorial Union is worthless, unless cemented and strengthened by general good will and fraternal feeling; therefore,

§ 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, That any person who shall have been a resident for the year preceding his application, and has been a citizen of Kentucky, and shall have forfeited such citizenship by having engaged in or have been connected with the late rebellion against the Government of the United States, or against this State, and shall have received pardon from the President of the United States, or having accepted the terms of the amnesty prescribed by the President, may be restored to citizenship by producing such pardon or his oath of amnesty, before any court of record of this Commonwealth, in the county where he resides, and shall prove to the satisfaction of the court, by at least two witnesses, citizens of this State, that said applicant has for a year past behaved himself as a man of good moral character, has conformed to the requirement of said oath or pardon, and is attached to the principles of the Constitution of the United States and to the government of this State.

§ 2. That said court, being satisfied the application should be granted, shall cause the proceedings to be recorded, and make an order restoring such applicant to all the rights of citizenship.

[For Report—See Legislative Document, No. 11.]

Mr. Prall, from the same committee, made the following minority report, viz:

[For Report—See Legislative Document, No. 11.]

The question was then taken upon concurring with the majority report in said case, and it was decided in the affirmative.

The yeas and nays being required thereon by Messrs. Prall and Baker, were as follows, viz:

Those who voted in the affirmative, were—

Those who voted in the negative, were—

Mr. Lilly, from the board appointed to try the case of Wm. C. Halbert, contesting the right of L. B. Goggin to a seat on the floor of the Senate, made the following as the majority report of said board:

The undersigned, a majority of the board selected to try the contest in the case of William C. Halbert against L. B. Goggin, beg leave to report the following as their judgment and final decision in said case, viz: We find from the evidence that L. B. Goggin received the highest number of legal votes cast between the candidates for the office of Senator at the election held on the 7th day of August, 1865, in the Thirty-first Senatorial District, composed of the counties of Mason and Lewis, and that he was duly elected and is entitled to retain his seat. We dismiss the contest and claim of William C. Halbert.

H. C. Lilly, T. P. Cardwell, J. D. Landrum.

November 13, 1865.

The report of the minority in the foregoing case of Halbert against Goggin was taken up and read, as follows, viz:

A minority of the board to whom was referred the matter of contest touching the right of L. B. Goggin to a seat in this House as Senator from the Thirty-first Senatorial District, make the following report:

That so far as relates to the alleged military interference, they do not deem themselves authorized to act. This question having been already settled by the Senate, they do not think it necessary to add anything further to state that the evidence in the case as to military interference and improper influence, is such as to justify us in suggesting that it should be investigated by the proper committee. This may be unnecessary should the Senate concur with us in the other findings and conclusion hereinafter stated.

As to the grounds of contest of which the board have jurisdiction, they find as follows, viz:

They find from the testimony, that so much of the (10th) tenth specification in the notice is true, as alleges "At the Mower precinct, No. 1, in Lewis county, the election was held at the house of David W. Fears, a place not appointed by law, and the votes cast at that place were illegal, and should be rejected for that reason."

The majority for L. B. Goggin at the Mower precinct was ninety-six (96). His majority, counting this precinct, was eighty-three (83). Rejecting the vote at this precinct, W. C. Halbert has a majority of thirteen (13), and is entitled to the seat.

There is proof in the case showing quite a number of illegal votes cast for Mr. Goggin at other precincts; but we do not deem it important to point them out specifically, as the rejection of the vote at Mower precinct gives the majority to the contestant.

The place appointed by law for holding the election in the Mower precinct was at the "Temperance Hall;" Fears' house is distant from the hall, by the public road and ordinarily traveled route, about two and a half miles; by a passway, it is one and a half miles distant.

There were other places where the election could have been held much nearer to the place appointed by law than Fears' house. The election was held for many years at the house of Jacob Mower, distant less than a mile, at a public place near a cross-road, and nearer the center of the district than the house of Fears. Mower proves that he would have been willing that the election should have been held at his house, and the proof shows it would have been a suitable place. The Temperance Hall had been burned before the election; but the judges failed to meet at the place appointed and adjourn the election to the nearest convenient place, and make public proclamation of such change. If any adjournment and proclamation had been made (which the proof does not establish) the house of Fears was not the "most convenient place," and the adjournment to that place was unauthorized and illegal. Fears' house was not a suitable place, nor convenient to a majority of the voters of the precinct. It was also an unsafe place for Conservative voters, as the lawless character and conduct of the man (abundantly set forth in the proof) warrants us to conclude.

We therefore recommend the adoption of the following resolution:

Resolved, That the contestant, W. C. Halbert, has been legally elected Senator by the voters of the Thirty-first Senatorial District, and is entitled to a seat in this House as the legally elected Senator from said district.

C. T. WORTHINGTON,
T. W. HAMMOND.

The question was then taken upon concurring with the majority in their report, and it was decided in the negative.

Resolved, That the Senate advise and consent to said appointments.

Also, a message from the Governor, which reads as follows, viz:

COMMONWEALTH OF KENTUCKY,
EXECUTIVE OFFICE, FRANKFORT, DEC. 9, 1865.

Gentlemen of the Senate and House of Representatives:

Since the final adjournment of the last General Assembly Richard Hawes, indicted in the Bourbon and Franklin circuit courts for treason; Wm. E. Simms, indicted for treason in the Bourbon circuit; and James A. S Percefull, James A. Percefull, and Thomas J. Percefull, indicted for treason in the Knox circuit, have petitioned me for pardon. Repreives have been granted to each until the end of your present Assembly, pursuant to the power vested in me by article 3, section 10, Constitution of Kentucky; and I now lay their cases before you, to whom the power of pardoning is reserved by the article aforesaid, with the recommendation that they be pardoned. No other applications have been made to me; but there are doubtless many similar cases within the State.

Entertaining the opinion that acts of treason committed within the State, in aid of the recent rebellion against the United States, the structure of our Government necessarily merges the treason against the State in that against the United States; I therefore hold that a pardon from the President of the United States, either by special pardon or by general amnesty, acquits all entitled to such amnesty or holding such pardon of all liability for treason in any State court. Were the law ruled otherwise, the provisions of the Federal and State Constitutions securing the citizen from being twice put in jeopardy of life or limb for the same offense, would be nullified. Although the act of levying war within a State against the Government of the United States may, if successful, have the effect of overthrowing the State Government, yet it cannot be but the one offense—the crime of treason against the Federal Government—against which it was levied. In treason either the one or the other Government must have the exclusive jurisdiction, otherwise a conflict of jurisdiction would ensue, and the constitutional guaranty against being twice enjeopardized will be disregarded.

If the levying of war be only against the State Government, then the State tribunals have exclusive jurisdiction; but if the war be levied against the United States, though waged within the State as a necessary incident to such war, the acts can only be treason against the Government of the United States, and State courts have not jurisdiction.

Such being the view which I take of this question of constitutional law; contenting myself with the simple statement of it, without deeming it necessary to cite authorities or elaborate by argument, I recommend that you grant a general pardon of all who may stand indicted in the courts of the State for the crime of treason, based upon acts committed of levying war within this State against the Government of the United States.

And in this connection I would recommend the repeal of the 1st section of an act, entitled "An act to prohibit and prevent rebellion by citizens of Kentucky and others in the State," approved October 1st, 1861, which provides, "That any citizen of this State who, as a soldier or officer of the army of the so-called Confederate States, and as part of an armed force, shall invade this State to make war upon it, shall be deemed guilty of felony, and, upon conviction in any court having jurisdiction thereof, shall be confined in the penitentiary for any period of not less than one nor more than ten years, at the discretion of the jury."

Since the termination of the war several pardons have been granted to those indicted under this section. Though the power of pardon is full in such cases, yet a repeal of this section would end the necessity for Executive interference. The repeal of this section will give no exemption to those embraced in the second section, and who remain the proper subjects of punishment; nor will it exempt from punishment guerrillas, their aiders and abettors, who waged within our borders their barbarous and uncivilized warfare, and against whom the law should maintain a fixed condemnation, and burn with the brand of an indelible and enduring stigma.

THOS. E. BRAMLETTE,
Governor of Kentucky.

Ordered, That said message be referred to the Committee on the Revised Statutes.

Also, a message from the Governor, which reads as follows, viz:

Mr. Dudley, from the board to try the case of the contested election of John G. Carlisle, contesting the right of M. M. Benton to a seat on the floor of the Senate, made the following as the report of the majority of the committee.

The undersigned, a majority of the board to determine the contested election of Carlisle against Benton, would respectfully report:

That the ground of contest set forth in the notice of the contestant, is, that the election was not "free and equal." The board do therefore decide that they have no jurisdiction in the case, and report such, their decision, to the Senate for its further action.

W. A. DUDLEY, Chairman.
T. B. COCHRAN.
WM. JOHNSON,
G. C. RIFFE.

Mr. Morrow, from the same board, made the following as a minority report of said committee in said case:

The undersigned, one of the board selected by the Senate, according to law, to try the contested election in which J. C. Carlisle is contestant and M. M. Benton contestee, most respectfully dissents from the decision of the majority of the board. An examination of the law will show that contested elections must be tried by a board selected according to the provisions of the Revised Statutes on the subject. The board thus selected must make a verdict; a report it has no power or authority to make. The decision made by them cannot be reviewed or reversed by the Senate. It is a finality. When such decision is made, the Senate can take no action except to carry out the verdict rendered; it cannot refuse to receive it, nor can the decision be reversed; it can only carry into effect the judgment of the board. If there is a contest, the board clearly has jurisdiction, and must make up a verdict. Their verdict is, however, limited to the three propositions laid down in sub-division 8, section 1st, article 7th, chapter 32d, 1st vol. Revised Statutes. The jurisdiction of the board is clear, and they must make one of the decisions indicated by that portion of the Revised Statutes referred to. The notice given by the contestant is a notice of contest, and as such must be tried and decided by a board. A contest in legal parlance is where two parties claim the same right, or where one party claims a right which is denied by the other. This case certainly comes within the purview of the second definition, and must, in all respects, be treated and regarded as a contested election. Contested elections must be tried by a board organized and sworn according to law. This case is evidently a contested election, because John G. Carlisle, in his notice, denies the right of M. M. Benton to his seat in the Senate. Upon that notice the board is organized, and hold themselves ready as a court to adjudicate the case. The cause comes on for hearing, and the contestant wholly fails to establish his case by any evidence admissible before the court. The board are in no manner responsible for this. The fault is either in the contestant or the law. Where the wrong is, it is not now necessary to inquire. The law governing cases of contested elections is plainly laid down in the Revised Statutes, and it is the misfortune of the contestant if he has mistaken or misunderstood the law. The contestant should have brought evidence of which the board could have taken cognizance. His failure so to do is ruinous to him, but cannot have the effect to deprive the board of their jurisdiction. The board must on the case find a verdict against him as in case of a non-suit, and render a decision giving the seat to the member who holds the certificate.

This view of the case in no way deprives the Senate of its power to inquire into the qualifications, elections, and returns of its own member. The right to do so is admitted. But whenever a legislative body desires to take such action against one of its members, it must do so on its motion. It cannot take such action upon the papers of a contested election, but the whole proceeding must commence, both as to the motion and proof, de novo.

For these reasons the undersigned cannot concur with the action of the majority of the board, but enters this paper as his dissent to the same.

THOMAS Z. MORROW.
The question was then taken upon the adoption of the report of the majority, and it was decided in the affirmative.

On motion of Mr. Helm,

Resolution in regard to the election of United States Senator.

Also, a message from the Governor, in writing, which was taken up and read as follows, viz:

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
FRANKFORT, Dec. 18th, 1863.

Gentlemen of the Senate:

I nominate, for your advice and consent, the following persons to be Notaries Public for the counties named, viz:

J. E. Clay, Henderson county.
William Johnson, Nelson county.
Stephen Elliott, Hardin county.

William Johnson.
Resolved, That the Senate advise and consent to said appointments.

Mr. Dudley, from the Committee on Privileges and Elections, to whom was referred the case of Col. Love, contesting the right of O. P. Johnson to a seat on the floor of the Senate, made the following report, viz:

The Committee on Privileges and Elections, to whom was referred the investigation of the election, qualifications, and return of O. P. Johnson, from the 8th Senatorial District, beg leave respectfully to report:

That they have carefully examined the testimony produced before them, and while they are satisfied that threatening speeches were made, and much abusive language indulged in, by Col. Johnson (commanding the U. S. forces in that election district), a few days before the election, in order to deter voters from the polls; and that soldiers of the United States, or of the State of Kentucky, were placed by their commanding officers in the vicinity of many of the polls; and that at some of the polls they interfered to prevent a free expression of the will of the people; at one of them the officer in command actually requiring the judges to receive the votes of three soldiers of the United States who acknowledged themselves to be non-residents of the Senatorial district—yet inasmuch as a full average vote was cast at the senatorial election, and it appears that those persons who appeared at the polls, and actually offered to vote, were, in almost every instance, permitted to vote, and that the votes of the three soldiers referred to were thrown out by the board to compare the polls, they do not feel authorized to report in favor of vacating the seat of the sitting Senator.

While the committee are of opinion that the Senate should unhesitatingly refuse a seat to any member whose return they may have reason to believe was procured by military interference, or any illegal means whatever, or in any case where the election was not "free and equal," they are, at the same time, satisfied that such a power should be exercised with great caution, and in no spirit of partisanship. They therefore recommend to the Senate the passage of the following resolution:

Resolved, That O. P. Johnson, the Senator elect from the 8th Senatorial District, is entitled to his seat.

W. A. DUDLEY,
JOS. H. CHANDLER,
JOHN L. HELM.

We of the committee fully concur in the foregoing recommendation.

J. A. PRALL,
T. P. CARDWELL.
And the question being taken upon concurring with the report of the committee, it was decided in the affirmative.

On motion, leave of indefinite absence was granted to Messrs. Chiles, Cook, and Coeban.

§ 2. That before a sale of land under execution, order of attachment, or judgment of a court, the officer in whose hands the execution may be, or the court, shall cause ten acres, or so much thereof as shall not exceed in value one thousand dollars, and which may be selected by the defendant, to be valued under oath and set apart to him by two disinterested housekeepers of the county not related to either party; and, in case they disagree, the officer shall act as umpire.

§ 3. That the valuation so made shall be in writing, signed by the persons making it, and returned to the court directing it, or with the execution; and the officer must refer to and explain the proceeding in his return on the execution.

Provided, however, that if the land, when offered for sale, does not bring more than one thousand dollars, there shall be no sale.

§ 5. That no mortgage, release, or waiver of such exemption shall be valid, unless the same be in writing, subscribed by the defendant and his wife, and acknowledged and recorded in the same manner as conveyances of real estate; and such exemption shall continue after the death of the defendant for the benefit of his widow and children, but shall be estimated in allotting dower.

§ 6. Mr. Gorin read and laid on the table a joint resolution.

The rule of the Senate being dispensed with, said resolution was taken up and read, as follows, viz:

1. Resolved by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, That the willful and unnecessary exercise of unconstitutional power by the Chief Executive of the United States is at all times dangerous to popular liberty, and a people jealous of their rights, and determined to maintain them, should not suffer such usurpations of power to pass unrebuted and without a solemn protest against them.

2. Resolved, That the reconstruction policy of the President of the United States, as exhibited in his official message to Congress, under all the embarrassing and trying circumstances by which he was surrounded, was perhaps the wisest and best means of restoring the States in rebellion to their legitimate position in the Union, and now, more than ever, in view of the interests of peace and the national safety, demands the acquiescence of the nation.

3. Resolved, That each State is entitled to all the rights, dignity, and equality of the several States, and the States late in rebellion not less so than their sister States of the Union; and any attempt to hold them as "colonial dependencies or conquered provinces," or refusal to admit them to representation in Congress, is a violation of the plain principles of the Constitution, at war with the fundamental compacts of the Union, and we hold in abhorrence all such schemes, come from whatever source they may.

4. Resolved, That Kentucky now, as ever, is devoted to the Union of the Constitution; she has freely offered her treasure and her most precious blood to maintain it; her gallant slain on a hundred battlefields, and her scarred and veteran heroes now living, attest her loyalty, and, waiving the many wrongs that have been unnecessarily inflicted upon her in the past by the federal authorities, to humble her at the feet of power, she regrets the continued violations of her most sacred rights, such as the withholding from her citizens the writ of habeas corpus, and assuming to exercise pretended civil jurisdiction over the negro population of the State; and against these outrages and repeated injuries she most solemnly protested.

Ordered, That the Public Printer print 150 copies thereof, and that it be placed in the orders of the day.

Leave was given to bring in the following bills, viz:

Resolved, That Kentucky most cordially tenders her thanks to her fifty thousand volunteer soldiers, who with such heroic patriotism volunteered their services in the Federal service to suppress the late rebellion: and that she will cherish the memory of their patriotic services and victories with the highest degree of pride and satisfaction.
Be it further resolved, That she condemns the action of those of her citizens who volunteered and enlisted to aid the late rebellion; and that she further condemns, in the most emphatic terms, those of her citizens who stood at home and sympathized with those in rebellion, and applied the opprobrious epithets of "Lincoln hirelings," "Abolitionists," &c., to her Union soldiers, who were so nobly and gallantly fighting for the institutions of their country.

1. Resolved by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, That the thanks of the people of Kentucky are due to God for the maintenance of the Union and the unimpaired authority of the Constitution of the United States, and that we owe a debt of lasting gratitude to the brave soldiers and sailors of the Republic for the virtuous valor by which that triumph was achieved.

2. Resolved, That we recognize the patriotism and sagacious statesmanship of Andrew Johnson, President of the United States, as evinced by his official acts and in his recent messages to Congress, and we pledge him our hearty support.

3. Resolved, That we rejoice in the manifestation of the people of the States lately in rebellion, to resume their obligations of loyalty, and we hail with fraternal feelings the prospect of an early restoration of their practical relations to the Government of the United States.

4. Resolved, That the allegiance due by the citizen to his State is subordinate to the paramount allegiance due to the Government of the United States.

5. Resolved, That while we deem it right and essential to the national unity to sustain the Government of the United States in the exercise of all its just powers, we deem it no less essential to the liberties of the people to preserve the well-conceived balances of power as defined in the organic law of the land, and to protest against every encroachment upon the reserved rights of the States, among the most important of which is the right of each State to determine the qualifications of voters.

6. Resolved, That the Congress of the United States has no power, under the second section of the thirteenth amendment to the Constitution of the United States, to pass any law granting the right of suffrage in the States to persons of African descent, and that we are opposed to granting suffrage to persons of that class by the State.

7. Resolved, That we regard the preservation of the national credit as a sacred obligation, and that the debt contracted in the suppression of the rebellion is of the most binding force and effect.

8. Resolved, That believing that there is no further necessity for the suspension of the writ of habeas corpus in Kentucky, we respectfully request the President of the United States to revoke the order declaring its suspension; and that in order to the complete restoration of civil authority, we further request that the military forces be withdrawn from the State.

9. Resolved, That it is the duty of the Legislature, now in session, to enact such laws, adapted to the changed condition of those recently held in slavery, and made free by the late amendment of the Constitution, as may secure to them full protection in all their rights of person and property, and thus remove all need for Federal interposition in their behalf, either through the Freedman's Bureau or otherwise; and having full confidence that the people of Kentucky will see to it that such laws are enacted, we therefore respectfully request the President of the United States to remove the Freedman's Bureau from this State.

10. Resolved, That the causes that have heretofore divided the loyal people of Kentucky have been removed by the adoption of the Constitutional Amendment, and that we cordially invite all such persons to co-operate with us in sustaining the wise and patriotic policy of Andrew Johnson, and in the further duty of placing our beloved State in full harmony with the Federal Government.

11. Resolved, That copies of these resolutions be sent to the President of the United States, and to each of our members of Congress.

And the question being taken thereon, it was decided in the affirmative.

Mr. Helm read and laid on the table a joint resolution.

The rule of the Senate being dispensed with, said resolution was taken up and read as follows, viz:

Proclamation has been made by the Hon. William H. Seward, Secretary of State, "by acts of ratification of twenty-seven States the following sections have been adopted as amendments to the Constitution of the United States:

"Section 1. Neither slavery nor involuntary servitude, except as punishment for crime, whereof the party shall have been duly convicted, shall exist within the United States, or any place subject to their jurisdiction."
"Section 2. Congress shall have power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation."

The people of the State of Kentucky, through the General Assembly, make this their solemn protest, against the proposed amendments:

They protest against the manner in which they were proposed by Congress to the States, and to the manner of their ratification. They protest against the legal effect as claimed for them in Kentucky.

The people of Kentucky insist that the people of the States originally possessed all the sovereign power; that in the adoption of the Constitution of the United States, for the purposes of a General Government, they surrendered certain powers which were specified in the Constitution, and such other powers as were necessary to carry into effect the granted powers—the States then having all sovereign power reserved to themselves respectively—that is, each individual State, to itself or the people, all powers not delegated to Congress.

It is insisted that the States held these powers which they reserved as individual States, in their original capacity and character as peoples of separate and distinct communities. They are held as all power was originally held by them, subject alone to their individual will; they are not within the scope of the amending power in the Constitution. They are in no manner made subject to the will of the General Government. The powers of the General Government cannot be increased by a transfer of the reserved powers of the States, except by the consent of each individual State.

The State of Kentucky, in the exercise of the highest attribute of sovereignty under the reserved powers to the States, formed for the local government of the people a constitution, by the provisions of which the right of masters in slaves is secured.

Slavery existed before the formation of the General Government, and was never subject to its control. The proposed amendments are objected to because of the time and the circumstances under which they were proposed by Congress to the States. It was in the midst of a civil war, when eleven of the fifteen States on whom it was especially designed to operate were not represented on the floor of Congress; its passage did not express the will of the people of the whole nation.

They are objected to because of the manner of their ratification. The Southern States lately in rebellion are counted in the number necessary to make the ratification complete.

Without inquiring into the fact whether the plan of the President for the restoration of those States to their political relations with the General Government is right or wrong, it is sufficient that it is known that the ratification, claimed to be the acts of those States, was when the governments of those States were provisional only; they had no other authority than the military authority of the President. The ratification was under the dictation of the President, when he held the lives and fortunes of a vast number of the best citizens of those States in his hands. They had been conquered, and many of the conquering army was in their presence. Martial law was declared to be in force. Their conventions and Legislatures were elected under a proscribed right of suffrage. They were powerless, and laid prostrate at the feet of power. In that condition the act was insisted on as indispensable to a restoration of the civil and political rights of the citizens of those States under the Constitution.

It is insisted that the fact of a restoration must have been completed at the time of their respective ratifications. It is not pretended that such was the fact. The restoration should have been so far complete that the citizens of those States should have been recognized as citizens of the United States, and, as such, admitted to representation on the floor of Congress.

If these things were not necessary, and the relations of those States were restored on ceasing their resistance to federal authority, then they were not possessed of, and did not act under, regular State governments, such as are contemplated by the Constitution of the United States. The Constitution, in its reference to States, must be understood to be, States acting under such regularly formed and organized governments as existed at the time of its formation. The people of Kentucky insist that the assemblies which assumed to ratify the amendments on the part of the States of Tennessee, Arkansas, and Louisiana, were not the regular State Legislatures of those States. The so-called State of Western Virginia was not a member of the Union according to the forms of the Constitution. That the acts of States in rebellion, having no recognized rights under the government, shall be made to destroy the rights to property of citizens in a loyal and adhering State, is anomalous in the history of governments. Such position cannot be sustained on principle, or justified by reason or common justice. The people of Kentucky regard these acts revolutionary and dangerous encroachments upon the reserved powers of the States, and protest against them.

They protest against the second clause, because its language confers upon Congress a broad and unlimited, and what is claimed to be an intended, power to legislate for the protection of a particular class of persons within the States. Besides being an innovation on the time-honored principle, that each State has the exclusive right to legislate over their own domestic affairs, they feel assured, under it, a system of legislation may and probably will be indulged which will make the negro a more disturbing element in our political system than ever before, and will ultimately terminate in the destruction of his race.

They deem this a fit occasion to make this, their solemn protest against the Freedman's Bureau into this State. It was done without authority of law. In its operations it is offensive to the people. It combines judicial with military authority, a combination forbidden by the letter and spirit of the Constitution. The same officer who passes his judgment executes it at the door of a prison or at the point of the bayonet. They deny that a judicial officer may be appointed otherwise than by the President, with the advice and consent of the Senate. The introduction of this swarm of federal officials without authority of law they regard as an exercise of arbitrary and despotic power. Its effects will be to oppress the people and to defeat the enactment or the enforcement of wise and just laws for the protection and government of persons of color, over whom the Bureau has assumed jurisdiction. It will defeat contracts for labor, and ultimately destroy those whom it professes to protect.
While thus protesting, the people of Kentucky recognize as an existing fact that those who have been held to service, many of whom are now in our midst, have been placed beyond the control of their masters by the action of the Government. For that reason they do, and will insist, that the masters of such persons are entitled to a just and adequate compensation, and in their behalf the Legislature now assert claim against the Government of the United States. But the mere loss of property sinks to insignificance when compared with the enormity of the manner in which it was done—with the palpable violation of the Constitution, and the solemn pledges of the party in power to the effect that the institution should remain unharmed.

It is a palpable violation of a great fundamental principle enunciated by their chief, "the right of each State to order and control its own domestic institutions according to its own judgment exclusively, is essential to the balance of power on which the perfection and endurance of our political fabric depends."

The people of Kentucky now, as ever, unalterably attached to the principles of the Constitution, do further solemnly protest against the many and palpable violations of the letter and spirit of the Constitution, which in the last four years have been committed by those in power and their subordinates.

The continued denial to them of the privilege of the writ of habeas corpus; the suppression of the liberty of speech and of the press; the arrest and imprisonment of citizens without due process of law, and upon charges unknown to law; the trial and punishment by military commissions of citizens not connected with the military or naval service; the taking of private property for public use without just compensation; the denial of the right of the citizens to canvass for and hold office when qualified by law; and the employment of Federal soldiers to control the freedom of elections in the States—these are acts of tyrannical usurpation to which uncontrollable force has compelled their submission; but for which their duty to themselves and to their posterity requires them to set their seal of condemnation.

Done at Frankfort this — day of January, 1866.

and what for, do you suppose? Simply for going to their former masters and asking for their wives and children. I made an arrangement with the Master Commissioner to buy him myself, as the last slave to be sold in Kentucky; and whereas, it is believed that those statements have no foundation in fact, and are calculated to place the people of Kentucky in a false light before the country; therefore, be it Resolution in regard to the pay of L. B. Goggin and W. C. Halbert.

Mr. Cochran read and laid on the table the following joint resolutions.
The rule of the Senate being dispensed with,
Said resolutions were taken up and read as follows, viz:

Whereas, The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky has witnessed with surprise and regret the effort making in the Congress of the United States, in behalf of a system of measures, based upon a construction of the recently adopted Amendment of the Federal Constitution, so grossly wrong as to be mere usurpation. The General Assembly makes earnest protest against all such measures, and will give its reasons for the protest.
The first or main clause of that amendment confers no power. It is a mere prohibition, carrying its own adequate enforcement, without any supplementary aid. It is taken verbatim from the ordinance which provided government for the Northwest Territory, and which has been adopted into nearly every free State Constitution made since then, and into the act of Congress regulating the "Missouri Compromise." Neither the ordinance nor any of those Constitutions nor the Compromise provide any aid towards its enforcement, but all treat it as fully adequate to its own enforcement. They all treated it, and all courts have treated it, as accomplishing its main, if not sole purpose—that of abolishing negro slavery and converting negro slaves into what the Constitutions of the Northwest States appropriately denominate "free inhabitants," in contradistinction to free citizens.
Under this view of their status, they were depled, not merely the right of suffrage and being enrolled in the militia—but some, if not all of those States, until recently, denied them the privilege of testifying against white persons; and when the rule in this particular was changed, it was done by legislation. The right to acquire property and to sue in protection of their rights of person and property was recognized as a common law right appurtenant to every free inhabitant. The prohibition, whilst emancipating them from personal servitude, was not understood to give them any civil privilege or immunity, beyond what was given by the general law of each State to every free inhabitant. No legal phraseology has been more frequently used than that of the prohibition, and it has uniformly received this construction. This uniform construction, a practical construction of nearly eighty years' duration, fixes its true meaning beyond cavil.

If there was any purpose of the getters-up of the Amendment to put a different construction upon the prohibition, or to make it operate beyond this, honesty and fair dealing required that such purpose should have been frankly and fully disclosed. This not having been done, they are estopped, by every principle of honesty and fair dealing, from claiming any other interpretation of the prohibition. This being so, then the second clause of the Amendment, which purports to give Congress power to enforce the prohibition by "appropriate legislation," practically carries with it no power whatever, for the prohibition needs no aid to its own full power of enforcement; or, if any, only such as it will receive from the general law of every State. Consequently, any attempt of Congress to give unnecessary aid, will not be "appropriate" legislation.

But if it be supposed that penalties are necessary to deter men from attempting to re-enslave an emancipated negro, still, Congressional intervention is not necessary, for the criminal code of every State is amply provided with such penalties. If it be supposed that any State may repeal these penalties, then would arise the only state of case which could possibly authorize Congress to intervene, with penalties of its own enacting, to be enforced by "due course of law," in the properly constituted Federal courts. This is the whole extent of Congressional power over the subject, and falls very far short of the policy of interference which it is now attempted to inaugurate.

That policy, as indicated by pending bills and resolutions, goes to the absurd length of assuming exclusive jurisdiction over the four million of free negroes scattered through the nation, and to institute tribunals for the adjudication of all controversies between them and the whites, including their trial for penal offenses, with an enlargement of their civil rights to the extent, at least, of enabling them to testify, in spite of State laws to the contrary. There is no fair pretext for the assumption of such enormous power under the second clause of the Amendment. It is but the mere equivalent of that contained in the original Constitution, giving Congress power "to make all laws which shall be necessary and proper for carrying into execution the foregoing powers," &c. According to established judicial construction, any auxiliary power attempted to be used under that grant, would not be "proper," if it is in conflict with the prohibitions, or even with the spirit of the Constitution. There is no question arising out of the Federal Constitution about which the national opinion has been longer, better, or more unanimously settled, than that in the division of power between the Federal and State governments; it was intended to leave to the latter, except so far as otherwise expressly provided, the exclusive control, within their several bounds, of the rights and duties of their respective inhabitants, together with their police regulations and criminal prosecutions. Under this reserved power, the States, without dispute or doubt as to their power, have always been in the habit of discriminating in their legislation as to the rights and duties of different classes of their full citizens, and still more as to those who are not full citizens, but only free inhabitants. This has been freely done in all the ramifications of civil and political rights, and especially in reference to the wide circle of domestic relations, with the rights and duties pertaining thereto; also in prescribing penalties, and the qualification of witnesses and jurors. It has always been held, that in none of these or analogous subjects, has Congress any right to intermeddle, except so far as authorized by the Constitution. This broad feature, this so legible characteristic of the Constitution, is perhaps the most important part of what is termed its spirit, its general import, its fundamental theory. Hence, Congress can have no auxiliary power under the Amendment to institute a penal code or an internal police for the regulation or control of the conduct of the inhabitants of any State towards each other. Neither can Congress define or regulate the civil or political rights of the people of any State. None such is a proper auxiliary power.

There is an equally legible, all-pervading part of the spirit of the Constitution, with which Congress will conflict in any attempt to take exclusive or even concurrent jurisdiction over the five million of negroes scattered through the nation: it is that jealous effort to guard against the centralization of power in the Federal head manifested throughout the Constitution. This part of its spirit has been heretofore regarded as the main safeguard to permanent national liberty. Such jurisdiction can be efficiently maintained only by the aid of an enormous corps of civil officers, and a standing army of not less than twenty thousand men. This would be a vast and most expensive increase of the already overgrown, constantly increasing, and perfectly uncontrollable power of the Federal head. Such a power cannot be proper, but must strike every intelligent patriot as very improper to be used for any auxiliary purpose. Such legislation cannot be deemed appropriate for enforcing a mere prohibition against personal slavery, or for securing the emancipated negro his right to have his person and property protected by law. Even if this were not so, Congress would have no power to prohibit such legislation, as a State cannot be legitimately so prohibited otherwise than by the Constitution. There is another strong objection to any latitudinous construction of the second clause of the amendment, growing out of the freely imputed and extensively believed fraudulent intent of the original contrivers of that measure. When it was first started there were fifteen slaveholding States, every one of which, it was well known, would vote against ratifying the amendment, and it could not have been expected that its ratification could be obtained by any sort of fair dealing. At that time the condition of things growing out of the rebellion precluded eleven States, which were sufficient to veto the ratification, from any valid action on the subject. This should have forbid any such attempt from being then made. Delaware, Maryland, Missouri, and Kentucky had a large interest to be protected by the votes of those States, and to deprive them of that protection by force or fraud would be a base violation of their rights as loyal States. From the precedents set by Great Britain in her West India emancipation, and by Congress in its District of Columbia emancipation, and from the great principle of justice sanctified by all our written Constitutions, there should never have been emancipation without accompanying compensation to the slave owners. Their property was acquired under the full sanction of Constitution and law, and could not for the purpose of any supposed necessary national policy be rightfully taken away without compensation. To do so would be such gross breach of national faith and justice as to leave, in the opinion of the owners, only an undistinguishable boundary between the act and plain robbery. Every one of those eleven States would have so said if left to a free vote and an uninfluenced expression of opinion.

In further proof of the intent to procure the amendment by fraud or force, take the action of the Abolition party in suddenly converting Territories into States, when they had not a third of the requisite population, and from no other motive but that of obtaining ratifying votes. This was a base abuse of a high national trust, intended mainly, almost exclusively, for the benefit of people in the Territories, and perverting it to party purposes, in the accomplishment of a party policy, in which those people had no peculiar interest. Take also the active efforts used to manufacture what were appropriately termed "rotten borough States," out of a nominal tenth of the people of rebel States. Or in full proof, take the military dictation of the ratifications of several rebel States, and the counting of their ratifications as a valid adoption of the amendment. Such fraud and force can never be justifiable in the management of the affairs of a great nation—a great confederation of sister States, whose mutual affection and esteem is the most valuable ligament of their permanent union. Such fraud and force fully justify Kentucky in her earnest insistence that the contrivers of the fraud shall be confined to the narrowest limits of the power whose mode of grant they themselves prescribed and so surreptitiously obtained.

This fraudulent manufacture of new States for mere party purposes, taken in connection with the manufacture of the so-called new State of "Western Virginia," without the consent of the State from which it was taken, in plain violation of an express prohibition of the Constitution, is the initiation of stupendous and appalling power, which, in the hands of an unscrupulous majority, gives it the facile means of undermining and overthrowing the whole structure of the Government in the accomplishment of any party purpose, even to the extent of perpetuating its party power. If new States can be made by thus slicing up old ones, there is no alteration of the Constitution that cannot be accomplished by a dominant party for party purposes; and the whole Government, together with the national liberty it was intended to secure, are left to the hardest discretion and merciful forbearance of any dominant party.

Adequately to appreciate the right of Kentucky to make earnest protest against the measures pending in Congress, it must be remembered that they, like those which abolitionized the war and the Constitution, would be a perfidious betrayal of the solemn pledges given by the dominant party in their platform, in the inaugural speech of their President, in the personal promises repeatedly given by him to Kentuckians, and in the almost unanimous resolve of Congress recently after the war began.

Kentucky knows full well where to direct her resentment for these wrongs, without bestowing any part of it upon her innocent negro population, who are no way responsible therefor, and who thus far have behaved so surprisingly well under their sudden change of position, and under abolition incitement to the contrary. To say nothing of humanity, the plainest and strongest incentive of self-interest will induce Kentucky, whilst accommodating her affairs to the new state of things, to treat her negro population with perfect justice, giving them some protection against being cheated in contracts for their labor, and prompt legal remedy to recover their earnings under such contracts. In this way she expects to obtain their confidence in her justice, and the much needed labor of such of them as are not too lazy to work for full wages. She will pursue this policy the more certainly and willingly in the absence of all semblance of dictation or attempt at coercion. It will be an arrogant, insulting presumption, to be made by any one, that she has not the wisdom and justice to pursue such a policy. Such an imputation will come with bad grace from those who, incited by their hate of the Southern people—that bitter hate which the wrong-doer is said to bear towards his victim—have, in their pursuit of a demonic vengeance, shown themselves utterly reckless of the lives or welfare of the negroes, causing, from heartless cruelty, more deaths among them by starvation and exposure than occurred to our armies from all the battles of the late war.

As it seems determined that the negroes should remain a permanent fixture in the South, any one having the slightest concern for them would see the necessity for getting up and preserving good feeling between them and the whites. It cannot be for their benefit that the whites should be persecuted into hating and maltreating them. Yet such will be the necessary result of the measures pending in Congress, if carried out. If the object be to incite another civil war, during which the North can better glut its vengeance, then there is sense in the proposed policy; otherwise it is devoid of all rational justification.

Private information from the South induces the belief that an extensive system of bribery has already been adopted to obtain relief from the injudicious action of the Freedmen's Bureau; and that its officials, when made secret partners in crops, show themselves most rigorous disciplinarians by insisting on having the negroes severely whipped to make them work. Those who have had experience of the action of officials under the provost marshal system, during the days of martial law, have no difficulty in giving credence to this system of rumored bribery. Such is bound to be the result of this obnoxious policy.

All the instincts and interests of Kentucky impel her to do what she can in avoidance of civil war; yet there is a point of endurance beyond which it is unsafe to push free born Americans. No one can venture to promise that if this degradation is attempted to be imposed upon Kentucky, her people will not resist. They will be told by nearly every intelligent man in the State that such attempt is plainly illegal, and based upon nothing but tyrannical usurpation. This being so as to Kentucky, who has never faltered in her loyalty to the Federal Government, whose complaints are none of them against the Government itself, but against its ignorant or its perfidiously wicked administrators, there can be no doubt as to the reception those measures will meet with from States further South; therefore.

1. Be it resolved by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, That the recently adopted Amendment of the Federal Constitution was, from its plain import, presumably intended only to place emancipated negroes upon the footing of free inhabitants, who have never been treated, and have no right to be treated, as full citizens; such being the practical construction of the Congressional ordinance, from which the Amendment was literally copied, and of all the State Constitutions containing the same prohibition; a practical construction of nearly eighty years' duration, and which is the most convincing and authoritative exposition that any written law can possibly receive. In making negro slaves free inhabitants, the intention must have been to give them only such civil rights as the laws of the several States have heretofore recognized as belonging to persons of that class, as any intended enlargement or restriction of those rights would have been carefully specified.

2. Resolved. Such being the purpose of the whole Amendment, its second clause, purporting to give Congress power to enforce its prohibition by "necessary and appropriate legislation," in truth grants no power whatever, for, according to the uniform construction heretofore given to such a prohibition by Congress, courts, and State conventions, it needs no aid to its own all-sufficient power of enforcement for the accomplishment of that purpose; and consequently no Congressional legislation, with the view of giving such aid, can be either necessary or proper.

3. Resolved. Any attempt by Congress, under the assumed grant of power contained in that second section, to take exclusive jurisdiction, or even concurrent jurisdiction, over all the negroes scattered through the nation, and their affairs, including their contracts with and their collisions with the white population, would be so gross a misconstruction as to amount to mere usurpation, which, being unconstitutional and void, gives every one the legal as well as moral right to prevent its enforcement by all needful resistance.

4. Resolved. That if the power were conceded, yet the pernicious character of the policy of such measures would forbid their adoption. They are calculated to stir up strife and ill will between the whites and blacks, instead of soothing any existing animosity, and provoking very probably a new rebellion and civil war.

5. Resolved. That the carrying out of those measures with any efficiency would require an enormous corps of civil officers, and the help of a standing army of not less than twenty thousand men devoted exclusively to that object, attended by a vast expense and increase of the already uncontrollable power of the Federal Government, which the nation should not permit.

6. Resolved. That the Federal Constitution should be so amended as to prevent a new State from being admitted into the Union, unless it has a population at least equal to what is required for a Representative, and unless its admission is voted for by two thirds of the members of both houses of Congress. Further, the Constitution should be so amended as to prevent the corrupt packing of the Supreme Court, by limiting the number of its judges.

7. Resolved. That on the third Monday in July next, at Nashville, Tennessee, there should be held a convention of three delegates from each of the fifteen former slaveholding States, to revise the action of Congress in reference to our negro population, consult as to the mutual interest of those fifteen States on that subject, advise Congress as to the actual working of any scheme that may be adopted, remonstrates as to what may be wrong, and especially consult together as to what may be necessary to ward off another civil war; that the Hon. ——, and the Hon. ——, be appointed delegates from Kentucky to meet an equal number to be appointed in behalf of each of the other fourteen States, by its Legislature, its Executive, or by a popular convention of its citizens.

8. Resolved. That as the presence of Southern Senators and Representatives would have no practical influence on the dominant party in Congress towards even mitigating its settled policy to retard reconciliation, and provoke the South into another rebellion; but would only serve to enhance the zest and zeal of the party in pursuit of that policy; it is respectively suggested to the Southern States, whether there will be any loss to them, if, in yielding to the high claims of honor and dignity, they abstain from all further solicitation for the admission of their Senators and Representatives, whilst waiting patiently till their case can be heard before the great tribunal of the people at the next Congressional elections, when the nation can appoint proper Representatives, who will cordially invite the Southern States to co-operate in carrying on the government. It is not credible that a majority of the Northern part of the nation will so far bastardize the blood of their liberty-loving sires of the Revolution, as to betray the great principle upon which they declared Independence, when the great American issue of taxation without representation comes again for decision before the American people. The local position and intimate intercourse of Kentuckians with the people of the great Northwest, gives them reason for the belief, that no large part of that people will countenance the impoverishment, much less the ruin, of any part of the valley of the Mississippi, merely to gratify a small distant section of the Union in the exercise of either of those amiable feelings, cupidity, hate, and fanaticism, which, in combination, so prominently present the characteristic of that section, whose leaders have obtained control of the Government. When, in 1798, the New England party, besotted with supposed impregnable power, overstepped the bounds of the Constitution to indulge their hate by persecuting their political opponents, Kentucky, though one of the youngest and smallest of the States, took the initiative in denouncing the usurpation and inaugurating a popular rally in defence of the Constitution, which resulted in the utter defeat and permanent overthrow of the New England party of that day. It is under far brighter auspices for success that Kentucky now utters this her rallying cry against the usurping New England party of the present day. She does this in the fullest confidence that no Southern State will suffer its ratification of any of the proposed amendments of the Constitution to be extorted from her by the bullying threats of the abolition party.

Ordered, That the Public Printer print 150 copies thereof, and that they be placed in the orders of the day.

Resolved, That the title of said bill be as aforesaid.

The Senate took up for consideration a bill from the House of Representatives, entitled:

An act to amend chapter 43, article 2, section 6, of the Revised Statutes, title "Guardian and Ward."

Together with the amendment herefore proposed by the committee.

The bill reads as follows, viz:

§ 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, That section 6, article 2, chapter 43, of the Revised Statutes, be amended by adding the following: He may lease the oil and coal and other mineral resources of any real estate of his ward for a term not exceeding twenty years, including the right of way over the same, and the use of sufficiency of timber therefrom for the erection of suitable structures and buildings for all mining purposes thereon, including the boring of wells for oil and salt water, and manufacturing and securing the products thereof, and for all necessary fuel for the purposes aforesaid: Provided, That such lease is for a longer term than the infancy of his ward, the same shall not be effectual for such excess, unless his ward shall join in the execution of the lease, and acknowledge the same before the county judge of the county where the ward resides, with the approval of the judge of the county court, he not being interested in the lease, and being convinced that such lease is for the benefit of the ward, and provided the lessees of any such leases shall commence operations under said lease within three years from the date thereof, and prosecute the same with diligence and in good faith.

§ 2. The guardian and his sureties shall be liable upon his official bond to his ward for any abuse of his powers under this act.

§ 3. The father of said ward, if living, shall join in said lease, and if not living, the mother, if living, shall join therein, else said lease shall not be valid after the ward arrives at the age of twenty-one years.

§ 4. This act to take effect from its passage.

The proposed amendment reads as follows, viz:

§ 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, The statutory guardian of any infant may file in the clerk's office of the circuit court of the county in which the infant may reside, or in which the lands desired to be leased, or the greater part thereof, may be situated, a petition, verified by his own affidavit, describing said lands, exhibiting the title to the same, and stating that they are believed to contain hidden deposits of oil, coal, or other minerals or metals; that he verily believes that the privilege of mining or boring on said lands can be leased on such terms as will redound to the benefit of the infant owner, without corresponding injury to the value of the lands for other purposes; and may adduce proof to satify the court of the truth of the statements of his petition; and, thereupon the court, if satisfied that the interests of the infant will be promoted by such lease, may authorize the guardian to grant a lease of the mining or boring privileges on said land to such persons as may desire the same, for a period not exceeding ten years, nor at a less rent than one tenth the gross product of the mines or wells. Said lease may include the right to erect and maintain on the lands such buildings or structures as the lessee may find necessary to the proper conduct of his works, with the right to cut from the lands sufficient timber to erect the same, and wood to supply the works with fuel, as also the right of way necessary to a free ingress to and from such works. The lessee shall be bound with good security to commence the work of mining or boring, in good faith, within twelve months from the date of the lease, and prosecute such works with like good faith and energy during its continuance, yielding and paying to the guardian, for the benefit of the infant, his stipulated share of the gross products of the mines or wells quarterly, during the continuance of the lease. But no such lease shall be effected until the same shall have been examined, approved, and ordered to be recorded by the court rendering the judgment; nor shall such approbation be given unless the court shall be satisfied that the interests of the infant are fairly protected by the terms of the lease.

§ 2. A lease granted under the provisions of the foregoing section may be forfeited at any time by the judgment of the court which authorized it, on the application of the guardian, or next friend of the infant, or of the infant himself (of which the lessee shall first be duly notified), if it shall be made to appear to the satisfaction of the court that the lessee has failed to observe equitably its provisions, and the interests of the infant have suffered, or are about to suffer, from such failure. And the court may also release the lessee from his obligations upon his petition filed for the purpose, to which the guardian shall be made a party, stating that he has in good faith made the proper examination of the land, and is satisfied that there is no reasonable prospect of finding under its surface oil, coal, or other minerals or metals, in such quantities, or in such situations, as would be remu-nervative to the parties: Provided, That the court shall be satisfied from the evidence offered in support of such petition that its allegations are true.

§ 3. The guardian shall, before any such lease is granted, execute bond with good security for the faithful discharge of all his duties under the same, and for the proper payment or delivery to the infant, on his arrival at maturity, of all moneys or property received by him as rent under said lease.

§ 4. This act shall take effect from its passage.

2. Resolved, That it is the duty of the Legislature now in session to enact such laws adapted to the changed condition of those recently held in slavery and made free by the late amendment of the Constitution, as may secure to them full protection in all their rights of person and property, and thus remove all need for Federal interposition in their behalf, either through the Freedmen's Bureau or otherwise; and having full confidence that the people of Kentucky will see that such laws are enacted, we respectfully request the President of the United States to remove the Freedmen's Bureau from this State.

The amendment proposed by the committee reads as follows, viz:

§ 1. Resolved by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, That the people of Kentucky, regarding the writ of habeas corpus as their constitutional right, they respectfully ask the President of the United States to revoke his order suspending it. In order to effect a complete restoration of civil authority, they respectfully request that the military forces be withdrawn from this State.

2. Resolved, That it is the purpose of the present Legislature to enact laws characterized by justice and humanity, in regulating and controlling the colored population, and suited to their present condition. That such protection will be given to them as deemed necessary and proper to their welfare. It is the purpose of the Legislature to legislate in a manner to satisfy any who have a just appreciation of the right of a State to legislate over its local affairs, that there exists no necessity for that which they consider an innovation on the rights and powers of the Freedmen's Bureau. The Legislature of Kentucky therefore respectfully request the President of the United States to cause a removal of the Freedmen's Bureau from this State.

And had found the same truly enrolled.

Which bills having been signed by the Speaker of the House of Representatives, the Speaker of the Senate affixed his signature thereto, and they were delivered to the committee to be presented to the Governor for his approval and signature.

After a short time, Mr. Garriott reported that the committee had performed that duty.

Mr. Grainger, from the Committee on the Penitentiary, made the following report, which was received, and the reading dispensed with, viz.:

The Committee on the Penitentiary report that they have visited the prison, and find that the prisoners are humanely treated; have plenty of good, wholesome food, and good warm clothes. The general health of the convicts is very good, and the sanitary affairs of the prison reflect great credit on Captain Todd, the Keeper, and Dr. Phythian, the Physician.

The past year has been one of unusual health among the prisoners; it has been entirely free from epidemic and contagious diseases, and the general health of the prisoners has been much better than could have been expected, considering the number in confinement. There have been but four hundred and seventy-nine (479) cases prescribed for during the year, and of this number but four proved fatal. Two of these died from consumption, contracted before entering the prison, and two from other diseases. There was also one prisoner accidentally killed by the falling of the wall of one of the old buildings.

The success met with in this department is due in a great measure to the humane and sanitary modes adopted and carried on by Captain Todd in the general management of the prisoners. Cleanliness of person (which is required of each prisoner), freedom from all labor when suffering from the slightest indisposition, together with ample hospital supplies, have done much to decrease sickness and mortality in the prison.

The committee desire to call your attention to the want of the hospital for a kitchen and water-closets. They recommend they be built adjoining the hospital, for the convenience of the sick. The only accommodations now for the patients are so imperfect and unpleasant, that it is essential that water-closets be attached to the hospital.
The committee also call your attention to the mode of heating the hospital, and recommend the heating of said hospital by steam.

The committee also call your attention to the condition of part of the front of the old building. It has sunk nearly one foot, and continues to sink, and is in a very dangerous condition, and should be taken down and rebuilt. They also recommend that the cumbersome wooden cornice be removed from the said building, for fear of fire; also the cornice from the cell-house. They also recommend that two fire-walls be built across the main building, so, in case of fire in the interior, it might be arrested before the whole of the building and its contents were destroyed. They therefore recommend that the Commissioners of the Buildings for the Penitentiary be instructed to employ a competent architect to examine the premises, and to report at the next meeting of the General Assembly the probable cost of said improvements.

The new building and machinery erected this year by Captain Todd, according to his contract, reflect alike credit on the State and on the architect, Mr. Bradshaw, and on Captain Todd, who has more than fulfilled his contract with the Commissioners, who deserve praise for the faithful and expeditions manner in which they have performed their duties. (For a more detailed description, see the reports of the Architect and Commissioners.)

The committee, in conjunction with Captain Todd, the Rev. Mr. Hays, and Dr. Mills, Inspectors of the Prison, recommend the privilege of commuting a portion of the terms of the convicts' imprisonment. The object of this provision is to place such a premium on good behavior and industry in the prison as will encourage them in the cultivation of industrial habits and moral reformation. The propriety of such encouragement is sufficiently obvious; and the long experience of other States in this matter, as well as the observation of our own Inspectors, has revealed the fact that no more powerful incentive can be presented to the convict than is found in the prospect of shortening the term of his captivity thereby.

The scale of commutation presented is from the report of the Prison Association of New York, and has stood the test of experience of other States, and has received the indorsement of successive Governors and Legislatures.

The report of the Auburn Prison for 1865, page 39, article 7, says:

"The commutation law, enabling convicts to earn a remission of part of their sentence, works admirably in many ways.

"It affords premium for good conduct, and, comparatively, it compels the prisoners to realize that they are momentarily liable to a punishment for misconduct for its forfeiture, while it gives them that mainspring of all healthy action, the prospect of something to be attained by their own exertions; that motive and natural hope so fearfully absent from ordinary prison life.

"As interpreted, it gives for good conduct, during the first and four months for each year beyond ten."

The committee earnestly recommend the passage of such a law. The present law calls for the appointment of three Inspectors for the prison. The committee recommend the law be so amended as to read two, instead of three.

And, in conclusion, the committee desire to say, that, in their examinations, they have received the cordial co-operation of Captain Todd, the Keeper; the Rev. J. S. Hays and Dr. Mills, Inspectors of the Prison; Dr. Pythian, the attending physician, and the various guards and assistants, and have no cause for censure, but much to praise. All of which is respectfully submitted.

WM. H. GRAINGER,
Chairman Senate Committee.

Ordered, That said report be printed and placed in the orders of the day.

Mr. Grainger, from the Committee on the Penitentiary, moved the following joint resolution, viz:

The rules of the Senate being dispensed with, said resolution was taken up and read as follows, viz:

_Be it resolved by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, That Messrs. Swigert and Temple, commissioners, be, and they are hereby, directed to employ some competent architect to examine the hospital in the Penitentiary, and report what the probable costs will be for the erection of a kitchen and water-closets for the hospital; also, for enlarging the windows of the same; also, for heating it by steam, and building a fire-place in said hospital; also, the probable costs of building two fire walls across the old work-shop, and removing the wooden cornice from said shop and from the cell house, and the probable costs of replacing them with fire-proof cornices; also, for repairing the front of said work-shop; also, the probable costs of digging and walling a cistern in the prison-yard of sufficient size for the use of the prison, and the said commissioners to report to the Senate at the next meeting of the General Assembly._

WHEREAS, It has been stated in a letter of Gen. John M. Palmer, published in the Louisville Journal of the 10th inst., that many outrages have been committed upon negroes in many parts of the State, and that, after the most careful inquiries, he had been unable to hear of a single instance in which the civil authorities have punished the aggressors; and that combinations of lawless men exist in many places to drive the colored people from the State and to prevent them from obtaining employment; and whereas, said letter also states that courts organized under the laws of the State, in many instances have permitted themselves to be used as the mere instruments of the vengeance of those who are hostile to the government, so that loyal men are still in some parts of the State compelled to leave their homes, or, if they remain, are constrained to feel that their lives and property, and all their dearest interests, are insecure; and whereas, general charges of this nature are easily made, and are calculated to still more prejudice the minds of those already inflamed against the people of Kentucky; and whereas, the Senate believe that there is no foundation in fact for such grave charges; be it therefore,

Resolved by the Senate, That a committee of three be appointed to respectfully demand of Gen. Palmer that he shall inform the Senate what outrages have been committed on negroes in this State, and when and where, that have been unpunished; and also, in what counties combinations exist to drive the colored people from the State, and the proof on which he makes the charge; that he also inform the Senate what courts of this Commonwealth have been used as the instruments of vengeance of those who are hostile to the government, and in what counties of the State loyal men are still compelled to leave their homes; and that he furnish the names of those who have been compelled to leave their homes, and the evidence on which he made his said charges.

HEADQUARTERS DEPARTMENT OF KENTUCKY,
LOUISVILLE, KY., February 16th, 1866.

Hon. T. B. Cochran, Wm. H. Grainger, M. J. Cook, Committee of the Senate of Kentucky:

GENTLEMEN: In accordance with the request contained in your note of the 15th instant, addressed to me, I acknowledge the receipt of a copy of the preamble and resolution, which you inform me were adopted by the Senate of Kentucky, and by which you are appointed to "respectfully demand" of me certain information.

I have read the paper adopted by the Senate with great attention, and in view of its language am compelled by a sense of what is due to the Government of the United States and myself, as its military representative in this department, to decline all intercourse or communication with you as a committee of that body.

The Kentucky Senate has its own duties to perform and I have mine, and it must be left to the loyal and patriotic people of the State to decide whether a body which offensively declared its disbelief of the truth of the statements of a public officer, and then demands the evidence upon which those statements were made, intended to insult him and excite popular prejudices against the government he represents, or were influenced by any purpose to promote the public good.

Accept my thanks for the courteous manner in which you have discharged your duties, and allow me to assure you that it will afford me pleasure to lay before you, as private gentlemen and citizens, the numerous letters and official reports which furnished the materials for all the statements contained in my letter published in the Louisville Journal.

With great respect for each of you personally,

I am, &c.,

JOHN M. PALMER, Major General.

The undersigned committee appointed in pursuance of resolutions adopted by the Senate on the 15th instant, to "respectfully demand" of Gen. John M. Palmer that he should inform the Senate what outrages had been committed on negroes in this State, where the offenders had not been punished by the civil authorities, and in what counties combinations existed to drive colored persons from the State and to prevent them from obtaining employment, and to inform the Senate what courts of this Commonwealth had been the instruments of vengeance for those hostile to the government, and what loyal persons had in consequence been forced to leave their homes. &c., respectfully report that they addressed to Gen. Palmer on the 15th instant a letter, a copy of which is herewith reported, and enclosed him a copy of the said resolutions; and that the committee have to-day received from Gen. Palmer a communication acknowledging the receipt of the resolutions, and declining to communicate with the committee in reference to the subject, expressing, however, his willingness to lay before the members of the committee, as private gentlemen and citizens, the numerous letters and official reports which furnished the materials for all the statements contained in the letter to the Journal referred to in the resolution. The communication from Gen. Palmer is made a part of this report.

Your committee respectfully request to be discharged from the further consideration of the subject.
