Dear Ed:

Here's an assortment of stuff to deal with. It seems that when people have questions about chapter business or membership and they don't know whom to contact, they send it to the newsletter editor.

First, here's the bill for the Spring issue of the newsletter. It's a little less than the last one because we discovered that we didn't need quite as many copies. In fact, we will order fewer still next time.

The other two letters are self-explanatory. In the case of Mr. Runde from West, I don't know if we have any sort of provision for someone who merely wants to subscribe to the newsletter but has no desire to actually be a member of the chapter. I sent him a copy of the last issue gratis.

I must get the next newsletter out by the first of June to regain my self-respect and to give the members news of any chapter events in Houston. Just let me know what announcements you may have. I assume that we're having some sort of coffee or whatever at the business meeting and that you will be collecting money from us.

Thanks for taking care of all this stuff. See you before long.

Sincerely,

Carol D. Billings
