Van Hecke Receives Honors
To Preside Over AALS In '56

Professor M. T. Van Hecke of the University of North Carolina Law School was elected President-Elect of the Association of American Law Schools at the close of its three-day annual meeting in New York City on December 29, 1954.

During 1955 he will serve as a member of the Executive Committee with Professor Wesley A. Sturgeon, Yale University Law School, President; Professor Philip Mechem University of California, Berkeley, Secretary-Treasurer; Brainerd Carrile, University of Chicago, and Ortis Evans, University of Southern California.

Mr. Van Hecke will become president of the Association in January, 1956.

The Association of American Law Schools, created in 1910 for “the improvement of legal education,” is made up of some 100 of the principal law schools of the country. The University of North Carolina Law School became a member in 1929.

Mr. Van Hecke, educated at Baltimore City College, graduated from U. S. Naval Academy in 1921, was commissioned an ensign, U. S. Navy, in 1937. He served in the South Pacific during World War II. After the war, he practiced law in Chapel Hill, N. C., and became professor of law at the University of North Carolina in 1946. In 1948, he was appointed superintendent of schools for Chapel Hill, N. C., a position he held until 1953. He became President of the University in 1953. Mr. Van Hecke, a member of the German and District of Columbia bars, is a former member of the Board of Directors of the American Law Institute, and a member of the Board of Directors of the American Institute of Law Librarians.

Miss Lucile Elliot To Retire This Year
After Thirty-Two Years As Law Librarian

Miss Lucile Elliott, B.P.L., will retire as Law Librarian at the end of this Session. Miss Elliott has been our Law Librarian for thirty-two years.

Miss Elliott joined the staff of the School of Law on April 1, 1922, the Law School being in its second year. Upon the retirement of Miss Helen Waller, she became a member of the staff, and has since been the Law School's only law librarian.

Today the Library totals 100,000 volumes. It employs four full time staff members and eight part-time student assistants.

To mention only one phase of the enlarge ment of the Library, Miss Elliott has added new volumes during Miss Elliott's administration, the Bar Reports and Law Review volumes have been added through use of the exchange privilege.

Miss Elliott's responsibility in the Law School has been confined to the Library. From 1932 to 1938 she taught Legal Bibliography.

Miss Elliott has been a member of the Bar Association of the State of New York since 1920. She is a member of the New York State Bar Association, the American Library Association, the American Association of Law Libraries, the American Bar Association, the North Carolina Bar Association, and the North Carolina Library Association.

Miss Elliott has been a member of the Library since 1918, and received the Assistant Professorship in the School of Law, she will teach Legal Bibliography.

Miss Elliott has been with the Library since 1949, and received the appointment of Assistant Librarian in 1952. She was graduated from the School of Law of the University of North Carolina in 1951.

Miss Elliott has been active outside the Library, as Research Assistant to the Institute of Government. She served from 1952-1953 as the President of the Carolina Chapter of the American Association of Law Libraries. She is at present President of the American Association of Law Libraries.

Miss Elliott is the first woman in Law School history to be appointed as a professor on the Law School Faculty.

Law Review Issue
To Discuss Whammy

Plans for the June issue of The North Carolina Law Review include several interesting articles.

There will be an article on the use of radar in checking the speed of motor vehicles which may be the first of its kind in that it will include a paper by John R. Kopper of Johns Hopkins University, a prominent scientist in the field of radar, on the scientific reliability of radar. A companion article by Herbert R. Bauer of the Law School Faculty will treat the evidence aspects of the use of radar.

Also appearing in the June issue will be a paper by Edmund H. Schwebel, a member of the German and District of Columbia bars, on comparative law; an article by John D. Dalzell of the Law School faculty on parole evidence in North Carolina, an article on wage earners' plans and bankruptcy, an article on trade mark assignment, and a statutory survey.
