Dear Mike:

As we discussed by phone, I have enclosed two small items for inclusion in the Southeastern Law Librarian. The item about the publications clearinghouse is mainly an ad to remind people of its existence. The item on the membership directory I tried to make very general concerning the date of receipt. Hein told me it should go out around the end of February - but a delay might pop up and I do not want the entire Chapter calling me with questions.

Since we had such an early cut off date for revisions in the directory we might begin an address/name/personnel change section in the newsletter. Each member could then make changes in their directory throughout the year. This is what the DC Chapter does in Law Library Lights. What do you think? I know my firm's name will be changing in March so I could notify you for the next issue.

Thanks for your help and please let me know if you have any questions.

Sincerely,

Lisa W. Williams
