Dear Susan:

It was good to hear from you and I am glad that you have accepted chairmanship of the Scholarship Committee. We might think about changing next year, but I believe that you should finish out this year. Your new job will still be related to law and you are still teaching legal bibliography and are continuing your education in law to equip yourself as a head librarian.

My recommendation would be for you to accelerate your law study and to cut down upon your work and teaching load. Maybe you will be able to do this during the next school term.

It was tragic about Pearl. I thought about going to the funeral, but my work load is heavy and it was a long distance away. We sent flowers for the Southeastern Chapter. I believe that the law school has started a fund in her memory. Best wishes.

Sincerely,

William C. Younger
