ANNOUNCEMENT

It is my privilege to announce the appointment of Mario P. Goderich as Associate Law Librarian at the University of Miami, effective June 1, 1969. He will also become an assistant professor of law with the Fall 1969 term of school. Mr. Goderich is well known to many members of the AALL through his attendance at the last two institutes and annual meetings of the Association.

He received his early education in both his native Cuba and the United States. He has a bachelor's degree from La Salle College in Havana and his doctorate in law from the University of Havana. He practiced law in Cuba until, in 1961, he came to the United States. After a stint with IBM in New York he enrolled in the law school of the University of Miami and earned his J.D. degree in January 1966. While a student in the University he worked in the law library and upon graduation joined the staff full time becoming the Assistant Law Librarian in June 1966. He is a proud new United States citizen and soon will be sworn in as a member of the Florida Bar, having already passed the bar examination. It is his intention, however, to remain in the law library field where we wish him every success.
