Everyone has problems and questions. The Law Library Journal's "Questions and Answers" feature helps to solve these problems. Perhaps you didn't know that each AALL Chapter will "edit" this section on assignment from the editor of LLJ - and for next spring's issue the Southeastern Chapter is responsible for the column, with Sarah Leverette in charge.

There are two ways to submit material - answered and unanswered - and the first is preferred. If you have had a problem and have solved it, please frame a question and answer in form for publication; if you have a problem you cannot solve, frame a question and submit it. An effort will be made to find the answer, if unsuccessful, the question can be published in the column with a request for help from others.

The deadline for Sarah to submit her material is February 1, 1968, which means that anything sent to her should reach her at least two weeks before that date. If you delay sending in useful material you have, you are liable to forget to do it, so DON'T DELAY, send anything you think suitable (or perhaps unsuitable) as soon as possible!

Since this is a Chapter project, please do all you can to help make an interesting and helpful section of "Questions and Answers."

Send material to:
