I did not have this question arise when I was Scholarship Chair. I really don't know the answer either. Would it make a difference to SEAALL in the award of scholarships if we knew that the applicant had received support from VALL or AALL? Does the recipient have an obligation to inform other groups know that she has received funding from SEAALL? How you eventually decide to construe the language has my support.

I am looking forward to attending the AALL meeting in July thanks to the receipt of SEALL's Lucile Elliot Scholarship. Could you clarify the clause in the scholarship application that deals with "accepting only one such grant." I hope to attend CONELL and the pre-conference seminar for non-J.D. librarians. Can I apply for scholarship help from VALL or AALL for these activities or does SEALL consider the whole conference one activity? I do not want to waste my time or that of the other scholarship committees this year if SEALL would require me to choose.

Thanks.
