Miss Sarah Leverette
Law Librarian
University of South Carolina
Columbia, S.C.

Dear Sarah:

Thank you for your very nice letter of September 18th. I am sorry that it has taken me so long to answer it but with school opening I have been rather involved.

We were very pleased with the result of your talk with Dean Prince. I think that with a meeting with such a cooperative Dean we may be able set a precedent for future meetings that will be very helpful.

I wrote Jeanne Tillman the other day asking her to send me a copy of the minutes of the meeting. I would like to have copies mimeographed and sent out to the Law Librarians in the area. Do you think that that might be a good way of telling them all what went on and getting up some more interest on the part of those who were not able to come to the meeting? Let me have your ideas on the subject.

I don't know whether you know or not but the bank account is made so that I can draw checks on it. I drew one for $12.00 to pay for the registration fee for Frances and Miss Elliott and am drawing one for $1.25 in my favor to pay for the amount I spent on mimeographing. I am enclosing the receipt for that expenditure. These should be subtracted from our total as I had not told Peg about them, and they have not been taken out as yet.

I am enclosing a draft of the proposed constitution which I just got from Kate Wallach and invite your comments.

On looking this over it sounds rather confused and the typing is certainly not of the best. I'll send it anyway because I don't know when I will get around to writing another if I don't send this on. Please overlook the mistakes.

I certainly did enjoy seeing you again and I hope that you are winning your fight against the Main Library.

Sincerely,

Mary W. Oliver
