Dear Sarah:

I have just written a letter to Corinne about the proposed election. So that you will know what I have said I am quoting the pertinent facts, "I have checked the Constitution and By Laws in regard to the election of officers. My understanding of it is that before the Louisville meeting, we need to elect only a vice-president (president-elect) and secretary-treasurer. The person elected as vice-president will serve in such office beginning with the Louisville meeting and will take over as president at the 1957 annual meeting. This would mean that you would serve Jane's unexpired term and your own term which would begin with the Louisville meeting. The new secretary-treasurer, however, will take over her duties at the 1956 annual meeting."

I appreciate very much your help on finding replacements for a cataloguer and for Sangster. Marian had already sent me the names of possible applicants but with the exception of James D. Lockett, all are from outside of the Southeastern area. He is a graduate of Atlanta University and can not be considered.

I have offered the position as cataloguer to Caroline Heriot, but have as yet heard nothing from her. Until I do, I am of course always interested in further suggestions. I have only one local possibility as a replacement for Sangster and here again I will be interested in any suggestions you may be able to give.

Thanks for the promise (I assume it is a promise) to send me some questions and answers for the section in the Law Library Journal. My mind has gone completely blank and really needs some help.

I am delighted to hear that your chances of coming to Chapel Hill are getting better. How about setting a definite date? Give my regards to Jean and Georgia.

Sincerely,

Mary W. Oliver
