Dear Paul,

This letter is to express thanks of the Southeastern Chapter American Association of Law Libraries, those persons attending last week's Institute and myself for the presentation which you gave on Friday and Saturday of last week. I am sure that everyone attending the meeting appreciated your presence and participation.

Enclosed is a check for your travel and meal expenses while in Atlanta. If there are any other expenses in addition to those which you gave to me in your note or in addition to the hotel expenses which I will be receiving directly, I hope you will feel free to advise me of them as soon as possible.

Again let me express my personal appreciation for all the work and effort that went into your presentation: I hope that in the not too distant future our paths will cross and that we may co-operate in some project of mutual interest.

Best wishes.

Sincerely,

Edwin M. Schroder
Law Librarian/Associate Professor
