EDITORIAL NOTES

EDWARD D. WHITE

The nation lost a distinguished jurist in the death of Edward D. White, May 18, 1921. During his judicial career of twenty-seven years he rendered many important constitutional decisions which entitle him to a place in history beside Marshall, Story, Taney and others of his pre-eminent predecessors.

The Chief Justice was a native of Louisiana, served in the Confederate Army, was for three years a United States Senator, was appointed to the Supreme Bench as Associate Justice by President Cleveland in 1894 and although a Democrat in politics was promoted to the Chief Justiceship by President Taft in 1910.

There may be a few judges and lawyers who dissent from some of his legal opinions but all will agree that he has lived up to the highest ideals and traditions of his profession and has forcefully and ably served his country in its highest judicial office.
HARDING, DAVIS AND ROOT WILL BE AT MEETING OF AMERICAN BAR ASSOCIATION.

Prospects are bright that President Warren G. Harding will spend at least a day at the American Bar Association Convention to be held in Cincinnati, August 30-31, September 1-2.

Within the last few days Mayor John Galvin of Cincinnati, who was largely instrumental in bringing this convention to the Queen City, had a conference in Washington with President Harding. During their conversation Mayor Galvin suggested to Mr. Harding that the members of the association as well as the citizens of Cincinnati would greatly appreciate a visit from the President on this occasion. Without hesitation Mr. Harding assured Mayor Galvin that he would be delighted to attend the meeting and would arrange his affairs accordingly with no possible interference unless Congress be in session at that time.

It is already assured that former Ambassador to England, John W. Davis, and Honorable Elihu Root will be among the prominent speakers at the convention.

RECENT CASES.

Descent and Distribution—Right of Widow in Royalties from Lands Leased Before Death of Husband.

Silas Mcintosh died, leaving surviving him a wife and three infant children by a former wife. Property in question was lease for the purpose of drilling oil wells, there being producing wells on two of the tracts at the time of the death of the decedent. Since dower had not been assigned the question arose as to the extent of the widow’s right of dower in the royalties accruing from such lands.

The court held (1) If oil wells or mines are opened by one on his own land during his lifetime or are opened by his lessee after his death under a lease given by him, the royalties contracted for by him are profits arising from the use of the land and are a part of the dowable real estate of the deceased husband within the meaning of Sec. 2138, Ky. Stats., giving to the widow one-third of the rents and profits of the husband’s dowable real estate until dower is assigned.
