Letter to the Editor

Richard H. Hood
We are in receipt of a letter from Richard H. Hood of the class of 1914 which shows the ideal spirit of an alumnus toward his alma mater. Mr. Hood is practicing law at Murray, Ky., and is making a success. His letter was highly appreciated and gave us great encouragement. We quote below an excerpt therefrom:

'I received a copy of the October Law Journal this morning; do not know when I have taken anything from the capacious pocket of "Uncle Sam" that gave me more pleasure. I want to congratulate you on the splendid, voluminous and with-all tasty manner in which it is arranged and edited.

It is an ever present and firmly fixed intention of mine to be always be found willing to actively aid and assist any laudable undertaking that emanates from or supported by my Alma Mater. If the Alumni would respond as they should and each and every one pay in advance the sum of one dollar we could make this Journal the equal of any of its nature and kind.

Please enter my name on your subscription list; I am anxious to get the benefit of every copy.'
