Contributors [v. 5, no. 3]

Follow this and additional works at: https://uknowledge.uky.edu/kentucky-review

Part of the Arts and Humanities Commons

Right click to open a feedback form in a new tab to let us know how this document benefits you.

Recommended Citation

Available at: https://uknowledge.uky.edu/kentucky-review/vol5/iss3/1

This Article is brought to you for free and open access by the University of Kentucky Libraries at UKnowledge. It has been accepted for inclusion in The Kentucky Review by an authorized editor of UKnowledge. For more information, please contact UKnowledge@lsv.uky.edu.
THE KENTUCKY REVIEW
Lance Corporal Adolf Hitler on the Western Front, 1914-1918
by Charles Bracelen Flood.................................................. 3
"With no middle flight": Poetic Pride and Satanic Hubris in Paradise Lost
by Steven Blakemore.......................................................... 23
Anni Mirabiles: Kentucky Literature at the Turn of the Century by William S. Ward............................................................. 32 Frost’s Poetry: Breaking the Boundaries of the Hidden and the Silent
by Michael G. Cooke.......................................................... 46

LIBRARY NOTES:
The Kentucky Newspaper Project......................................... 60
Selected Acquisitions......................................................... 65
Donors................................................................................. 72

THE LIBRARY ASSOCIATES
Activities............................................................................. 75
Members.............................................................................. 79
CONTRIBUTOR'S NOTES

Steven Blakemore teaches English at Florida Atlantic University. He has articles appearing in Eighteenth-Century Studies, Early American Literature, Massachusetts Studies in English, and Concerning Poetry. He is presently working on Milton and language.

Charles Bracelen Flood won the Houghton Mifflin Award with his best-selling first novel, Love Is a Bridge, in 1953. Numerous subsequent novels were followed by two historical studies, Rise, and Fight Again (Dodd, Mead, 1976) and Lee—The Last Years (Houghton Mifflin, 1981), each an award-winner as well. A New Yorker by birth, Mr. Flood resides near Richmond, Kentucky.

William S. Ward is Professor Emeritus at the University of Kentucky, where he served as chairman of the English Department (1951-1964) and was named Distinguished Professor of Arts and Sciences for 1972-73. Among his books is the series of bibliographies of Literary Reviews in British Periodicals (Garland, 1972-1979). The essay in this issue is part of a larger study of Kentucky authors.