Melanie Fee’s “A Letter Would Have Been Fine,” a series of short poems, is actually one long poem in which the whole is greater than the sum of the parts. This collection both implies a narrative and explores honestly the deep and shifting feelings of the protagonist (the “I” of the poems), who has been left holding the shreds of a broken relationship. The narrator, through images that place us in her skin, makes us feel what she feels, thus compelling us to follow her into the depths of her pain and, finally, to emerge with her, at the end of the work, into new coherences in her life, the beginnings of healing.

The narrator’s voice in the poems, non-rhetorical and human, convinces us that it comes from a real person. The integrity and strength of this voice, along with the reality of the character’s suffering and her emergence from it, are the remarkable accomplishments of this poet’s work. The strong emotional suspense it creates is akin to that evoked by a good short story.

The poet does not simply describe how her protagonist feels or tell us explicitly what feeling her story should elicit from us. Instead, these compressed, intense poems, in which every word is necessary and none is wasted, dramatize the character’s states of mind and body. This creates in the reader a strong sense of her emotions and experiences. This achievement, and Melanie’s dramatic, energetic use of language, partakes of the essence of poetry.
do i dare
i can't connect with these
shadows
you send
to torment me
nor
get any satisfaction
from knowing
you are not here you
are not here

9.18

your phone is cutting
out cutting
me as you are sitting
outside of
the hospital
you won't tell me
why you're there or
what you’ve been doing for these weeks of my nonexistence
to you

i guess it’s the monitors heart machines keeping
people alive all pulsing together in a mechanical way that causes the interference
when i keep asking questions and there’s a space where i know you are talking
 saying wonderful things i’m sure but i just can’t hear them i only am tuned back in for you to say
i’m here
you of all things
are not here
maybe you’re making these silences yourself to save
thoughts or see me react i can’t react and tell you nothing

nothing about my
looking around the house thinking you’ll eventually turn up a lost scarf something exotic and i tell nothing about keeping my air conditioner rattling away all night drowning out voices and noises both inside
  and out of my head
i certainly can’t bring up
how i drove
out of town
into the coolness to the farm where you lived this summer one night late music too loud and what did i expect a spectre of your previous self jumping in front of my car saying
  no stop you’ve missed the turn and i’ve been waiting for you so long my plans were to skip work and make love to you
all morning

no
i finally had to turn back out by the interstate watch degrees rise
as i head back into more concrete
chiding myself
maybe i just don’t have the right senses you’re really
all around me
burying your face in my hair looking into me
maybe if i just try harder you will appear
but now you’re saying
you have to go
and i still don’t know
why
why you’re even there
why i feel

like you’re around
every corner
you worry too much you
write i can hear the tone and it’s much too
lighthearted
for my taste

9.19

so i try to correspond communicate
reply
and you say
 a letter would have been fine
and i am confused
because this is
what i thought i gave you
but
no
you say
 that was a poem
and i am frightened
by this unintentional poem like maybe
i’ve given away
more than i meant to
or that this is
the only way
i think anymore
or maybe you’re
fucking with my head
because other than
that you’ve told me
nothing
i don’t want to
ask these questions again
it gives you power
i don’t know
why i kid myself
like maybe i’m putting
a gauze curtain
between me and the
fact of your power
now it’s been
another week
with nothing
and i’m looking for excuses
and swatting them
away as they come
fluttering round
because really
you should be giving me
excuses
they should be pouring out of
you like wine
turning my head
making my face redden
you know
you could do it
it would be so easy
and i would write poems
that i knew were poems
if you’d let me
but somehow
i know
you’d think they were letters

9.20

some contour of
cheekbone
is mesmerizing me
a dance of
flesh over
bone
then
a second glance
and all falls away
crumbling and constructing itself into the un-you-ness that i find
unbearable

(why am i mad at all of these people
for not being you
it makes more sense
to concentrate my anger tunnel funnel it all
into you so maybe

you’ll feel a brush of it all the way over there and think some small wind has kissed your cheek
because that’s what my anger dissolves into
when i think about your cheek slight overlapping of your front teeth
any part of you
for that matter)
does it matter
i wonder if you know
how finally i had
to put your soap
away
out of my shower
because every time
stepping in
your scent
was making
my insides blink
i would take it in my hands marvel at the
fact that yes
your damp self stood
in this very spot
yes you were in this house
many hours

sometimes
i look
for some message you might have
it makes me angry
that there is nothing
nothing of mine
in your life
nothing to inspect
inhale
handle
for hope of grabbing
some small essence
left behind

9.21

i am letting the phone ring as we sit at my kitchen table eating cheap chinese food for breakfast on a sunday morning

we listen to the
message together
on speakerphone
and see what he has to say something about
are you okay
and a troubling dream
i don’t know
whether to cry
or smile but we let it drop you said there’s no point in jealousy
because if there’s a reason to be jealous the woman is already gone at the time this seemed enlightened
but now i feel like it shows your unwillingness to fight for things i’d like to think that you’d have fought to keep me or at least put in an appearance at our final moment but you haven’t even let me know that much if our final moment has even happened i talked about how classical

fucking conversational
that table was
you and me sitting
there like a happy
farmhouse couple
having an argument
about whether fitzgerald really counts as an american novelist since he was an expatriate

i remember you asking me about virginia woolf the night we met i could barely hear you
above the noise but
you were so impressed
that i actually liked literature that i guess you didn’t care
what i answered

i try to have
talks with the
on my kitchen table
it tells me little inside is a folded
paper
   art in joyce
   joyce—
   woolf—
very enlightening
i’m beginning to
think you are really buried in
some kind of academic landslide never to be seen again and i can see the headlines
with a grim smile

10.01

i’d like to think
that soon
i could walk down
the street
    you’d pass
and i wouldn’t even see you
not the kind of pretending
to not see you
that i might try
to see how you’d react
but really showing
how gone you are
from my consciousness
that the images
that make up you
don’t coincide
in my eye
anymore

i want to not
see you
in every
tall lanky
male
with defined cheekbones why can’t i get your damned bone structure
out of my head
i see you
from all angles
know the small furrow
of your sleeping brow

that i think
is love
or something
    just as profound
when your face eyes hands
are burnt
into my seeing waking self
so much

10.29

i climb
up and down
the branches
on my wallpaper
every night
to get
a better perspective
   see
   a little farther
i just know
that one of these nights
upon reaching the
top
i’ll see your far off
form
focusing itself
into view

you’ll be tired
and dirty
and i won’t
care that i
did not hear from you the entire
month of september
because it’s getting
on winter now
and it’s cold in here

you’ll have
a story
of where you’ve been
for these stacks
of days
and i’ll believe it

you’ll use the key
that you still haven’t
returned to me
and
i slip through cracks
in vents at night
and try
rerearranging myself
again
to see if this time
i’ll come out
mad not just with
this thick quiet
that’s been hanging around piled with the books
on my table
somewhere in these dark spaces
you and i
are dancing
sitting and
not needing
the conventions
of chairs and light
to sustain us
i see each thread
in cloth
and the different
tiny intersections
are beautiful
i think of us
like this
sliding down the lampshade just trying to avoid
the flame of the candle below

are you
even
still alive?
you become
more my ghost
every day
it's not like
you're haunting me
no
you're some kind of
loner spirit
hanging round
my empty wine bottles
and
bellowing your silence
into my night

i don't
wish
your absence
just your presence
in a different form

i try to lure
you
into my bedroom
but it never works

the clock on the wall
has stopped
for awhile now
and i've gotten
used to 3 o clock
all the time
i'd like to believe
that none of
this time
is passing

that it isn't
becoming harder
to recall
why it was
that you
were my ideal
of pain
of everything

i want still
to feel you like being ripped out of my own body

and poured
into a wineglass
to swim with you
but
it's wearing off now
a shadow dream
growing more obscure
and grey
as days pile

12.01
what are you
the dark of an open door
at night
or looking through blinds
into an empty room
i know not what you
are or were
to me her or anyone
i assume you're still flowing
through your life

sometimes filling
completely
then emptying
some vessel
like me

i dream now of
empty benches
cellophane
drifting along the
inside of my mind

and you
much like this
and then not here
almost camera flash fast

but an imprint
just the same
i still look for you
not in you anymore

but in myself
despite this
poured-out feeling

12.05
maybe you've found that place
on me
the skin thinner
tender
the blue vein showing through a little more i believed in my own strength built it up

surrounded myself
in thorns
but now i sit

i do nothing do nothing do nothing shake from exhaustion
days blur nights blur
into siren scream

my skin shedding itself all over falling around me like bells
but you i am still finally in the hollow of your collarbone

the light shines retreats and shines again

12.06
if we could sometime return to books and arguments
to the farmhouse where we never wrote and lived
would it be a protection against the chance of never feeling like this again like i'm wrapped down to the core in some
thick amber glass air bubbles getting through but not much else

i didn't go out today but rather sat with a blanket on my legs and imagined your eyes i thought of stairs not climbed and glances not averted and smiles not forced steps not forced everything forced now thinking i’d
probably be smoking cigarettes drinking red wine every day instead of trying to breathe my life in through a straw or suck some part of you back into my lungs like you’ve left your scent in the next room

if we could sometime
return

would i change back into flesh
wrapping around
you again

1.01

i like it best
when we’re sitting up arms legs wrapping a full embrace kind of like we’re talking things out and in the light in the dimness the red or silver or moth colored threads that connect our eyes tighten and stretch drawing us up & i don’t remember you moving me from lying down but i just followed your eyes and i know there’s coins in the bed falling out of your pockets but they’ll be warmed by my back or thighs and become small flat fingertips letting me know we are we are both two here

in my memory-visions of you
you get blurred
i see you
drinking red bottles of luna di luna and sitting
smoking on the porch while i wait inside in the bed you’ve been washed over with a clear golden wax stopped
so now i can’t remember how we switched sides in bed or you walking holding my hand in the car so i could just drive drunk with one hand instead of two why do all of these images exist in half darkness shadow flicker so hard to call up in the daylight i’m tracking thru the rain hoping to leave a clear enough path for you to find me or write you a love note in raindrops

you laughed while your heart was still pounding (i could feel it pulsing into me) and said it’s been long since i’m waking up alone this morning i’m confused by my nakedness like everything that happened in my vision impaired state became myth and (running thru the house to turn on the furnace) i did not see my old lover’s face somewhere over your left shoulder saying rearranged

and something about a girl in a different light (what kind of light i see you in is reddish and fading which is flattering but not enough to change my mind)

i have visions of small couches and squeezing onto them because it’s more acceptable than lying on the bed to not mind that closeness to feel breath in my ribs to breathe breath

but now
i thrash in your bed at night write when you come near and suffocate on your air i run out of the house into the cold rain at 5 am on the road thinking about the people who are just now getting up i call when i’m finally home to let you know i’m okay which is more ridiculous than anything my happiness translated into yes i’m in my own house garbage truck slamming loud echoes into the night/morning

1.10

if i could send you a picture it would be i get undressed with the window open so i can feel a breeze while i slip into water trying to wash everyone off of my skin i try to write poems to you in the shower i get weak in my knees and have to stop when i hear a loud crash thru the water     i hope it’s you finally gone crazy tearing thru the screen of my bathroom window maybe you know i was gone all night again i can’t sleep there anymore i wake from the water and know this
but you haven’t appeared should i keep torturing try to channel you thru some gravelly tattooed songs (you were reading ulysses that summer and
when you left it
by the bed
i thought    how many books we’d have lying around in our house        not realizing the seriousness of this thought    told you anyway and you didn’t even look at the clock but agreed)
i feel dented
like something
vital is rusting me away
from    inside
mourning the loss
of a hand or edge of hip gone to your grasp

i’m no longer relying on my legs to hold me up more like a dependence
on the sidewalk
to       unbuckling
catch my
drifting along as if i’d been walking this stretch all my life somewhere
in the corner of my mind

2.01
if you were still around i don’t think i’d be worrying
that i’m gaining weight that i might just chop all of my hair or burn it off
like the burn on my arm i wake up with tiny cuts on my hands and i don’t know what i’ve been doing in my sleep        cutting myself on bad dreams of you or roaming the streets sifting through the fur and broken glass at the edges of the road    looking for the note i know you’ve sent me
didn’t even call
i kept myself busy the whole time sleeping in other people’s beds and looking out the window with every car door slam
i’m sorry       i’m too busy sleeping all day to see you
my hands won’t get warm i sit at stoplights reading books i watch the people in cars talking whenever i’m in the car with someone i’m always being driven like i can’t handle being responsible for both

my version of the story is that the corduroy
was not rough on your elbows that you’re just not here because you’ve hopped a train to go around the country collecting
all different kinds of wood build us a cabin
that beds
are not cold
are not full of pieces of skin touches
that are not you
the aloe plant did not die and moreover i just found a chair at the
vintage store so nevermind bringing over the plaid one i’ll get the mattresses moved somehow      truckbed
full of junebugs
and no matter the bed is an island anyway
back beside the grass road dodging the mudhole
feeling the sound of cold and the silence eating up my grief

you used to pretend you were scared of my driving which made me mad but god
i liked the looks of your hands on my steering wheel

2.18
i don’t check my mail
for days
and whisper sick breaths into the seam of the pillow transition standing sitting talking oblivion (i am) turning into wisps of pale green fog pulsing and receding around the shining eyes and candleflames of a former self
make me vapor and rattle my wineglasses
all filled at different levels just waiting
to find their own voices

2.26
if i could hover
in the small of your back
curve
with your spine flexing and moving
i could be a presence
that you couldn’t
even detect
just ride along the back of your consciousness collecting pieces of your life
to turn over in my hands
at night
watching them
lose their glow

it’s the initial plunge like a separation from the self that is the most painful even knowing
cold doesn’t seep in
heat just dissipates
and the smell of flames
only warms back to the idea of july
and leaves an expanse
of crushed leaves & pieces of cold
to navigate

3.02
my right hand is feeling my face trying to feel neck and shoulders as you touched them
it occurs
to me that i’ve been so aware of your cheekbones or whatever it is
about your face that i have forgotten my own jaw chin and skin covering it more thinly now so i feel like i might just burst open at any moment time for a breath
i’ve been breathing all along now without you sometimes too hard sometimes guilty your face appears on the wall over the shoulder the neck of a bottle of the one dancing making me feel like a person again
he said he’s been painting a lot of bulls a lot of powerplants maybe that pales to your knowledge of aramaic
i’m figuring out that like anyone you did your seeing with your eyes what could i expect
i’m sticking the coathanger down the drain and coming out with nothing and i’m getting used to this so maybe it stays clogged this time letting nothing by at all my mind moves around the words we are at an impass
and now i know
there is never really
an impass
just you
in whatever city you’re in now and me stepping through the leaves the one
cupping her ears listening for footfalls and regret has nothing to do
with you
she sits
venetian blinds slitting the world into one-inch horizontal slices she bites the thick skin around her fingernails and feels
the cold wind
sneaking itself in two for one through the window air conditioning unit she is not thinking about
chicago
drafty apartments peeling paint or any
of dreams
of farms
but more
of a bird
it seems now
migration is essential
instead of dropping out the bottom of things
catches her
rises
like water
